RED CROSS NEWS

Just one hundred years ago Tennyson wrote these prophetic lines in his "Locksley Hall" poem. Receipts: (Yesterday)

For I dip into the future far as human eye could see, Saw the vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be.

(Today) Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue.

(Tomorrow) Till the war drums throbb'd no longer, and the battle flags were fur'd, In the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the World.

BINGO

In order to supplement our funds it is necessary to hold special necessary making events, so it has been decided to hold a bingo party at the Legion Rooms. Please support this event in whatever way you can, either come or give. The entire proceeds will be used for Georgetown's RED CROSS effort.

WORK ROOM - SEWING

We are working on a large quota which we wish to have completed by the end of May. Do try and help us reach this objective.

CALLING ALL KNITTERS

"Oh, my daughter, cease have I said unto thee, and thine have I said the same, that thou mustest cast off LOOSELY such garments as turtle-neck sweaters, body-bells and small boys' suits; and that thou absolutely mustest cast off IN RIBBING, or the garment will bite the neck and body of him that weareth it."

"Be diligent, oh my daughter, in casting ON loosely such garments as socks, amputation covers, gloves, mitts, etc., or verily the edges thereof will bind him that weareth the same. And that is no joke, but is as bitter smother in the eyes of him that weareth it, or like unto salt in his nose."

"Accuse me, oh my daughter, if thou wilt, but I said the same, that thou mustest cast off LOOSELY such garments as turtle-neck sweaters, body-bells and small boys' suits; and that thou absolutely mustest cast off IN RIBBING, or the garment will bite the neck and body of him that weareth it."

"If thou, oh my daughter, shouldst knit all thy delicate knitting, be not ashamed to wash it tenderly before handing in. But, oh, my daughter, in washing thy handwork avoid using pins that rust. Thus shall thy knitting be pure and free from nasty yellow marks."

"Be that observeth all these precepts shall be admired of all men, and of all Unit Conventions, and of all inspectors of garments. And verily, she shall be blessed of them that wear her handwork."

AIDS GREEK CHILDREN

The Canadian Red Cross has cabled $25,000 to the International Red Cross at Geneva for the purchase of milk products for the Greek children. The money, collected from the Greeks of Canada under auspices of Greek War Relief Fund, will be used to alleviate suffering among the children of that stricken land.

HERE AT HOME

"How is it going in Singapore?" "What of the Russian front?" "Will the Germans land on England's shore?" "Can Somewhere bear the brunt of another blast from the Japanese?" "Is there revolt in Rome?" "Why not ask, in place of these: HOW IS IT HERE AT HOME?"

How is it going in Kankakee? What of the people in Lynn? Will the run of folks like you and me Tuck the tank and grin? Whatever the job; whatever the cost in time and sleep and play? Well, unless we do, the game is lost, And it's folly to delay! HERE'S where the fight will be sifted down.

To victory or defeat! Here in each quiet country town; On each farm; in each city street! Maggie and Tom and Grace and Joe, Tho' never a gun they bear, Are the ones who'll settle the fate of the foe.

By backing the boys who dare! It's time to talk of how we'll win, And God knows, win we can, But only if each of us pitches in To work like a cornered man. And cornered we'll be if we halt or pause.

In giving the "home-grown" stuff That puts the teeth in freedom's game!

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Quoted by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for April 26

Learn subjects and Scripture texts as best as possible and memorize by International Course of Scripture Lessons, used by permission.

WAYSIDE CONVERSATIONS

LESSON TEXT—Luce 11:28 GOLDEN TEXT—And whatsoever doth not leave the cross and come after me, cannot be my disciple—Luce 14:37

Learning by talking with Christ as they walked from place to place—such was the training for service which the disciples received. That was the greatest school this world has ever known, for while it had no great buildings, no beautiful campus, no learned faculty, it had the Son of God Himself as preceptor and teacher. With all due regard for our five colleges and universities, we say this is still the outstanding need of Christian workers—to walk and talk with Christ.

On the day of which our lesson speaks the subject considered was being saved. Several trends of thought emerged, but all pointed in the one direction of a diligent following of God's plan. In order to be saved, we learn, a man must

I. Make an Earnest Effort (vv. 22-24)

The question regarding how many were saved received no direct answer for our Lord wished to direct attention to the far more important question—Are you saved? Get that settled and the other matter will care for itself.

Here some who "assume that it is an easy thing to be saved will receive a surprise, for our Lord says (v. 24) that it is something one must agonize over, for so may the word "strive" be translated. The door into eternal life is so narrow that no man can pass through it with his sins—they must be taken away. Seeking is not enough (v. 24), one must "strive" to enter in.

II. Enter While the Door is Open (vv. 25-30)

The door stands open for all who will, to come in. (What a friendly thing is an open door!) But men idly ignore it, or definitely reject its opportunity. Or they seek it but do not strive to enter in, and all at once it is closed. Then in a frenzy they seek to enter, but it is too late. What an appalling thing—to be eternally too late!

Note their claims of acquaintance with the Lord (v. 28). One is reminded of those who think they are Christians because father or mother belonged to the church, or because they attend an occasional church supper or listen to a sermon by radio. Unless we know Him personally as our Saviour, He will have to say to us, Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity" (v. 27). Let us make that matter very clear to those to whom we minister, lest they be eternally lost.

III. Follow the Fearless Christ (vv. 31-33)

To know the high and unwavering character of one's leader is to go forward with real confidence. What about the Captain of our salvation? Here we find Him facing the indirect threat of a powerful and wicked earthly ruler, in perfect calmness, with the very poise of eternity upon Him.

Christ, conscious of His divine mission and with determination to do the Father's will (Heb. 10:7), knew no fear of man. As we are in His holy will as Christian men and women, we too may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me" (Heb. 13:6).

Consider the rebuke to Herod (v. 32). There is probably no place in Scripture where our Lord spoke with such stinging contempt of any man. It is almost as though the black cloud of eternal judgment already had settled around the head of this man who was so sly and crafty that the tenderhearted Jesus called him a "fox." One wonders of how many He would have to say the same in this our day of supreme and malicious wickedness.

We find one more vitally important thought here. Our Lord offers Himself. He calls sinners to repentance, but they must

IV. Respond to His Invitation (vv. 34, 35)

To fail to accept His proffered love is to be left desolate. To reject Him as Saviour (either by neglect or by definite act) is inevitably to bring judgment. To the Jews this meant loss of their national home—their leading city, but to us it means the loss of our eternal souls.

"There is terrible suggestiveness in the two statements in verse 34, 'I would,' 'Ye would not.' The whole secret of Jerusalem's desolation and destruction is found in the words, 'Ye would not.' The whole secret of the loss of the individual soul is found in the words, 'Ye will not' (John 5:40)" (John W. Bradbury).

This lesson presses home to the individual reader the question, Are you saved? What is your answer? It also affords the Sunday school teacher an excellent opportunity to seek to lead the members of the class to a definite decision for Christ. The Sunday school is a good place to give an invitation
