

AVOID WASTAGE when you make tea!

You will get best results both in quality and quantity if you carefully follow these simple directions:

1. Scald out the teapot to warm it.
2. Use a level teaspoonful of tea for each cup of tea to be served.
3. Use the exact amount of FRESH water you require and see that it is BOILING FURIOUSLY before you pour it into the pot.

4. Steep
FIVE MINUTES

TERRA COTTA

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Proctor, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Davidge, were Sunday visitors in our hamlet.

Our community was shocked to learn of the sudden death of the late Mrs. James Eccles, of Mount Pleasant, who passed away suddenly in the Brampton Peel Memorial hospital recently after a short illness. Deceased was well-known in this community and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lyons, also a sister of Mr. Fred Lyons, of this place. A large number attended the funeral on Monday afternoon, and it was the largest funeral seen in many years. Interment took place in Brampton Cemetery. We all extend our deepest sympathy to the family, husband and friends in their sad hour of bereavement.

Mrs. Mary Lyons, of Weirdale, Sask., has been visiting with friends in this district.

Mr. J. G. Stringer, has given up his mail route, here, and has secured a lucrative position with the John Inglis Co. Ltd., of Toronto.

Mr. McArthur is our new mail courier, having secured the mail contract for the Summer and is giving splendid service. We wish our new mail courier continued success.

Mrs. R. Puckering has returned to her old home here, and we kindly

"IN OUR MAIL BAG"

To the Editor:
The Georgetown Herald,
Georgetown, Ont.

Dear Sir:
The C.C.P. Peel Riding Association Council held a meeting May 24th, at the Old Courtroom's Club, Brampton. Organization is proceeding satisfactorily for an all-out C.C.P. effort in Peel County.

Chairmen for the following committees are as follows:—Robert P. Hardy, Etindale, who as president of the Council is automatically chairman of the organization committee; Frank Hayward, R. R. No. 3, Brantville, elected chairman of the finance committee; Mrs. R. C. Smeaton, Inglewood elected chairman of the literature and publicity committee; Russell Powley, R. R. No. 3 Brampton, elected chairman of the agricultural committee.

Members of Council report many requests for information about the C.C.P. and much interest generally in what the C.C.P. is doing. It is pleased to note that a large number of these enquiries are from the farmers, who realize to-day, that economic security, which they and all workers are so interested in, can be secured only through a socialist economy.

We wish to tell them that here in Peel County very soon, we shall be coming to them "by highways and byways" to bring them the story of how they can shake off the shackles of economic control that now so beset their efforts, and help themselves to the controlling of their own destiny, by joining and working with a real people's party, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

Yours truly,
HUBB SOVERZEIN, Secretary

welcome her back to our midst again. Mrs. J. Edge is having her house renovated throughout and when completed will add considerably to its appearance.

Mr. Walter Hayward, of Ouelph, was a pleasant caller in our hamlet, last Sunday.

All our local quarries report doing a rushing trade in stone at present. Mr. Miller, who has been on the sick list, we are now pleased to learn is able to be around again as usual.

There were a large number of visitors in our hamlet on Victoria Day.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago
Classified by Western Evangelical Alliance

Lesson for June 7

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts are approved by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING (III)

LESSON TEXT—Luke 23:32-44; Mark 15:20-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.—Isaiah 53:5.

Dark and distressing days have often come upon the earth, but the darkest day of all history was that day when cruel men with wicked hearts laid unholly hands upon the Son of God and crucified Him. And yet, by the grace of God, it was a day of bright hope for the sinful sons of men, for on that day complete redemption was wrought out. The veil was rent and the new and living way into the holy presence of God (Heb. 10:20) was opened for you and for me.

The cross is popular as an ornament on a church or on a golden chain, but it is far more than that. It speaks of the black hour of our Saviour's cry, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" and it also tells us of the One who became sin for us that we might know the righteousness of God (II Cor. 5:21).

Three thoughts emerge from our lesson.

I. Crucifixion—Bringing Life (Luke 23:33, 34).
"There they crucified him"—four words summing up the almost unbelievable thing that took place on Calvary. He died; but in that death life and immortality were brought to light (II Tim. 1:10).

As believers in Christ, we are interested in all that took place at the crucifixion, for we know that as we contemplate Him on the cross we can say with Luther, "For me, for me!" And yet it was not for us alone that He died—it was for all mankind. So we turn to our unconverted friends and direct them to "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). He was crucified that they might live eternally. He who had only a plea for the forgiveness of His persecutors (v. 34) tenderly offers His forgiveness to men today.

II. Rejection—Bringing Acceptance (Luke 23:34b-43).
Those who appear around the cross afford an interesting and striking picture of humanity. There were the indifferent ones, those not interested at all in who was being crucified, but only eager to share in the division of His garments.

There stood the people "beholding"—perplexed, unable to believe that the miracle-working Christ was about to die. Verily, they were as sheep without a shepherd.

Then we see those who scoffed. They knew His claim to be the Son of God and hated Him for it. Now at last they had their chance to rail at Him, to ridicule and taunt. More ignorant and yet equally derisive, we see the mocking soldiers.

Even one of the thieves by His side "railed on him" (v. 39), ridiculing His claim. But here is the marvelous thing—the other thief, rough and wicked person that he was, saw in Christ a Saviour to whom he turned in faith, which was quickly and fully honored (vv. 42, 43).

The picture is thus complete. The Rejected One is "the way" to acceptance for all who believe (John 14:6). He said, "I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved" (John 10:9).

III. Darkness—Bringing Light (Luke 23:44, 45; Mark 15:33, 34).
Physical darkness fell over the scene at the cross, as though all nature would go into mourning, or sought to shield the suffering Saviour from the curious and hateful eyes of men. Then, too, it was God's sign that this was not the death of any ordinary man, even as it spoke of the judgment of those who had laid violent, sinful hands on His Son.

But deeper yet was the spiritual darkness into which Jesus went, as bearing the horrible load of the sins of the world He "was made sin for us" (II Cor. 5:21), and God the Father turned away from Him. We cannot fathom the full meaning of that hour, and we dare not attempt to explain it. We can only accept it and thank God that because He was made sin for us we may by faith be "made the righteousness of God in Him."

Out of the darkness of that hour shone forth the one light which nothing in time or eternity can dim.

Route to Happiness
The truest and happiest of earthly lives, proven over and over again by actual experience, is that life which accepts and observes most nearly St. Paul's great postulate, "Here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come." Rightfully pursued, it is in no way interfered with the intensest enjoyment of our time here on earth. We have but to see that we do God's will in everything.

TIMELY TOPICS FOR WOMEN . . . By Barbara Baines

HAVE YOU A PLAY PROGRAMME FOR YOUR CHILD?

Toys and games have a very essential part in our normal development from childhood to adolescence, in growing up. What we do then, the experiences we have, the habits we learn, affect our character through the rest of life.

Every young mother plans with great care a food programme for her baby, a schedule that progresses step by step from the simplest formula to the more complex foods of adult life. But few mothers realize that a planned play programme is of almost equal importance to her child's welfare, a programme that progresses by easy steps from the simple rattle to the complicated mechanical set or the making of a fashionable wardrobe for a doll.

In the last few years great strides have been made in the improvement of toys, but too many parents still buy the toy that catches their own eye without giving much thought to the possible effect, for good or bad, upon the child for whom it is intended. This does not mean that for a toy to have educational value it must be dull and unattractive. Quite the opposite is true. No toy is a success unless it gives pleasure, unless the child finds it fun to play with it.

In selecting toys two factors are of prime importance—the age of the child and his natural aptitudes. A toy may be ever so excellent but if it is too advanced for him it makes him feel frustrated, and frustrated, and gives him an inferiority feeling which certainly does not promote his happiness. If it is not advanced enough he soon becomes bored with it. On the other hand if he is given the toy which stimulates his play instincts at the proper time you will see at once the development of new activities and growth.

A child specialist tells us that the new baby's toys should follow each other in this order. His first toy should have movable parts to help his eyes focus, then a washable jingle, teaching toy, and a rhythm stick to beat time and develop his arms. A large soft ball is a help to the crawler. His first blocks should be good and just as large as he can handle. Play-pen toys should be simple animals, that begin to bring the rest of the world to him.

But all toys for the tiny tot need not come from the store. Many common household articles are treasured friends of the child with an imaginative mind. One little fellow I see quite often loves best of all a string of spoons, another is happy with a milk bottle and a few clothes pins, and a little girl I know spends many busy hours with a deck of playing cards. She seems to love the bright figures on them. Candy boxes, bits of bright string or yarn, the rolling pin, a tin pan and a wooden spoon (if you can stand the noise), all have a fascination of their own.

As the child grows older it is important to supply toys that encourage group activity, that teach your little one to get along with other children. Little girls love to "play house" with their dolls, and to "dress up," and to have "tea-parties." Boys like to make things, to build forts up, and to have "tea-parties." Boys like to make things, to build forts up, and to have "tea-parties." Boys like to make things, to build forts up, and to have "tea-parties."

Every child should be given a chance for self-activity, to participate in games and sports rather than always being a spectator. Quite young children can learn to skate. Table tennis is a grand game for all young children can learn to skate. Table tennis is a grand game for all young children can learn to skate. Table tennis is a grand game for all young children can learn to skate.

FOR OUR SCRAP BOOK

Shadow and sun . . . so, too, our lives are made
Yet think how great the sun, how small the shade.
—Richard Le Gallienne.

SUMMER FASHIONS

Rumours of clothes rationing are still going the rounds, but I feel sure there is little likelihood of such drastic measures being taken, at least not in the immediate future. Cotton is the one fabric still comparatively plentiful, and this year the shops are flooded with the loveliest cotton frocks Canadians have ever had the good fortune to behold.

The most exciting item is the two-piece suit, grand for travelling and for the business girl. Best seller by far is the seersucker, especially serviceable because it washes well and requires little or no ironing.

Wallpaper fabrics are something quite new and look cool and jaunty. They are softer than glazed chintz and crisper than saten, with large floral patterns usually on a white ground. Dazzling white pique is making quite a hit. Two-piece striped gingham suits are good, and pencil-striped prints, flower prints, and slub cottons are appearing in play toys and simple wash dresses.

You're quite apt to find the well-dressed miss in cotton from head to toe; visor hats, roomy cotton bags come in cotton gaberdine, and gloves are shown in hand-sewn cotton fabrics.

Cottons aren't especially cheap. You will pay as much for a good rayon this season, but you will find better design and better tailoring than you may expect.

THE BOOK OF THE WEEK

"THE HAUNTED LADY" (Oxford, 276pp. $2.45) By Mary Roberts Rinehart.
Mystery fans will welcome a new book by the acknowledged ace of mystery writers, Mary Roberts Rinehart; and "Haunted Lady" rates among her best.

Mrs. Hilda Adams, known to Inspector Fuller as Miss Pinkerton, is the heroine, the clever sleuth who tracks down clues that include bats in the bedroom, snakes in shoes, screams in the dark, poison in the sugar-bowl, and other unaccountable happenings.

Hilda was sent to look after Mrs. Fairbank, an eccentric old lady who was afraid someone was trying to scare her to death. The other members of the family are all at cross purposes, and each with problems of their own. Her daughter, Marian, is still in love with her divorced husband. Her son and his wife, who also live in the house, are anxious to get away. Her lovely young granddaughter, Janice, is in love with young Dr. Brooks. The servants are uneasy and upset.

Then the murderer strikes. The plot is skilfully handled, full of surprise and suspense. An ingenious radio device shifts suspicion from the gully person, and makes the crime all the more baffling. You will be delighted with the way Miss Pinkerton collects a clue here, another there and finally unravels the mystery.

Poetry lovers will be interested to learn of the publication of an "Anthology of Canadian Poetry" compiled by Ralph Gustafson, (Collins, 25c). It contains selections from the works of 56 of Canada's best-known poets, including that of Elias Carmen, Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, Arthur Stringer, Marjorie Pickthall, and E. J. Pratt. It is complete with bibliographical notes.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

Strawberry Shortcake, the most tempting, the most glamorous of all desserts, is with us again. And here is my favourite recipe. Hope you have good luck with it.

3 cups pastry flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 quart strawberries
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream

Sift flour, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add milk and toss lightly until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough, and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out on floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll 1/4-inch thick into a sheet 16 by 8 inches. Cut in half. Fit on half into a well-greased 8 inch pan. Brush with melted butter. Fit second layer on top. Brush with melted butter. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

Keep out 1/2 cup berries for a garnish. Slice the rest and sweeten. Separate halves of shortcake. Spread bottom half with soft butter and half the berries. Adjust top, spread with butter and the remainder of the berries. Garnish with whipped cream and whole berries. Serves eight.

CARROLL'S

Aylmer TOMATO JUICE 3 20-oz. tins 23c	Campbell's SOUPS Chicken and Rice, Noodle with Chicken or Mushroom 2 tins 23c
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES 2 8-oz. pkgs. 15c	Bright's PIE CHERRIES 15-oz. tin 16c
FOR FLAKY CRUST—CRISCO 1-lb. tin 25c 2-lb. tin 65c	Rideau LOAF CHEESE pound 39c
MOTHER PARKER'S COFFEE 1/2-lb. 28c 1-lb. 51c	Small WHITE BEANS 2 lbs. 9c
Christie's Plain or Salted PREMIUM SODAS 16-oz. pkg. 20c	Shirriff's Mix—Just Add Water and Bake GINGER BREAD 16-oz. pkg. 28c
Carroll's Own ROMAR COFFEE 1-lb. bag 39c	Aylmer TOMATO CATSUP 12-oz. tin 12c
Pork Specialty—SWIFT'S PREM 12-oz. tin 32c	Whole Wheat Cornmeal—Quaker Muffets 2 pkgs. 17c
YOU LIKE COFFEE—TRY NESCAFE 1-oz. tin 22c 1-lb. tin 59c	Sieve 3 AYLMER PEAS 2 16-oz. tins 25c
CHRISTIE'S CAKE—JAM GEMS 3 for 10c	FEARMAN'S PURE LARD 2 1-lb. pkgs. 25c
Antiseptic Toilet Soap ODEX 2 cakes 11c	Unsweetened GRAPEFRUIT JUICE 2 20-oz. tins 21c
Dr. Ballard's Dog Biscuits 1-lb. tin 25c	McCormick's Assorted Cream SANDWICH BISCUITS pound 19c
Carroll's or Rabbitt's Cleanser tin 5c	Aylmer STRAINED FOODS For Infants tin 7c
Blanch Laverene tin 9c	Clover Leaf PILCHARDS Packed in Tomato Sauce 16-oz. tin 15c
Glassco's with Pectin JAM 8-oz. jar 10c	Aylmer CHOICE TOMATOES 2 15-oz. tins 17c
Aylmer Blended Vegetable JUICES 2 10-oz. tins 19c	Habitant "Condensed" VEGETABLE SOUP 2 10-oz. tins 19c
SWEET JULY ORANGES 21c, 29c doz.	For Better Pastry MONARCH FLOUR 24-lb. bag 84c
GOOD SIZE GRAPEFRUIT 5 for 29c	McLaren's HI-HO PUDDINGS Assorted 2 pkgs. 13c
NO. 1 NEW POTATOES 5c lb.	Helps You Keep Fit—KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN large pkg. 21c
COOKING ONIONS 2 lb. 13c	For Better Cakes—MAPLE LEAF CAKE FLOUR pkg. 27c
	Christie's Lemon MARSHMALLOW BAR CAKE each 20c

Pure, Mild
PRINCESS FLAKES
2 pkg. 29c

Toilet Soap
LUX 3 cakes 17c

Ask about Garden Book—Chippo 9; 23; 52
White Naphtha Soap
P. & G. 3 bars 14c
No Soap, No Rub, No Bleach—Oxydol 9; 23; 65
For Toilet Bowls—Sani-Flush 15; 29
Santal Puffed Wheat
CEREAL pkg. 7c

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PRICES GOOD TILL SATURDAY NIGHT ONLY.
We reserve the right to limit quantities of all goods to family weekly requirements.

PHONE 357 Free Delivery MAIN ST. Georgetown