TEMPLE BAILEY writes
THE DIM LANTERN
Frederick Towne, wealthy, arrogant business man, thought he could buy the love of attractive, unapproachable Jane Barnes.
He couldn't understand her love for melancholy, despondent Evans Lette, who had always worshipped her. Towne could offer her everything Evans lacked—servants, a beautiful home and assured social position, but he didn't need her.
Temple Bailey's warm, close to life story, "The Dim Lantern," is one of her best. You'll thoroughly enjoy every installment. Read it IN THIS PAPER

Bert Graham McDowell Died Suddenly in Toronto From Heart Seizure

Limehouse Native Formerly Employed With Beardmore's in Acton

Friends in this district were saddened to hear of the sudden death of Bert Graham McDowell, on Sunday, May 30th, at the home of his sister, Mrs. David Ross, in Toronto. Although Mr. McDowell had been in poor health for some time, his sudden death from a heart seizure was a shock to all.

Bert Graham McDowell was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell, of Limehouse and had spent most of his life in this district. He lived in Acton for many years and was employed with the Beardmore Co. in that town. Seven years ago his wife who before their marriage was Miss Emily Harding, passed away, and Mr. McDowell moved back to the family home at Limehouse to live with his brother, Harvey. A year ago, he moved to Toronto where he had since resided with his sister, Mrs. Ross.

Besides his only daughter, Frances, who is a nurse-in-training at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ouelph, he leaves six sisters and four brothers. They are: Mrs. David Ross, Toronto; Mrs. D. Currie, Campbellville; Mrs. Angus Lawson, Limehouse; Mrs. R. Christie, Brampton; Mrs. W. Osburn, Limehouse; Mrs. A. Marshall, Toronto; James, of Killarney, Manitoba; John, in Erin, William, of Georgetown, and Harvey, of Limehouse.

The funeral on Wednesday afternoon May 27th at the Johnstone & Rumley Funeral Home in Acton was largely attended by friends who gathered to pay final tribute. The funeral service was in charge of Rev. Mr. Brown, of Ouelph, and Rev. F. Thomson, of Acton.

Interment was made in Fairview Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Alfred Marshall, Elliott McDowell, Russell Ross, Jack Lawson, John D. Currie and Wm. Baker.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank friends and neighbors for their kindness and expressions of sympathy during our recent sad bereavement in the passing of our dear brother, Bert McDowell — Sisters and Brothers

"As We See It"

By J. A. Strang

AS A RESULT of war conditions, shortage of shipping, and difficulties of obtaining supplies of various commodities, certain restrictions are made from time to time as to the amount of different articles that we are supposed to use. The most recent restrictions affect the use of the two beverages, tea and coffee. The ruling in regard to the amount of tea that we are allowed through is rather unusual. We wonder who it was that is responsible for that ruling. Perhaps he was a high-pressure tea salesman before entering the civil service. The ruling is that not more than a teaspoon of tea leaves be allowed for each cup of tea. Using a teaspoon of tea for each cup would make tea strong enough to walk on we would think. Using a teaspoon of tea leaves and brewing the tea properly would make four cups of tea strong enough for anybody, that still has control of his or her tasting properties. Of course each cup of tea is a habit and no doubt some quality of tea would require the use of more tea leaves than other qualities would require to obtain the best results. However, a teaspoon for each cup would be a liberal enough allowance for peace time let alone war time. The use of tea becomes a habit and no doubt we could get along without it altogether if we are forced to do so. It is merely a stimulant and if used in moderation and of proper strength wouldn't do us any harm. On the other hand if used too often and of too strong a quality it could be harmful enough. As long as there are no restrictions as to the use of good drinking water we will no doubt be able to get along alright.

ONE COMMODITY that we seem to have plenty of right now is rain. Following an unusual wet spell the advantage of under-draining is very noticeable. Even when there is no water still lying on top of the ground those over-wet spots show up in the color of the grain or other crops. The growth though this spring is remarkable and when cultivation between showers is possible the results are wonderful. Due to the cool and wet weather the tulips lasted a full three weeks this spring and we don't think that we ever noticed such tall iris as there is this year. On the other hand the rain was hard on the aspen and the ground beneath looked like the contents after-math of a wedding. The grass is plentiful enough this year and it seems to be tougher to cut than usual. Perhaps the soft wet ground is responsible for poorer traction for the lawn mower. Anyway, it does seem to be tougher to cut properly this year.

AN INCREASE in the number of horses that are on the road is noticeable already and no doubt there will be more of them as time goes on. The other day we noticed a horse and buggy driving by, and it was the sound that they made that was unusual. The horse apparently was shod all around and the buggy had rubber tires. It has been a long time since we had heard that sound and we like it. It made us think of a race that we had taken part in some years ago. It was a race for delivery horses and we had to harness, hitch, and go once around the ring. In the excitement we got one of the lines under the tug up near the harness and we had to stop and change that and so were listed among the also-rans that time. There is something about a horse though that we never feel towards a car no matter how satisfactory the car may be.

THE TAX receipts from the sale of gasoline for the month of April, which as you know was the first month of gas rationing, dropped one and one-half million dollars here in Ontario. The sale of gasoline was down by eighteen and three quarter million gallons. It is expected that the returns for the month of May will show an even greater decrease in tax receipts and also in the sale of gas. It would be the unit of each coupon still mean that we are to get five gallons per unit, most of us will have more units than we will be using. However, it looks as though the number of gallons allowed per unit will be reduced before long and in that case we may be using them all right now the unit only gives the motorist two gallons down in the Maritime Provinces and it is likely that the balance of the Dominion will be reduced to possibly the same amount. Cars still seem to be as plentiful as ever on the highway at times, however, there must be quite a reduction in traffic over the whole province.
