SPEEDIER COMMUNICATION WITH FIGHTING SERVICES AHEAD

A new service has been introduced by the Post Office Department to provide the mailing public with an additional economical and speedy method of communicating with members of our Armed Forces overseas. Letters written on the new blue forms supplied by the Post Office will be transmitted by the most expeditious method of transit for the low 10c rate. This is available only to letters written on this special paper to members of the Canadian, British or Allied Armed Forces overseas.

The new Armed Forces Air Letter form is of light-weight paper, blue in colour, measures about 10 1/2" x 7 1/4" and is provided with a gummed flap by which the letter is sealed. As a guide to the sender, a correct sequence of military addressing is printed, enabling the sender to fill in the blanks with particulars of address. These forms are available at the local Post Office.

Give the Boys a Break!

To thousands of soldiers, sailors and airmen, week-end leave means the enjoyment of a day or two with the folks at home.

Also, many war workers have no other opportunity to visit their families.

To provide accommodation for these new week-end travellers, Gray Coach Lines has every available bus in service every Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

You can help to relieve crowding by avoiding week-end travel whenever possible.

Plan your Summer trips for mid-week days. If convenient, start your vacation on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. It will make travel easier and less crowded for you.

Please leave more seats for our Active Service Forces and war workers over the week-ends.
