History of Union Presbyterian Church

(Concluded from last week)
Last week, we described the founding of Union Presbyterian Church, from the establishment and organization of the congregation in the year 1823, to 1930, when Rev. J. A. Ferguson ended his ministry.

In November of the year 1830 Mr. Ferguson was succeeded by Rev. Walter Patterson, fresh from Ireland, who was inducted at Novell. Mr. Patterson remained pastor until he was called to Stuyvesant in the Barrie Presbytery in the autumn of 1833. It was during his pastorate that the Church Union Vote which decided the destiny of the congregation was taken. Each member voted as his or her judgment and conscience dictated, but as the majority decided to remain as they were, the congregation remained Presbyterian.

Mr. Patterson was a good preacher and fearless debater. Like every Irishman he was warm in his sympathies and attached to his friends. His pastorate ended in October, 1835. He was followed as pastor by Rev. E. MacDonald, who was inducted at Union on February 18th, 1836, and when he left in 1835, his place was taken by Rev. Norman McMillan, now of Caledonia. When Mr. McMillan left in 1839, there was a vacancy for eight months, until the present pastor, Rev. Arthur Leggett, took charge in January, 1839.

Under Mr. Leggett the church continues to flourish, and bears tribute to the foresight of those early settlers in providing a place of worship for their descendants.

"As We See It"

By J. A. Stewart

THE EXAMINATION season has rolled around once again, and coupled with examinations is the word, Graduation. Naturally we like to hear of students doing well and if it were possible for all of them to win scholarships it would be quite satisfactory. However, there are always two sides to every question and the one regarding the winning of scholarships is no exception. Frankly, we feel sorry for the student that wins a scholarship just as sure as they win one they are expected to always win one, and if they fail to do so they seem to have failed further than other students that have just made the regulation pass. Often winning of these scholarships is merely the result of a good memory and while a good memory is quite an asset yet it doesn't always stack up with the knowledge that the plunger has gotten hold of and that seems to stay right with him or her. We think of a university student of a few years back who won a scholarship in his freshman year, in fact, he was so far ahead of his classmates, that they labeled him "a whizz," whatever that means he kept up the good work all through his four years at Varsity and then it was up to him to get out and make good. One would have thought that with his record he was sitting on top of the world in his line but he failed to make good at job after job and it wasn't very long until he was ashamed to meet his old classmates, those claps that had just managed to slip through the wire, each year, back at school. Of course all these students are not like that and many of them make good. We recall another of those brilliant students. He went in for Medicine and after graduation he went from honor to honor. He has enough initials to the end of his name. He won a scholarship in his own number of years now and with all his brilliance, his only wish is that he were back in Canada and that he could be merely some plain M.D. in some small Callander in Ontario. Of course, it would be nice to win one of those scholarships but on the other hand for every student that does succeed in winning one there are about ninety-nine that just manage to pass and it is the same ninety-nine that make up the leaders in every community. It was Lincoln wasn't it that said something about, "The common people, there being so many of them."

THE SCARCITY of sugar is partly caused by the inability of producing shipping space, whereby we could import sugar cane and as a result a larger percentage of our sugar will be made from sugar beets. It is likely that you have heard the argument that beet sugar is not as good as cane sugar and some even go so far as to state that fruit canned with beet sugar is likely to ferment. When going to school we used to study this very question. We were interested in all kinds of sugar as we used them in our business in quantities and we found that there was no difference in the quality of sugar made from beets as compared with sugar made from sugar cane. In fact both sugars tasted over ninety-nine per cent pure sugar. A few years ago it was possible to know which kind of sugar we were getting by the label on the bag but of later years it was all just sugar and as there really is no difference in the two sugars it all passed for sugar made from sugar cane.

FROM TIME to time, ever since the vote on the recent plebiscite, we have heard something of conscription. In fact many of us thought that it was just possible that the majority of the vote meant that the Government would immediately introduce conscription. But it seems as though the Government hasn't been able to make up its mind as yet what to do. The latest news on the situation as we write these lines is that there is no need of introducing conscription until next March. We don't question that statement at all. The Government must have the facts regarding enlistments and no doubt know the situation perfectly. All that most of us are looking for is the quickest way to win the war and get it over with. On the other hand it would be interesting, wouldn't it, to find out what it was that we voted for back there on Plebiscite Voting Day.
