

Georgetown High School Invests Large Sum in War Savings

Nine hundred and four dollars and seventy-five cents invested in War Savings Stamps and Bonds, has been contributed by 100 pupils in Georgetown High School since last September.

Averaging it, this means that each pupil bought two bonds throughout the year. It was decided before starting the campaign that all must keep up their pledges 100 per cent every week. A requisite of fulfilling the pledged money was that the contribution must be earned by the pupil himself and each one try to eliminate the little luxuries such as gum, soft drinks, shows, etc., as much as possible. As a result, the outstanding feature of the whole system was the maintenance of their own pledge.

The pupils had their own bookkeeping system and if a pupil failed to contribute one week, another group in the class acted as "secretaries" and issued bills. Keen competition between forms was an important stimulus to regular contributing.

Mr. H. J. Heidmann, as chairman of the committee, was largely responsible for its success. Credit also goes to Mary Paul, who was in charge of the system and also to her assistants from each class. The class representatives kept the record book, distributed the stamps and looked after the purchasing of bonds if so desired. The following statistics show how much each form invested.

Form	Rep.	Total Am't	No. of Contributors
V	Isabel Dobson	181.35	11
IV	Robert Lawson	181.35	13
III	Norah Cleave	118.50	18
II	Joyce Williams	127.50	23
IB	Norman Long	181.35	15
IA	Pamela Cousins	119.70	21

Campaign headquarters asked for a contribution of $25.00 weekly from the school and the students over-subscribed this amount by $600 per week.

The school is justly proud of their achievement and we would be interested in hearing from schools of the same size to see whether any have invested more than $504.75 in War Savings Stamps and Bonds, over a similar period.

THIS AND THAT IN SPORT

By G. "Mac" MacDermid

This was all the cable said: "Acting-Sergeant Hubert Frank Test, killed on manoeuvres overseas, from gunshot wounds in the head."

To the recorder of committee this was just another item in the long list of those who have given their all in the fight for freedom and democracy. But to the folks back home, his friends, his sporting pals, anyone who ever saw the name of "Shreezy" Test on a hockey line-up, were shocked to hear of this cable, that seemed to be lacking in sympathy and a mental feeling of sorrow. But war is a hideous thing, the aggressors of which must be punished, and many a young life has to make the sacrifice, that this thing shall not happen to humanity again.

Acting-Sergeant H. H. Test

The news of the death of Bert Test was even more shocking to your sport scribe than maybe it would be to the casual reader of this paper. He had written the name of "Shreezy" Test a thousand times, as we tabulated his successes in the hockey lanes and on the baseball diamond. It seemed as if he was always on our line-up, as far back as we had taken an interest in sport. Our mind wandered back, and we tried to remember when we first knew Bert Test. It seemed a long time, so we dug up an old school picture. Yes, there was Bert Test, in the second row... Senior III or IV class, we believe, for the date said April 14th, 1921. And there isn't much difference in that picture of over twenty years ago, and the one shown here, except of course in age, for "Shreezy" away was a "grin" that revealed his very wit and good sportsmanship.

When the call came for recruits for the defense of the Motherland, Bert Test was one of the first Georgetown men to offer his service. He enlisted in October, 1939, with the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, and went overseas in August, 1940. And Bert Test played at the game of war, just like he played his sports—giving his best at all times—and for his efforts rose from the ranks to Acting-Sergeant, which position he held at the time of his death.

The name of "Shreezy" Test will go down in local sport history, as one of amateur hockey's finest players. His brilliant skating, tricky manoeuvring in the game, and fine sportsmanship on the ice endeared him to all his supporters, and his recent rivals often marvelled at his skill and acquired art of the game. Not only did "Shreezy" Test form the backbone of a Georgetown hockey team for many a season, but he could also turn his hand to baseball, and in the later years of his sport career played second base for the local nine.

Bert Test had many changes to further test his skill at hockey in the larger field of amateur sports, but after a season with a senior team in Hamilton, decided that his efforts could be put to more advantage playing for the hometown, which he loved, and returned the next year to wear a Blue and White uniform.

Bert Test is Georgetown's first casualty in this war. He has made the supreme sacrifice, and when he comes before the One Great Healer his name will go down as having reached the greater goal... "For greater love hath no man, than that he lay down his life for his friends."

BORN
RIDDALL—To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riddall (nee Anne Hall) a son, Richard Kent, at Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, Sunday, June 21st, 1942. Mother and baby doing fine.

IN MEMORIAM
MCBREIGHT—In memory of my wife, Marjorie, who died June 20th, 1938. The world may change from year to year, And friends from day to day, But never will the one I loved From memory fade away. —Sadly missed by Husband, Earl McBreight, Windsor.

BOYD—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, David Abner Boyd, who died June 28th, 1937. He is gone, but not forgotten, And, as dawn another year, In our lonely hours of thinking Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come o'er us, Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed. —Sadly remembered by his Wife and Family.

Social and Personal

A double trio from the Public School, comprised of Josephine Cox, June Clark, Marjorie Harrington, Pauline Norton, John Whitney and Kenneth Mendham, sang unaccompanied "Love Divine" at the morning service of Knox Presbyterian Church, Sunday. The trio was under the direction of Mrs. J. Evans and Miss H. Harrison.

The lawn of Cedarvale School provided a lovely setting for the regular quarterly meeting of the United Church W. A., on Wednesday afternoon, June 17th. This meeting took the form of a garden tea and Mrs. H. Clark was hostess to about 35 members. A pleasant social afternoon was spent and lunch was served under the leadership of Group 3 of the Association.

The Lorne Scots Band were in Acton Saturday night, where they formed an important part of the program of the giant "Bingo" held in Acton arena in aid of the Bombed Victims of Malia Fund. They took part in the parade to the arena and after their arrival there, played several numbers for the entertainment of the patrons.

A little birthday party was held last Thursday, in honor of Danny Martin, son of L-Cpl. and Mrs. Robert Martin at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Fretton. The guests were: Jean Digby, Peter Hurst, and Bobby Walker. Danny also received congratulations by cablegram from his father, L-Cpl. Robert Martin, who is overseas. The cable read: "Many happy returns Danny—be a good boy—see you soon."

On Monday night, June 22, the Girls Knitting Club held a delightful kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hyde, in honour of Miss Margaret Humberstone, popular young bride-to-be. Miss Humberstone was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts, and in addition to these, won the high-score prize given for Count Whist which the girls played during the course of the evening. A delicious lunch served by the hostess brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fisher, Tuesday evening, June 16th, when about 160 friends and neighbours gathered to honour Miss Marjorie Switzer and Lloyd Fisher, the bride and groom-to-be. After a few well-chosen remarks by Mr. Thomas McKillop, the young couple received many lovely and useful gifts. Lunch was served by the committee, and during the evening dancing and cards were enjoyed by all.

As a touching tribute to the high esteem in which the men and officers of "O" Company held him, Mrs. Florence Test, mother of the late Acting-Sergeant Hubert Frank Test, who was killed on manoeuvres overseas, received a beautiful bouquet of roses cabled from the Old Country by Major Norris Waldron, commanding officer of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry. There were 33 roses in the bouquet; A. S. Test would have been 33 this October had he lived.

Mr. Lloyd Nault, who has been manager at Carroll's Store for the past three years, left on Tuesday for Toronto to enlist in one of the branches of the Army service. Lloyd, whose home was in Guelph, has made many friends since coming to town, who are sorry to see him leave. His position at Carroll's Store is being filled by Mr. Kenneth Mark, of St. Mary's, who comes to town with a number of years' experience in the grocery business. Mr. Mark is not married and at present is boarding at Mrs. Humberstone's on Charles Street. A welcome to town is extended to him.

On Tuesday afternoon, Misses Norah Cleave, Barbara Faram, Mary Moyer and Lois Nelson gave a tea at the home of Mrs. T. Faram in honour of their former teacher, Mrs. Jane Palmer, who left Tuesday evening to join her husband in British Columbia. Those present included Miss F. Luke, Miss M. Inman, Mrs. J. L. Lambert and Miss E. Benson. The girls of Form III, Barbara Cousins, Doris MacLellan, Marjorie Kentner, Betty Paul and Betty Ruddle presented Mrs. Palmer with a cup and saucer. Norah Cleave made the presentation and said in part: "We Third Form girls want you to accept this little gift. We hope that when you look at it, it will remind you of us, and though we may have been troublesome at times, we hope your memories may be pleasant ones." Mrs. Lambert poured tea and during the lunch Margaret Bradley and Norah Cleave played piano solos. On Tuesday night, June 16th, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Farnell entertained a few friends at a farewell party for Mr. Walter Biehn. The evening was spent playing bridge, after which the guests enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon. Mr. Farnell then presented Mr. Biehn with a sterling silver identification bracelet on behalf of those present, and all expressed their regrets at his leaving and hoped he would be stationed near enough Georgetown so they could see him often. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Ford, Mr. Stanley Finlay, Miss Margaret Humberstone and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Biehn.

Mr. and Mrs. Biehn were entertained again on Friday night, this time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrard McOllivray. During the course of the evening "Mac" gave Editor Biehn a carton of cigarettes as a parting gift from those present.

AGRICULTURE MARCHES WITH OUR ARMED FORCES

Behind the lines where men and women are risking life to defend home and country, other men and women are toiling to supply the materials of war—ships, planes, tanks, guns. These manufacturers—management and workers alike—are thus fighting shoulder to shoulder with our armed forces.

But what about the farmers? They are doing a work of equal importance. They too are marching to battle, by toiling early and late to persuade nature to increase food and other essential supplies on which the issues of the fight so greatly depend. The farmer marches side by side with the soldier and his armourer.

Farmers who are doing their bit to help Canada's all-out war effort may find it necessary to borrow money at the Bank. You should not hesitate to discuss your requirements with our nearest branch manager. Your business will be regarded as strictly confidential.
