J. Robb and daughter Margaret, entertained by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Robb, Georgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hunter announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Christina Pearl, to The Golden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golden, Georgetown. The marriage will take place quietly August 8th.

A lightning bolt which followed power wires into the plant, during the storm Friday night, caused damage estimated at $15,000 to McMurchy's Woollen Mills at Huttonville. All stock in process was completely destroyed by the blaze and the machinery suffered extensive damage. The terrific crack of lightning followed by the great roll of thunder was heard by residents for miles around. Angus McMurchy, one of the owners, reported the blaze started in an electric motor. It was impossible to telephone for help as the lines were all out of order, so Mr. McMurchy drove the seven miles to Brampton to seek aid from the fire brigade there. It was two hours before the Brampton brigade, working frantically, could bring the blaze under control. Employees and village residents salvaged tons of wool and smoke equipment. Others braved dense smoke and flame.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Guyot and Family Leave Glen Williams

Glen Williams and Georgetown are sorry indeed to lose Mr. and Mrs. Roger Guyot and family who are leaving Glen Williams at the end of this month to make their home in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Guyot came from Toronto in 1935. They spent the summer of that year at Glen Haven and returned in April, 1934, to settle in the Glen. During their residence there they have made a special niche for themselves in the hearts of the people of both Glen Williams and Georgetown, not only by the lively and active interest they took in community affairs but also because of their personal qualities. Toronto's gain is our loss and we wish Mr. and Mrs. Guyot and family every happiness in their new home.

Mrs. Guyot was born in Puskey, Yorkshire. Two of her brothers came to Canada in 1910 and at the outbreak of the War in 1914-18 they joined the 48th Highlanders in Toronto, going overseas in November, 1914. Andrew Jones, the younger of the two, was taken prisoner at the first attack in Ypres. In April, 1918, at the Prisoners' Camp in Goettingen, Germany, where Andrew had been sent, he attended a French class for British prisoners, conducted by Roger Guyot, a Belgian soldier who had been taken prisoner near Dixmude, at the end of October, 1914.

Mr. Guyot attended Military School at Ypres, the city so familiar to Canadian veterans. His studies were interrupted by the outbreak of war and he joined the 1st Regiment in Oostend. After having taken part in the battles of Loos and Antwerp, this regiment, together with the rest of the Belgian Army, took its stand on the banks of the Yser, which position was successfully held until the end of the war.

The Canadian and Belgian soldiers became fast friends, and when Cpl. Jones was sent to work in a mine, the only way they could keep in touch was by Mr. Jones' sister writing to the Belgian lad, and vice versa. After the Armistice, the Belgian soldier went to England, where he was then at camp in England. Military exigencies made the meeting impossible however, and the two ex-prisoners did not see each other again until 1922, when Mr. Guyot and Miss Jones, who by then had become Mrs. Guyot, came to Brampton, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Guyot are married in Puskey Parish Church in 1920, and lived for a year in Wiesbaden, Germany, where he was attached to the Belgian Section of the Reparations Commission. They returned to Oshkosh, Belgium, for a short stay before coming to Canada in June, 1922. Shortly after their arrival in Canada, Mr. Guyot entered the employ of the Canadian & General Finance Company in Toronto, where he is still active as cashier-accountant and advisory translator for several languages. He has also conducted French publicity for many leading advertising agencies and national advertisers. Mr. Guyot is member of the Georgetown branch of the Canadian Legion, Vice-president of the Franco-Belgian Veterans' Association of Toronto, and belongs to the XIII Club, one of the oldest public speaking and debating clubs in Toronto.

The linguistic abilities of the family are shared by Mrs. Guyot, who holds her Associate of Arts Degree (Oxford) and who speaks and writes French fluently. She too is a very forceful and able public speaker, and has been very active both in Glen Williams and Georgetown. Mrs. Guyot has been President of the St. Alban's Ladies' Guild for the last seven years. She also was the Secretary-Treasurer of the Georgetown Study Club since its inception in 1934. As convener of the Glen Williams Red Cross Society and Secretary of the Georgetown Soldiers' Comforts Committee she was an active war worker.

They have two children, Vivienne and Roger, who both attended Glen Williams Public School and Georgetown High School. They will continue their studies at Jarvis Collegiate Institute. Roger is doing his bit on a farm, where he has been working since last April. Vivienne has taught Sunday School at St. Alban's for the last three years.

Interest Growing As Big August Holiday Celebration Nears

Plans Well Underway—Advertising Out For Civic Holiday Field Day, Garden Party and Dance

Your attention is drawn this week to a large advertisement on Page 2, announcing the big Civic Holiday celebration in Georgetown. According to the betting it really looks like a big day—in fact it WILL be a big day providing the weatherman gives us a break.

It will be a grand holiday for old and young alike, beginning early in the afternoon and lasting well past midnight. The children will hold the spotlight in the afternoon, when races for all ages will be held, while the grown-ups will be entertained to a softball game, tug-o-war, bingo and other games. The Lorne Scots Band will provide music throughout the afternoon, and demonstrations will be put on by the Lorne Scots Regiment (R) and the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

The biggest garden party of the year will be staged in front of the grandstand in the evening. There will be musical selections of all kinds, confetti, dancers and entertainers, under the arrangement of the Guelph Old Time Fiddlers. Gertrude Cain and her troupe of dancers will also have a part in the program, and the Lorne Scots Band will furnish music between acts.

Following the garden party a dance will be held in the Armory, where $25.00 in cash will be given away in a lucky draw on admission tickets. This big day of fun and frolic will be not only a treat for the people of the day's entertainment in Georgetown, but will add our soldier boys as well. This entertainment is sponsored by the Active Service League, a new organization set up to provide some means of recognition to the boys on active service, when they leave town and on their return. Aside from the entertainment which you are bound to enjoy, you are helping a worthy effort on the part of some of our leading citizens.

Following the garden party a dance will be held in the Armory, where $25.00 in cash will be given away in a lucky draw on admission tickets. This big day of fun and frolic will be not only a treat for the people of the day's entertainment in Georgetown, but will add our soldier boys as well.
