WAR-TIME DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP

Be loyal, obey the laws, pay ordinary taxes, provide for self and family, save something for future independence—these are the relatively simple duties of citizenship in peace-time.

But in war-time things are different. Even though he may not have the privilege of joining the armed forces, the citizen has arduous duties, which call on his greatest resources of character, industry and financial means. Added to the normal requirements are the obligations of extraordinary taxes, Victory Bonds and war charities.

So great are the financial duties imposed by war that the citizen must resort to unusual, drastic, systematic, determined saving to meet them.

The Bank of Montreal offers you the service of a Special Savings Account, in which you can deposit every pay-day, or other income date, the right proportionate amount to cover your war obligations when due.

The work of the department of research and development, which was established in 1933 as the Bureau of Economics, is chiefly concerned with economic and research studies of the many and varied activities of the Canadian National System. The furthering of industrial development in Canada is one of its major functions.

Joseph Emile Arthur Gibault, born at St. Jerome, Que., began his technical training at Mount St. Louis Institute, Montreal, later graduating from the Polytechnic of the University of Montreal with degrees in civil and mining engineering. Mr. Gibault had practical experience during his student days as a concrete inspector on the Montreal aqueduct and also as chairman and rodman on the National Transcontinental Railway. After graduation he was employed as draughtsman and designer at Pittsburg, Pa., returning to Canada to again find employment on the National Transcontinental. Later he became resident engineer during construction, being stationed at Cochrane and Quebec. Then in 1930 he transferred to the operating department of the Canadian National Railways, serving as division engineer at Quebec and Lévis.

In 1934 Mr. Gibault was appointed to the Bureau of Economics in a technical capacity as assistant engineer. In September, 1937, he returned to the operating department as superintendent of the Lévis division after serving in similar capacity at Montreal and Campbellton. In August, 1940, Mr. Gibault was appointed assistant general manager of the Atlantic Region, with office at Moncton, which position he maintained until his present transfer to Montreal as assistant chief of research and development.

TRIO OF PATRIOTS

"Three of a Kind" . . . and more to come! Here are three of the attractive Oulligan Sisters of Kitchener, Ontario, who were heard in a recent edition of "Comrades in Arms," over the CBC National Network (every Friday at 10:15 p.m.) Left to right are: Airwoman Carol Oulligan, Airwoman Pearl Oulligan, and Airwoman Olive Oulligan. A fourth gallant young Oulligan, Airwoman Ruby, was unable to attend the broadcast. But that's not all! There is a fifth Oulligan, a charming miss who plans to join her sister in the ROAF next July. Oulligan's next programme devoted to the united services of Canada's armed forces will be heard Friday, January 15; the highlight will be a salute to the C.W.A.C.

MILITARY CALL-UP

Attention!

* SINGLE MEN *

A proclamation recently issued by His Excellency, the Governor-General, requires that every single man, born in any year from 1912 to 1915, each year inclusive, who has not already received a notice or order to report for medical examination under compulsory military service, must do so on a special form at the office of a Postmaster, a Registrar of a Municipality or Board of an Employment and Selective Service Office not later than February 1st, 1943.

For this purpose the term "single man" also includes any male person who was a widower, or legally separated or divorced, and without a child or children dependent on him at July 15, 1940, or any such male person who has suffered the loss of his dependent child or children after that date and any male person who, though married at July 15th, 1940, since that date became a widower, legally separated or divorced, and is now without a child or children dependent on him.

Please observe that single men who have received notices to report for medical examination under the military call-up and who have been examined as required, or men who are now in the Armed Forces, are NOT included in those to register by February 1st.

Penalties are provided for failure to register.

A. McNAMARA
Director National Selective Service Office

We have a bunch that any number of women once they get themselves engaged to a man, realize they made a bad bargain but go ahead and marry him because they don't want to admit to themselves or anyone else they have made a mistake.—Exchange.
