Harold Stafford Addresses Local Legion Meeting

The Work Done By the Overseas Legion Auxiliary and the Red Cross Fully Explained.

The monthly meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E. 81, was held in the Legion Hall on Thursday, Feb. 25th with Comrade President Fred McCartney in the chair. After receiving reports of the various committees which were read and adopted the secretary, Comrade Hall, proceeded with the correspondence and accounts. The secretary gave a statement of various donations to the Russian Fund, British Relief Fund, British War Victims Fund, etc.
The Treasurer, Comrade Bill Honey presented the financial statement of the Branch which showed the finances of the Legion to be in healthy condition, and his report was adopted as read.
The entertainment committee was authorized to complete arrangements with a Concert Party from Guelph to stage their show under the auspices of the Legion some time in March. More about this concert will be published in the next issue of the Herald.
The "Legionary" official organ of the Legion made an appeal for new subscribers and the secretary was authorized to write the Legionary to obtain a club rate price on 100 copies for the local branch.
Mrs. T. Glines, member of the sick committee was authorized to write to Comrade Douglas H. Wright, member of the local branch who is ill in Toronto, expressing their hope that his illness will be of short duration. Mr. Wright is the owner of the Glen Detonach farm in Georgetown, and a popular member of the branch.
The highlight of the meeting was the fine address given by Mr. Harold Stafford, retired man from the last war, and recently invaded home from overseas. He enlisted in the present war Sept. 7, 1939 for overseas service, was promoted to the rank of Staff Quartermaster Sergeant and returned to Canada after serving 2 years overseas.
As a member of the Legion and after witnessing events that happened in this conflict overseas spoke of the plumed work being done by the Canadian Auxiliary overseas, and pointed out that the expenses involved in maintaining this service are well worth the expense involved.
C.Q.M.S. Stafford stated from experience and knowledge of Veterans difficulties after the last war, it behooves every member of the Canadian Legion to bear in mind the one word "Unity" will procure the benefits needed for those of our comrades who find themselves in difficulties through war services. After witnessing the services rendered to Canadian soldiers overseas in this present struggle, he voiced the opinion that no greater organization exists today than the Canadian Legion. Actual experiences witnessed while in England by the Auxiliary Services overseas bear out my previous statements.
The cigarette fund now established has done wonders for the morale of the boys overseas. In the position of S. Q. M.S. he could always appeal to Canadian Auxiliary Officer and procure a sufficient amount of cigarettes to at least give the men some satisfaction. He never appealed to this service without getting fullest co-operation. The boys overseas although not always prompt in acknowledging gifts of cigarettes and packages from Canada, he stated they received these parcels and greatly appreciated the work done for them from their homeland.
In the present conflict the time is now coming when we must prepare for when these men return to this country, therefore all the efforts of the Legion should be put towards this situation to seeing that these men are re-nalibated properly after this war is over. The preparations for this situation should be under way now so that we are not caught napping as we were in the past when the situation faces us.
In speaking of the work of the Red Cross overseas I would like to make this statement said Mr. Stafford, the articles of clothing, etc. procurable for any unit from the offices in London are so generously given without any entanglement or red tape of any kind, and that the generosity of the Red Cross in fulfilling the request for woollen goods is in such quantity that there is no need for any man to be without any warm supplies. Rumors of Red Cross articles being sold overseas, I would like to brand this rumor as an absolute untruth. The Red Cross overseas is doing fine and generous work and their efforts are greatly appreciated by the men of the armed forces.
In conclusion S. Q. M. S. Stafford voiced his opinion of the fine services rendered by the Canadian Auxiliary. Services to not only the men overseas but also to the families left behind in Canada who may possibly find themselves in difficulties. The very prompt and unstinting services rendered is greatly appreciated by those of the forces who have found it necessary to appeal for help and advice for the wives and families left in Canada.
He complimented the local branch of the Legion for the fine work accomplished in all war efforts and the splendid work they are doing for the returned men, strongly urged them to continue as in the past in all their be-

WANTED

365,000,000 dozen eggs... one million dozen a day! That's what we Canadian poultry raisers have been asked to turn out this year to help win the war and write the peace.

W. A. Brown, head of the Dominion Poultry Services, says that we might "get by" with 345,000,000 dozen—but asks for 365,000,000 if it is humanly possible. Even the lower figure is 20,000,000 dozen above last year.

Canada needs those eggs this year... 1943. Part of the increase has to come from present laying flocks. But another part will have to come from pullets hatched this season.

If birds hatched this season are going to deliver any substantial number of eggs this year, they'll have to be good chicks started early and grown right.

Demand is exceptionally heavy for certain breeds. If possible give us a second and third choice on breeds, grade and date wanted. Some started chicks available—first come, first served.

We honestly believe that this is the profitable as well as the patriotic thing to do this year—start good chicks early, as many as you can handle properly, and as early as you can. Don't go by the date you started them in former years—go by the date you can get your brooder house ready and your feed and fuel on hand!
