God bless our boys so far away And keep them safe on land and sea; Where duty sends them out to be.

Guard all who ride in ships on high And have their missions grim to do. Let them come safely from the sky Prom all who threaten and pursue.

Be with and comfort all in pain. Orant them to live for happier days, With victory bring them home again

To freedom's cleaner, gentler ways. And as the harsh days come and go. Hear every true devoted son
