Nothing is more irksome than to be held-up or delayed in a busy season. Seeding, haying, or harvesting are jobs that a man wants to keep at and get done as soon as possible.

The timely help of convenient service is a mighty important factor in cutting down lost time when spare parts or machine service is required.

Established and organized to meet this ever-present need of agriculture for quick service contact, the Massey-Harris organization of branches, distributing centres, and local dealers has been geared to wartime needs.

RED CROSS NEWS

Georgetown, April 13th, 1943

As I Lay Wounded... As dawn broke over the distant hills a cross stood outlined stark and still.

I too, passed through Gethsemane, But gentle hands covered me, And kindly voices low and sweet, Urled on my side and weary feet.

And when my path seemed hard and long, There came to me in distant long those voices, blended with a smile, Which bade me stop and rest awhile.

At last I reached a faint hill, And wondered by whose hand and will, I had emerged, then turned to see, A Red Cross nurse smile down at me.

I'm sure that in Christ's agony, He breathed a prayer to God that we, In life's dark hour, might by our side, Have loving hands, our steps to guide.

In Our Work-Rooms

Well we have been doing exactly as you have been doing this last week or two turning out the splendid dresses BUT it has been a very profitable spring-drawing. We wish you could see the lovely coats that have been made from odd bits of cloth that have been left over from time to time from past quotas and the dear little dresses that have been made from surplus material.

Here is a letter by one of many. Thank you for the lovely coat, also a frock. I had sent me to-day, writes Audrey Turner from Wembley, England, to the Canadian Red Cross. The coat is beautiful. We were bombed out of our home in London. Mummy and daddy were hurt but I was not. We are all right now and Mummy is just the same fat and jolly. My dad is not in the army as he has the rheumatic heart. He has red hair and is awfully funny.

We had lots of help from the Canadian Red Cross. Mummy says to thank you all for everything you are sending over to us. I enclose a picture of me feeding the prisoners in Trafalgar Square.

And my darling sentence will have a particular appeal to women who are so lovingly and patiently for the Red Cross. Thank you again for the lovely coat, she concludes. It has a beautiful lining.

$10,000,000 Quota Passed

The Canadian Red Cross Society's national appeal for $10,000,000 has surpassed its objective by $3,853, and Mr. Justice P. H. Gordon, chairman of the national executive committee, has a message for us.

"On behalf of the Red Cross, I would like to thank the people of Canada for their generous response to our appeal. Our prisoners of war in Germany and Italy, the long-suffering people of the United Nations, and members of our armed forces, all of whom will benefit from the contributions will be grateful for the comforts and help this money will provide."

He said the success of the campaign will mean that the Red Cross will be able to maintain the flow of food parcels to prisoners of war and expand its vital blood donor service.

At 23rd Annual Meeting of Ontario Division

It was claimed that the greatest year of service that the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross has known has just ended. Women Red Cross Workers in the province made over 3,200,000 articles in 1942. Included were 1,121,582 hospital supplies and 806,265 finished pieces of civilian clothing.

Knitted comforts for seamen, soldiers and airmen amounted to nearly 500,000 articles. Shipments to the Far East from Ontario totalled 62,043 articles; Russia was sent 60,000 pieces of civilian clothing and 150,000 sheets, pillow cases and quilts.

Mr. Arthur W. Ellis of Toronto and Beaverton is the new president of the Ontario Division.

The work of the Junior Red Cross was greatly praised. Norman B. Caldwell, Hon. Secy, said "The teachers in our schools are the backbone of the Junior Red Cross. To them we owe a debt of gratitude."

Ontario school children had contributed $48,000 directly to the Junior Red Cross fund of the Red Cross. British Bomb Victims fund and made over 50,000 articles for refugee children and bombed victims.

Blood Donor Service. In response to the urgent request of the Dominion Government for unlimited quantities of blood serum this service has nearly tripled the weekly quota in this last year.

The week of March 13th marked an all-time high for blood donations across Canada. Some 2,350 Canadians contributed blood that week.

We are pleased to report that during the months of February and March the Georgetown Branch of the Blood Donors Club contributed 117 donations in two clinics less than four weeks apart and we expect the third call very shortly.

Two Messages. To Mrs. H. J. Hamilton in his writing-up on Field Marshall John Christian Smith, P.C., C.M., K.C., under the title of "A Christian Statesman" in the Globe and Mail recently records Field Marshall Hamata as saying:

"At the beginning of this war, as he watched the departure of the first contingent from South Africa, he said: 'Breaking to you on a parting which to some must be final, I can but wish you Godspeed from the bottom of my heart. God bless you! We too go forth as crusaders, as Children of the Cross. We shall wage this war until God's victory crowns the end.'"

His final word about the future is this: "Ever since Versailles I have felt the real peace was to come, teaching down to and resting in our common human and Christian foundations."

Did We Hear You Ask?

What has the RED CROSS done for Canadians? Remember the Halifax disaster during the last war. Initial of the Knights of Columbus Club fire last December? Did you ever hear of the outpost hospitals established in remote parts of Canada under what is known as the "peace-time" work of the RED CROSS? These hospitals were those pioneers who are laying the foundation for a greater Canada than we have at present. Having a one-sided argument! The RED CROSS knows no race, no color, no nationality, no distance. Count as one of your blessings—the fact that you have not had occasion to call on the sister of mercy.

Prisoners-of-War Parcels

Are intended to supply food for the prisoners in this case, which we think rather unusual they supplied even more than that. Miss Mabel Wood a school mistress, treasures at her home in Kent a cobweb fine lace mat which she procured during 27 months she was held in a Nazi prison camp after being torpedoed while en route home to England from Australia. The mat is made from unraveled string taken from parcels the RED CROSS sent Miss Wood.

Cummins-Young Wedding

A very pretty wedding was recently solemnized in Paisley Memorial Church, Georlup, when Dorothy P. Cummins, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cummins, 32 Clinton Street, became the bride of Kenneth Young, The Rev. O. A. Wishart, performed the ceremony and the church was decorated with huge bouquets of spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white sheer over taffeta, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Green was pretty in baby blue sheer over taffeta, carrying Spring flowers. Mr. Mac by, Cook of Greenmore, was best man, and Neil Cummins and Bill Nonkville were the ushers. Mr. Ralph Smith was at the organ and played softly throughout the ceremony. Miss Evelyn Holm sang "Because" during the signing of the register. Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the
