THE RISEN LORD

LESSON TEXT—John 20:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Mark 16:7

"Christ is living! My people shall know it. I shall preach about it again and again until they believe as I do." So exclaimed Dr. Dale of London when the glory of Christ's resurrection laid hold of him as never before. There began that day the custom of singing an Easter hymn in his church every Sunday morning.

Easter has come again, and it ought to make us glad to recall the resurrection power of Christianity in the midst of the world's awful sorrow and death. Easter should mean more to us than ever this year, if we believe in Christ. If we do not, why not rid ourselves of the dark garments of unbelief, and put on the bright and beautiful garment of faith in a living Christ. Let us be clad in His righteousness.

The first Easter Sunday had scarcely dawned when the faithful Mary came to the tomb. Finding the stone rolled away from its entrance she ran to find Peter and John. What they came and saw, and what—rather who—she remained and saw, make up our interesting lesson.

I. Peter and John Saw the Empty Tomb (vv. 1-10).

Peter, though he had denied his Lord, was not sent away by his brethren. They knew his true heart, and evidently the gentle and loving John had taken him to his home. Mary knew where to find him. What a tender incidental indication of the Christian spirit of the brethren of Peter.

John and Peter ran to the tomb. The unusual news stirred them that John the younger did not think to await the slower steps of Peter. He came first, but when he did he only looked in. Peter had no hesitation, but went right in. What he found there was most significant.

Here was twofold evidence that the body of our Lord had not been stolen. The burial clothes were there. They had not been carried off by a thief. Nor had they been snatched aside by a deceiver. They lay in order. There off to one side, carefully folded, was the head covering. Jesus was gone, but He had left in all the dignity and majesty of a triumphant Lord.

What they saw caused John to believe. It appears (v. 9) that they had not yet understood the clear teachings of the Old Testament regarding the death and resurrection of Christ. They were slow to believe. Let not any in our day with its greater light, fail to believe.

Peter and John came and saw—and then "they went away again unto their own home." And so they missed seeing Christ Himself.

II. Mary Met the Risen Christ (vv. 11-17).

The tears of Mary were the genuine expression of a devoted heart, but they were nevertheless mistaken tears. The question of the angel reveals that fact. Why weep because His body was gone, when that was the very thing which should give her joy? Why weep over a dead Christ when He was alive?

How often our discernment is dimmed by tears and our judgment warped by sorrow. We look on the wrong side of our circumstances and see only a tangle of threads and blurred colors. On the other side God is weaving a pattern of beauty and blessing, which will be our joy through all eternity. Why not remember that now?

Blinded with tears and troubled in heart, Mary did not even recognize the Lord when He spoke to her. But our Lord looking into her soul and knowing that it was her very love for Him which made it hard for her to think of anything but His death, gave to this true-hearted woman the privilege of first seeing Him after His resurrection.

As He spoke her name, she knew Him. We recall that Jesus Himself had said that He was the Good Shepherd who "calls his own sheep by name" (John 10:3-14).

He knows your name and mine, fellow Christian, and one day we too shall hear His voice even as Mary did on that day. She believed and worshipped. Let us follow her example this Easter day.

There is a danger that the observance of Easter may lose its real significance in the empty incidents which the world would have us believe make the day. It is a holiday. There is thought of new clothes, of formal church attendance, of family gatherings, of flowers and feasting. They are all right in their proper place. But let us be sure that no adult fails to meet the risen Christ today, and let us be sure that the smallest child knows that this is more than the day of bunnies and candy eggs. They will rejoice in the knowledge that a victorious Christ lives to give them eternal life.

Let us really "keep the feast" this year, purging out the leaven of hypocrisy and dead works, and remembering Christ (see I Cor. 5:7, 8).

Lean Salesmen Ready To Make Total Canvass

Purchase of 4th Victory Loan Bonds as Patriotic Artisan Keynote Campaign.

With the objective of the Fourth Victory Loan much higher than in any previous campaign, officials of the National War Finance Committee have revealed that its sales organization is now geared to the peak of perfection. Hundreds of salesmen are ready to make the most thorough canvass of its kind ever attempted. Plans call for 100 per cent. coverage of all prospective bond buyers in Canada, and the goal is set less than 1,000,000 individual subscribers. Every home in every city, town and village should be prepared to receive a visit from a Victory Loan salesman.

One of the features of this sales campaign will be the effort made by salesmen to have every prospect buy two Bonds, one from ready cash available and a second on the installment plan out of current earnings.

The double purchase plan springs from the great need for increased sales of Bonds to individuals if the minimum objective of $1,100,000,000 is to be topped. In the last Victory Loan campaign the general public bought approximately $2,000,000,000 worth of Bonds. This time at least $500,000,000 worth must be sold to individuals.

Realizing too that there are a large number of Canadians who have never bought a single Bond since the war started, renewed emphasis is being placed on the job of educating these members of the community. Weekly newspapers, magazines and periodicals are carrying advertisements which take readers back to the beginning of war finance. Answers are given to questions which might arise in the mind of a man who has not already bought Bonds and is not familiar with them.

As one prominent executive of the National War Finance Committee explained, patriotic feeling rather than self-interest will assure the success of the Victory Loan campaign. While the purchase of a Bond is the act of a wise man building up a reserve for his family, it also affords him an opportunity of reaping the highest rate of interest compatible with the safety of his investment. The patriotic purchase of Bonds at this stage of the war is absolutely necessary to hasten victory, to save the lives of many of our boys overseas, and make sure that in struggling with the enemy on European soil they are not handicapped by the lack of a single shell or piece of equipment.

"IN OUR MAIL BAG"

Dear Editor and Staff:
I have just received three more copies of the Georgetown Herald thereby completing the issue up to date and I feel I must again convey my thanks forward for its as yet unhindered consistency. Strange though it may appear in the eyes of many, our "local" seems to possess a charmed life all of its own, but where the credit lies I just can't be sure.

I'm certain however the rest of the town fellows over here will bear with me in my statement that no matter how many parcels, cigarettes, letters, etc. fall in their rough journey to reach their destination, the Georgetown Herald always manages to come galloping through in a style all of its own. This is only one oddity in the strange variety of life led by just an ordinary guy in khaki, but it's strangely true never the less.

Now, friends and citizens of Georgetown, here lies an excellent opportunity for a new experiment. If you have in hand any of the underlined above ready for shipment wrapped with nothing but string, paper, and a prayer, and stand in doubt as to its future safety, be nonchalant and tie it to a copy of the Georgetown Herald.

Always Thankfully Yours,
BILL CHAPLIN
