PEOPLE OF CHINA NEED AID

Not enough has been said of late about the valiant people of China, who fought a desperate war against the forces of oppression for many years before even we took up the torch. Today he is still fighting for her freedom and in the course of her struggle against Japan, countless millions of her people have been left destitute, sick and now in many parts of that vast country, starving. In addition to all the horrors of war, famine, and all the pestilence of disease that accompanies it, has struck them. The most you can give will only touch the fringe of human suffering there. The students of Georgetown High School are holding a Tea Day for Chinese War Relief this Saturday. We know there are many calls upon your charity, but this is a call all should heed. Buy your tag and give as generously as you can.

"As We See It"

By J. A. Strang

IT WAS EASTER SUNDAY and the elderly couple were on their way home from Church. They looked nice, he had the top hat and the cane and the lady was dressed in a tailored suit. As they walked along they were overtaken by a younger girl who would suppose might be a neighbor's daughter. The lady addressed her by "Good morning dear" and the gentleman enquired "And how did you enjoy the sermon this morning?" and the young lady's reply was "My goodness, was there a sermon?" One could scarcely be called human if we didn't understand the young lady at that.

THE TIME for spring cleaning has rolled around again and it takes one's thoughts back to the olden days. The modern mattress has changed the house cleaning job altogether. Maybe you never slept on a tick filled with straw but if you haven't you have missed something. Of course there weren't so many thistles in among the straw in those days, as there might be today but we can recall finding a raspberry cane in the tick and it made itself felt so to speak. But there was something nice about a newly filled tick and we recall thinking that we would need a step ladder to get into bed, it seemed to be so high with its new filling of unpacked straw. However it soon settled down to the regular height and became an old story until the next house cleaning period rolled around. Of course we wouldn't think of exchanging a modern mattress for the old fashioned straw filled tick but it did have its advantages. It didn't mean a very heavy investment merely ticking had to be purchased and the straw wasn't valued very highly. Straw at that time had an extra clean odor and the present day dust among straw was absent. Maybe the fact that blowers on threshing machines hadn't been invented at that time accounted in part at least for the cleanliness of the straw.

THE TORONTO Ball Team seems to be going places this season if the way they started out means anything. The team did much better last season than it has for a good many years and maybe this is their year. They deserve success when we consider the way the papers have kept baseball in the news, no matter whether they were winning or losing and also kept it in the news long after and before the playing season started, or finished. Hard ball seems to have lost out in so many of the smaller centres that all ways supported a team and of course we can blame that on the war. But ball fans still take a big interest in the doings in the Major Leagues and one of these days the war is going to be over and base ball will come into its own again. It's a great old game.

IT LOOKS as though there will only be four teams in Senior Lacrosse this season here in Ontario. Lacrosse has slipped as well as ball owing to the same cause, namely war. You will recall that a combine team of Brantford and Mimico players won the honors last year and this year the soldiers at Brantford with two teams in the senior league should really be a hot lacrosse spot this summer. Lacrosse is a real game with plenty of thrills and spills and yet it isn't a rough game either. Players seldom get hurt seriously as they so often do in Hockey, but for some reason or other Lacrosse never attained the popularity that it really deserved, as we see it anyway. We used to get a big kick out of talking along some of the neighbours to see a Lacrosse game. Many of them had never seen a game before and the game wouldn't be under way five minutes until these same folks that were looking at their first game would be cheering much more loudly than we ever would. It is a simple game to understand, in fact almost anybody can catch onto it in a very few minutes of play and get as much kick out of the game as any Lacrosse veteran.
