For sheer bestial cruelty, the Japanese are hard to beat.

Three wounded Chinamen brought a story to light last week which is so horrible, it's hard to believe. However, the truth of the report has been vouched for by all Allied officials in that particular theatre of war. How any men could be so void of all human instincts, is beyond comprehension.

We refer to the detachment of Japanese soldiers who walked cold-bloodedly into a Chinese Military Hospital, and bayoneted the patients lying helpless in bed. Three of the victims were able to escape, and hidden in the jungle, watched the Sun Worshipers return the next day to burn the hospital around the still-living patients. After travelling for many months the Chinese were finally able to reach an Allied base. When they started out, one couldn't walk, and one had been blinded.

Thus having endured untold hardships, they brought their story to light, and gave it to the world. It's a tale which fires the fighting blood in everyone who reads it. We will make the Japs pay for that, and all the other hideous crimes they have perpetrated, before the war is ended.

Publishers are offering us a book entitled "How to Prepare Your Income Tax." What we really want is a book on how to pay it.

AND STILL THEY COMPLAIN

Last week, in a news item, we commented on the fact that housewives dissatisfied with their rationing, were mistakenly laying the blame for their allotment on the shoulders of the Local Ration Board.

We thought after the situation had been thoroughly explained the air would have been cleared of all unjust charges. But such, apparently, is not the case. From all reports the chief offenders are from the southern section of the district. We feel a bit sorry for the Local Board, because a housewife up in arms is a person to be reckoned with. Of course the Board does not actually have to do any reckoning, because the government of Canada is the party responsible for the allotment of sugar in each area, and that is where the complaints should be lodged.

We hope for the sake of the Local Board, whose work and service to the people in each district is purely voluntary and without remuneration, that the irate ladies will soon become reconciled to the fact that there simply is not any more sugar available for them, that distribution was planned in the fairest possible way, and that the local Board is saving them an appreciable amount of money for services rendered, and should not be abused.

"EXPERIENCE: HOUSEWIFE"

Never before have women answered the challenge which industry has thrown them, in such numbers. In factories and munitions plants today, they're taking the place of men, and according to officials they're keeping production up at the highest level yet attained. There's a regular bus service from Georgetown to Malton every day. The busses aren't the latest models, and their light-blue painted bodies, and bulging sides filled with workers look rather unfamiliar stopping at corners to pick up, or let out workers, going to and coming from their regular shifts. If you happen to be there when either of these processes take place, you will be struck by the fact that a great number of the workers are women, and married ones at that.

From kitchen to factory is but over the threshold these days. Women are not only stepping easily from sink to assembly line, but according to an article we read recently, are adapting domestic wrinkles to mass production.

Because a woman war worker remembered how her mother used to keep hot doughnuts from sticking together, she was able to save thousands of man-hours in the manufacture of rubber rings for airplane engines. The rings were piled into boxes when they were hot and many stuck together. These had to be scrapped. Recalling that her mother had put flour between doughnuts to keep them apart, this ingenious war worker used pumice powder between the rubber rings. It worked, and all wastage was eliminated.

Men show more initiative in factory work, according to one employer, but women have more ingenuity. That's easy to explain. Ask any housewife. How did she manage to keep the family budget in balance? It took ingenuity! A little patching here, a little mending there, and plenty of fast thinking when friend's husband brought someone home unannounced to dis-

ACTON FIRST IN VICTORY LOAN COMMUNITY CONTEST

Member WIS B: Named "Acton"
The Village of Acton comes in for congratulations this week. Victory Loan Headquarters has announced that Acton placed first in the Community Contest for communities under 3,000 population. The winning of this high honor means that Acton will have a bomber named after the Village in recognition of this publicity event. Comeau, Que., and Outlook. Bank also won honorable mention in the contest.

The Victory Loan Committee in the County are no doubt pleased that the award should come to Halton County and the Village of Acton in particular.

A New Weekly Series of HOME CANNING RECIPES

Beginning in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (June 20) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times and continuing for several weeks will be recipes for putting up fruit, berries, meats and vegetables at home. Watch for this home canning feature in the Housewife's Food Almanac in The American Weekly with The Detroit Sunday Times.

ner. And what couldn't she fix with a hairpin? Ingenuity is an asset on any job, and "experience: housewife" is nothing to apologize for in any employment office.

FATHER'S DAY

From the very first hour of the very first time that he paces a hospital corridor in horrible suspense until the time that he is fondly referred to as 'Grandad' every father is a logical candidate for the title of "The Forgotten Man."

Mothers are glamorized in song and story, but poor Pop is heard of only in such ditties as "Father, dear Father, come home with me now. The clock in the steeple strikes one."

Noble soul that he is! He stands up calmly under the slings and arrows, and goes about his daily task of bringing home the bacon (it isn't so easy to get now!) He suffers under the injustice of being held up to his quaking children as the stern and unyielding arm of justice who lies in wait behind the woodshed armed with a razor strap or a willow switch. His only recreation is the occasional poker game with his downtrodden brethren, and the calmness with which he draws to an inside straight is ruffled by the retribution that awaits him if he stays out late.

June 20th is Father's Day. On this day we should remember that at least one-half of the parents in the country are fathers. Send him a card or buy him a tie. He probably won't say much, but he sure will appreciate it.

ADDED home security has always been one of the foremost objectives of Brantford Roofing's production... extra protection against the ravages of fire, time and weather. But, as this soldier typifies, men who used to help Brantford Roofing build for security are out battling for it now.

Because Brantford Roofing products have a petroleum base—and oil is strategic material nowadays—the supply of Brantford Roofing for houses is limited. Any quantities available for civilian use are rationed to dealers, to ensure an equitable share in each community. To stretch raw materials as far as possible, all Brantford Roofing lines have been standardized on a minimum range of styles and colours.

If you are faced with roofing problems, ask your Brantford Roofing dealer to assist you. He will help you make your present roof last longer and effect urgent repairs with a minimum of new material. He will also help you plan now for a completely renovated roof after victory.

A NEW EARTH

"And I saw a new heaven and new earth."—Rev. 21:1.

Beyond the hate and strife of bitter war,
Beyond the sorrow, anguish and the pain,
All men shall yet return to love God's law,
And walk along the paths of peace again.

From out the ruins of a broken earth,
Shall men take heart to build and to restore;
Thus shall the things of beauty have re-birth,
And happiness return to us once more.

No more shall nations seek but to destroy.

Not sacrifice again the flow'ry youth,
But rather for their better gifts to play,
And stand as one for justice and truth.

Then shall we see a new-born we arise,
A world wherein all peoples shall live free,
Lift your hearts! See now before, eyes
A vision of a world that is to be.

Nearly a quarter of a million London children will take part in Britain's biggest salvage drive which took place on June 5-19. An impressive display Trafalgar Square, London, gave public a first hand opportunity of seeing the work of the Navy and the Merchant Navy.
