Although Late Crops Show Much Promise

Good Yield of May in Ontario with Cutting Now General

Below will be found a brief synopsis of telegraphic reports received at the Head Office of the Bank of Montreal from its Branches under date of June 24th, 1943.

GENERAL—In the Prairie Provinces, crop conditions are generally favourable, although the season remains somewhat later than normal. Early cool weather promoted sturdy growth, and recent higher temperatures, prevailing over most of the Prairies, have stimulated development. Crops are generally well stocked and healthy and early-sown wheat is entering the shock-blast stage. Moisture reserves are satisfactory in Manitoba and most of Saskatchewan, but good rains are urgently needed in the Southeast area of Alberta. Weeds are prevalent in some districts. Insects have caused slight damage. Pasture is in good condition.

In the Province of Quebec, the season is still from two to four weeks later than normal and seeding and planting have not yet been completed. Heavy rains have caused serious damage to crops and delayed operations generally. Pasture and hay lands, including Orchards are in satisfactory condition and small fruits show promise. Warm, dry weather is urgently needed in most districts. In Ontario, better weather has prevailed since the beginning of June and prospects for all crops have improved materially, but the season remains about three weeks later than normal. Seeding of spring grains is practically completed and planting of corn and roots is well under way; recent growth has been good.

Hay and clover crops and pastures have made excellent progress. In the Maritime Provinces, seeding and planting are still uncompleted, but hay lands are showing good growth, and in apple orchards there is evidence of a good crop following heavy bloom in British Columbia, all crops are late.

In general, below normal bloom in apple orchards was followed by a fairly heavy drop and the outlook is for a crop 50 per cent to 75 per cent of average.

Province of Ontario
Favourable weather conditions have prevailed during June and farming operations, while much later than usual, have proceeded at a brisk pace in recent weeks. Rains would be welcome in a few Northern and Western areas. Fall wheat had made rapid progress and is filling and colouring well, but many fields are patchy. Seeding of spring grains is completed in most districts and recent growth has been good. Pasture is excellent. A heavy crop of good quality hay is in prospect; cutting will be general within the next few days. Planting of corn and roots is well advanced and the crop are making satisfactory progress. Orchards and small fruits generally show promise, although peach returns will be much below normal and the yield of cherries is expected to be light. Trans-planting of tobacco is practically finished; plants have shown considerable improvement recently, although some damage from wireworms is reported.

3. Prosperity Is Not Always a Blessing (1:8-11).
The Hebrews were a peaceful, law-abiding people. They were God's chosen people, and as He blessed them they prospered, and thus innocently they brought upon themselves the hatred of the suspicious Egyptians.

Prosperity is never an unmix'd blessing. We as a nation know that to be true. Not only does it lead to a certain softening of the sinews, but all too often it results in a weakening of the moral fiber, which makes man easy prey to the attack of the enemy of our souls.

It is not strange, then, that we should—even in times of all-out warfare—be so eager to chase the dollar that we are willing to neglect our children, forget church, live unnatural lives, just that we may make more and more money?

The Egyptians had, humanly speaking, reason to fear this great nation which was growing up in their midst. The new rulers did not know Joseph and had forgotten the part in which he had brought his family into the land. The leaders of the Egyptians therefore made plans which appealed to their brilliant leaders as politic and wise. But they reckoned without God, and the burdens and afflictions they placed on the Israelites only served to bring forth blessing.

So Israel learned a lesson which our present sorry world can profit by, that—

II. Persecution Is Not Always a Burden (vv. 12-14).
The people of Israel did not appreciate it, but the bitterness of their bondage was a blessing in disguise. Note that—

1. It Kept Them Separate as a People. Affliction often serves to keep God's people separated from the world. It is doing so today.

2. It Disciplined Them and Prepared Them for the Hardships of Their Wilderness Journey. We too do well to remember that "whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth," and that if we are properly "exercised" thereby, our sorrows may yield rich fruit in our lives.

3. It Threw Them Back upon God. Many are the saints of God who have found that the fiery trial, the burden so hard to understand, or some affliction of their body, has caused them to bring their burden to the Lord. We have traveled far on the road of faith when we have reached the place where we learn that "man's extremity is God's opportunity."

They had only one place to turn. They were hemmed in on every side, but, as ever, they found that the way up no man can close. They called on their God.

III. Prayer Always Brings Deliverance (2:23-25).
Does God really know when His people suffer? Does He really care? Yes, He does. "They cried," and "God heard" and "remembered." That's all we need to know. The groaning of His people had already stirred God's gracious and tender heart. But He waited to hear their cry before He answered. Such is the law of prayer. May we not forget it. Far too often we turn to everyone and everything else, and finally, in desperation, to God. Why not turn to Him first?

Does God hear and answer prayer? Yes, but remember that real prayer is the cry of faith coming from the heart of an obedient child. God may answer other prayers, but He always answers such a prayer. His answer may not be in accord with our opinion of what it should be, for His wisdom is infinite. He knows better than we what the answer should be. Let us trust the Judge of all the earth to do right (Gen. 18:25).

Lesson for July 4

A PEOPLE IN DISTRESS

LESSON TEXT— Exodus 1:6-14. 2:23-35.
GOLDEN TEXT— They cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage— Exodus 2:23.

Today is Independence Day. Yet much of the world is in bondage, and the rest of it is in a struggle to prevent freedom from perishing from the earth.

Our lesson too is about a nation in bondage, but we learn from it that there is a way to be free. Even so we declare the way of personal liberty which is open and free.

The Lord Jesus Christ opened it at Calvary's tree and anyone who is still the bond slave of Satan may make this a great and glorious Independence Day by now declaring his faith in the Deliverer of our souls.

We begin today a series of lessons in the book of Exodus which reveal the high and mighty hand of God working on behalf of His people.

The family of Jacob—or, as the Bible calls them, the children of Israel—prospered in Egypt particularly, as long as Joseph and the rulers who remembered him were alive. But they soon learned one of life's bitter lessons, that—

Prosperity is never an unmix'd blessing. We as a nation know that to be true. Not only does it lead to a certain softening of the sinews, but all too often it results in a weakening of the moral fiber, which makes man easy prey to the attack of the enemy of our souls.

It is not strange, then, that we should—even in times of all-out warfare—be so eager to chase the dollar that we are willing to neglect our children, forget church, live unnatural lives, just that we may make more and more money?

The Egyptians had, humanly speaking, reason to fear this great nation which was growing up in their midst. The new rulers did not know Joseph and had forgotten the part in which he had brought his family into the land. The leaders of the Egyptians therefore made plans which appealed to their brilliant leaders as politic and wise. But they reckoned without God, and the burdens and afflictions they placed on the Israelites only served to bring forth blessing.

WASTE IN MEAT TO BE RECTIFIED
The sole purpose of meat rationing is to make more meat available for the United Nations, the armed forces and other active participants in the war. Accordingly anything in the nature of waste of meat is directly contrary to the purpose of rationing and will be rectified," said K. W. Taylor, Foods Administrator of the War-time Prices and Trade Board. He was commenting upon the reports from some parts of Canada that under the prevailing meat coupon value system there has been reduced buying of sausage, briskets, plates and flanks with resultant piling up of these meats in some retailers' stocks.

A Symbol of POWER IN PEACE AND WAR

DAY AND NIGHT, throughout Ontario, electrical energy travels with the silence and speed of light. Hydro-Electric generating stations are its source, thousands of miles of transmission lines are its highways, Ontario homes, farms and factories are its destinations. In our Province, wherever supplies and tools of war are in the making, Hydro electricity keeps wheels turning at wartime speed.

THE NEED FOR Hydro power has vastly increased. Through foresight and planning from the birth of Hydro, its program has been one of progress and expansion. Today, 90% of Ontario's industries are electrified. Where plants are built or enlarged, Hydro supplies low-cost electricity to light buildings and to power machines. Conservation of this vital element in non-essential industry, in homes and in offices will permit Hydro to meet every wartime emergency.

The familiar transmission towers... symbols of Hydro power are constant reminders of the men whose organized effort makes Hydro service possible. Theirs is a round-the-clock... round-the-calendar duty... fair weather and foul... in peace and war.

Electricity is the tireless servant of mankind. After the war, in the city, on the farms and in industry, Hydro will be needed - and available - in increased measure to make human tasks lighter and lives brighter.
