TOO LATE

Probably the commonest tragedy of all in this world is that of "Too late!" A certain man once realized that an education is a good thing, but he realized it too late, and the result is he goes through life incapable of doing a work really worth while. Another realized that his parents were his best and truest friends; but he realized it too late, and as a result these parents went down to their graves without having received from their son the devotion he should have given. It is in the field of religion that the tragedy of "Too late" most commonly occurs. We think we can repent of sin any time, and we wait until it is too late before we set about doing it. We think we can still do good to-morrow, and lo! judgment day is dawning, and our work still undone. Too late! Too late! Oh, how many times has Christ been crucified on that Cross by those very ones who meant to call themselves His disciples and friends!

A Weekly Editor Looks at Ottawa

(By Jim Greenblatt)

This introduces, from the nation's capital, a new series of weekly letters, designed exclusively for community papers of Canada and that vast audience of readers which never gets out to a night club. For the rancher, farmer, fruit grower, miner, the semi-urban and rural people whose feet are directly and indirectly rooted in the soil of Canada.

Your own editor among others has been annoyed to high heaven with the flood of material which comes from Ottawa much of which he cannot use. Like you he's a busy person running that old paper you think so much of, whether you agree with him on politics or not. He knows you would be interested in a quick catch-up on government doings and what's what around Ottawa after you come in from chores at night. He also knows you do not wish long winded reading after a hard day's work. And this weekly feature, for your editor's sake and especially you, I hope will fill the bill.

The Wartime Information Board has been made aware that readers of weekly papers are entitled to something in their own language from Ottawa, and so, accepting this assignment it would be interesting to get your collective reaction through your editor.

If you have any particular problem which has its anchor in Ottawa, and you want to know what makes it tick, feel free to drop a line to this column. Maybe it can be interpreted for you. Possibly there are thousands others who want to know about the same thing. But it would be better if none of us get too personal or too political. We'll leave that sort of thing to the politicians.

This column to justify itself should be a national mirror for the home town. I don't suppose you are much interested in the fact that Ottawa looks really beautiful this time of year. So is your own place out east and west. But you might like, occasionally, to hear of strange people, strange faces, strange ideas, all of which makes Ottawa so intriguing even if you have to stand in line to eat.

There could be little sidelights, like seeing the Soviet fliers recently; the fellows who flew from Moscow to Ottawa—just like that. I watched them in the hotel lobby, in black knee length boots, loose fitting tunics, raskish forage caps smart earnest looking fellows who looked as if they had a mission in life. Undoubtedly their's is killing Germans. They were watching the smartly dressed girls in and out of uniforms; men of our armed forces, civilians and seemed to measuring the standards of democracy as against Communism. I got a kick out of watching them eye the well filled cigar stand, the jammed hotel cafe.

Well, that's part of Ottawa. A little of this, a little of that about government activities, legislation, Parliament, none of it too worrying—but informative. Just recently I heard Hon. Humphrey Mitchell in the House of Commons justify the government's manpower policy. When he said that 5,100,000 men and women out of a total population of 8,728,000 aged 14 years and over were in the armed forces or at work, this on the face of it speaks mighty well for Canada at war. The Opposition calls it a "muddle". Well, after listening in on the debates for weeks on end, it becomes increasingly clear that Canadians have got to think and interpret for themselves a little, too. We'll try to unravel things if possible, always keeping in perspective the national picture and that millions of others have problems and ideas, too.

Letters in from editors all over Canada relative to this new service reveal that people in Canada are pondering these days and want to take the work of the clock apart themselves. One editor suggests we dig with both hands into a Health Insurance measure now pending which he claims would be foisted on us by a medical monopoly, and which in its present form would cost the people plenty. A Manitoba editor wants, "in simple language enlightenment on matters pertaining to farmers and the farming communities" and also "of what benefit will the post war reconstruction schemes be to the farmer."

That seems to be our "simple task" in this weekly news letter. You must not expect miracles of reporting. Time, experience in digging out the essential facts and developing a continuity of understanding of what you might be interested in out here will follow. Undoubtedly you want facts, and an authentic, unbiased and interpretive slant at Ottawa, dished out as if your own worried-looking editor was here doing it.

MISS NORMA KRANTZ BURIED IN ACTON CEMETERY

Norma Eileen Krantz, eighteen-year-old former resident of Acton died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, on Friday July 19th, as a result of injuries she sustained when an explosion occurred at the plant at Cooksville at which she had been employed since last December. Pneumonia developed and she passed away on Friday.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at the Johnstone & Rumley Funeral Home in Acton where service was conducted by Rev. R. W. Fosbury. Miss Krantz attended the United Church when she was a resident here. Born at St. Mary's she resided here with her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krantz for about eight years she attended Acton school. One sister also remains, Shirley of Acton. Sympathy of many friends goes to those bereaved so suddenly. The funeral services of this young war worker saw many of her fellow employees and friends from Hamilton, Toronto and Cooksville gathered to pay tribute.

Interment was made in Fairview Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Jack Mellor, Wm. Ritchie, Jr., Reginald Corp and Richard, Harvey and Elmer Ferrier. Flower bearers were Marie DeForest, Betty Cudden, Isabel Henderson, Sonja Donna, Norma and Eileen Corp.

Floral tributes from the following also bore evidence of sympathy: Mr. and Mrs. Krantz and family; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krantz, Mother and Sister Shirley; Miss Nora Krantz; Betty and Horace Cudden; Ed. and Mrs. Harold DeForest; Mr. A. Corp and family; the Milton Heights Community; Wm. Ritchie Family; Fellow Workers from Milton Heights; Mr. Hugh T. Hand; T. W. Hand Fireworks Co.; Employees of T. W. Hand Fireworks; Employees of Paint Shop, Shipping Room, Soldering Shop of T. W. Hand Fireworks Co.
Miss Krantz had been employed in Georgetown at one time, and was a cousin of Miss Nora Krantz, mail carrier of R. R. 3.

Munitions output in Britain in the first quarter of 1943 has exceeded the output of the first quarter of 1942 by 40 per cent. One worker in three in munitions—including shipbuilding and heavy engineering—is now a woman.
