Eye Efficiency & The War Effort

Today's needs require men and women with perfect vision. Defective vision should not be tolerated in factories doing war work.

The better you see the better you work.

This applies to office, store and house work also.

For a complete Eye Service and quality glasses at city prices, consult

'As We See It'

By J. A. Strang

THE SHORT CROP of raspberries, together with the high price, has been the cause of a great many folks going to the wild berry patches to pick the wild berries this season. While the wild variety are not as large a berry as are the tame ones yet they do have the better flavor and when canned properly are tops when the arrive at the table. Picking wild berries in a shady patch with plenty of company can be quite a nice change for most of us. Usually a lunch is taken along and of course a nice cool drink as well. It is a good outing and if the berries are plentiful, as they have been this year, the results are satisfactory. Blueberries are a good crop this year also, however the trouble with them is that the blueberry markets are located rather too far away for most of us and in the districts where they are located, pickers are scarce. Muskoka has its blueberry marsh as also has Parry Sound and in fact all those districts up that way have a good supply of marshes. The Indians often go in for blueberry picking and make a nice clean-up during the season. Unlike other berries, blueberries last for a much longer picking period and there always seems to be a sale for them. We recall picking them in October one year and they seemed to be as good a quality at that time as they were much earlier in the season. It so happened that they hadn't been frozen which of course finishes them. While blueberries are not as satisfactory for canning as are raspberries for instance yet they are popular especially for pies. Blueberries are noted for discoloring the tongue and the youngster who hasn't had his tongue darkened with blueberries has missed something, in fact many a youngster has been proud to stick its blueberry darkened tongue out as far as it possibly could for the rest of the family to see.

THE WAR SITUATION is changing every day it seems and we dislike to miss a newscast. No matter what punishment Mussolini gets it won't stack up along side the misery that he has been the means of bringing to his country and to his countrymen. At the moment the Italians are in a tough spot. If they quit they will have to fight the Germans and if they don't quit they will have the Allies to fight with and all on their own soil at that. They never seemed to be in earnest about their fighting and it's no wonder they surrender at every opportunity. We hear very little about the submarine menace these days. Mail is coming through and reaching England in a very few days now. Of course much of it may be going by air but even boat mail is getting through in a hurry and letters reaching here in ten days from being posted over there is a common occurrence. Our cousins south of the border are getting more coffee and more sugar, all due to better shipping, and while we are not able to benefit as yet the fact that the Americans are getting more of these commodities shows which way the wind is blowing. We will be able to benefit perhaps sooner than we expect. An announcement has been made that we are likely to be able to get some Salmon again this fall so all in all things could be a great deal worse.

IT SEEMS UNUSUAL to notice the announcement in the City papers of so many shops closing up for two weeks holidays. They claim that this is the only way that they can get a vacation this year and no doubt business may be quiet in their own particular lines at present. It does seem strange though. Even closing up for two weeks is likely to lose them some customers and it still is customers that make the wheels go round. No doubt business in many lines has been a headache lately and with the shortage of help and the difficulty of getting supplies perhaps we shouldn't blame them for closing up for two weeks.

THE ONTARIO ELECTION will likely be over by the time you read these lines and we hope that you made up your mind who to vote for and that you also voted. It seemed to be rather difficult to pick the right party this time. While many of us thought it about time for a change at Queen's Park most of us wonder why we need a Government there at all. Likely we will wake up some day and decide that we could easily do without all our Provincial Governments and thus save a good many Dollars. For a population of around eleven million we certainly have far too much Government to keep up. Again during the war period much of the governing has been done by Ottawa, that had been done by the lesser parliaments and if Ottawa could do it in war time surely it could do it much more easily during peace times.
