

Fairview Farm Setting for Crichton-Dick Wedding

At a lovely ceremony at the bride's home, Fairview Farm, Jean Katherine, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Dick, was united in marriage to Thomas Lloyd Crichton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Crichton, Bnelgrove, on Saturday, September 11th, at 3:30 o'clock. The marriage vows were taken in the living room in a large bay window banked with evergreen and stand-ards and baskets of pink and white gladioli. Indirect lighting illuminated the setting, and gladioli in a deeper shade of pink outlined the windows. A note of interest was the fact that the bride's grandmother, Mrs. William Early, and the bride's mother, were both married in the same bay window. Rev. J. Leonard Bell, of Norval Presbyterian Church officiated. Miss Nora Lyons of Union played the wedding music, and James Porter, Bnelgrove sang during the signing of the register and after the toasts were proposed.

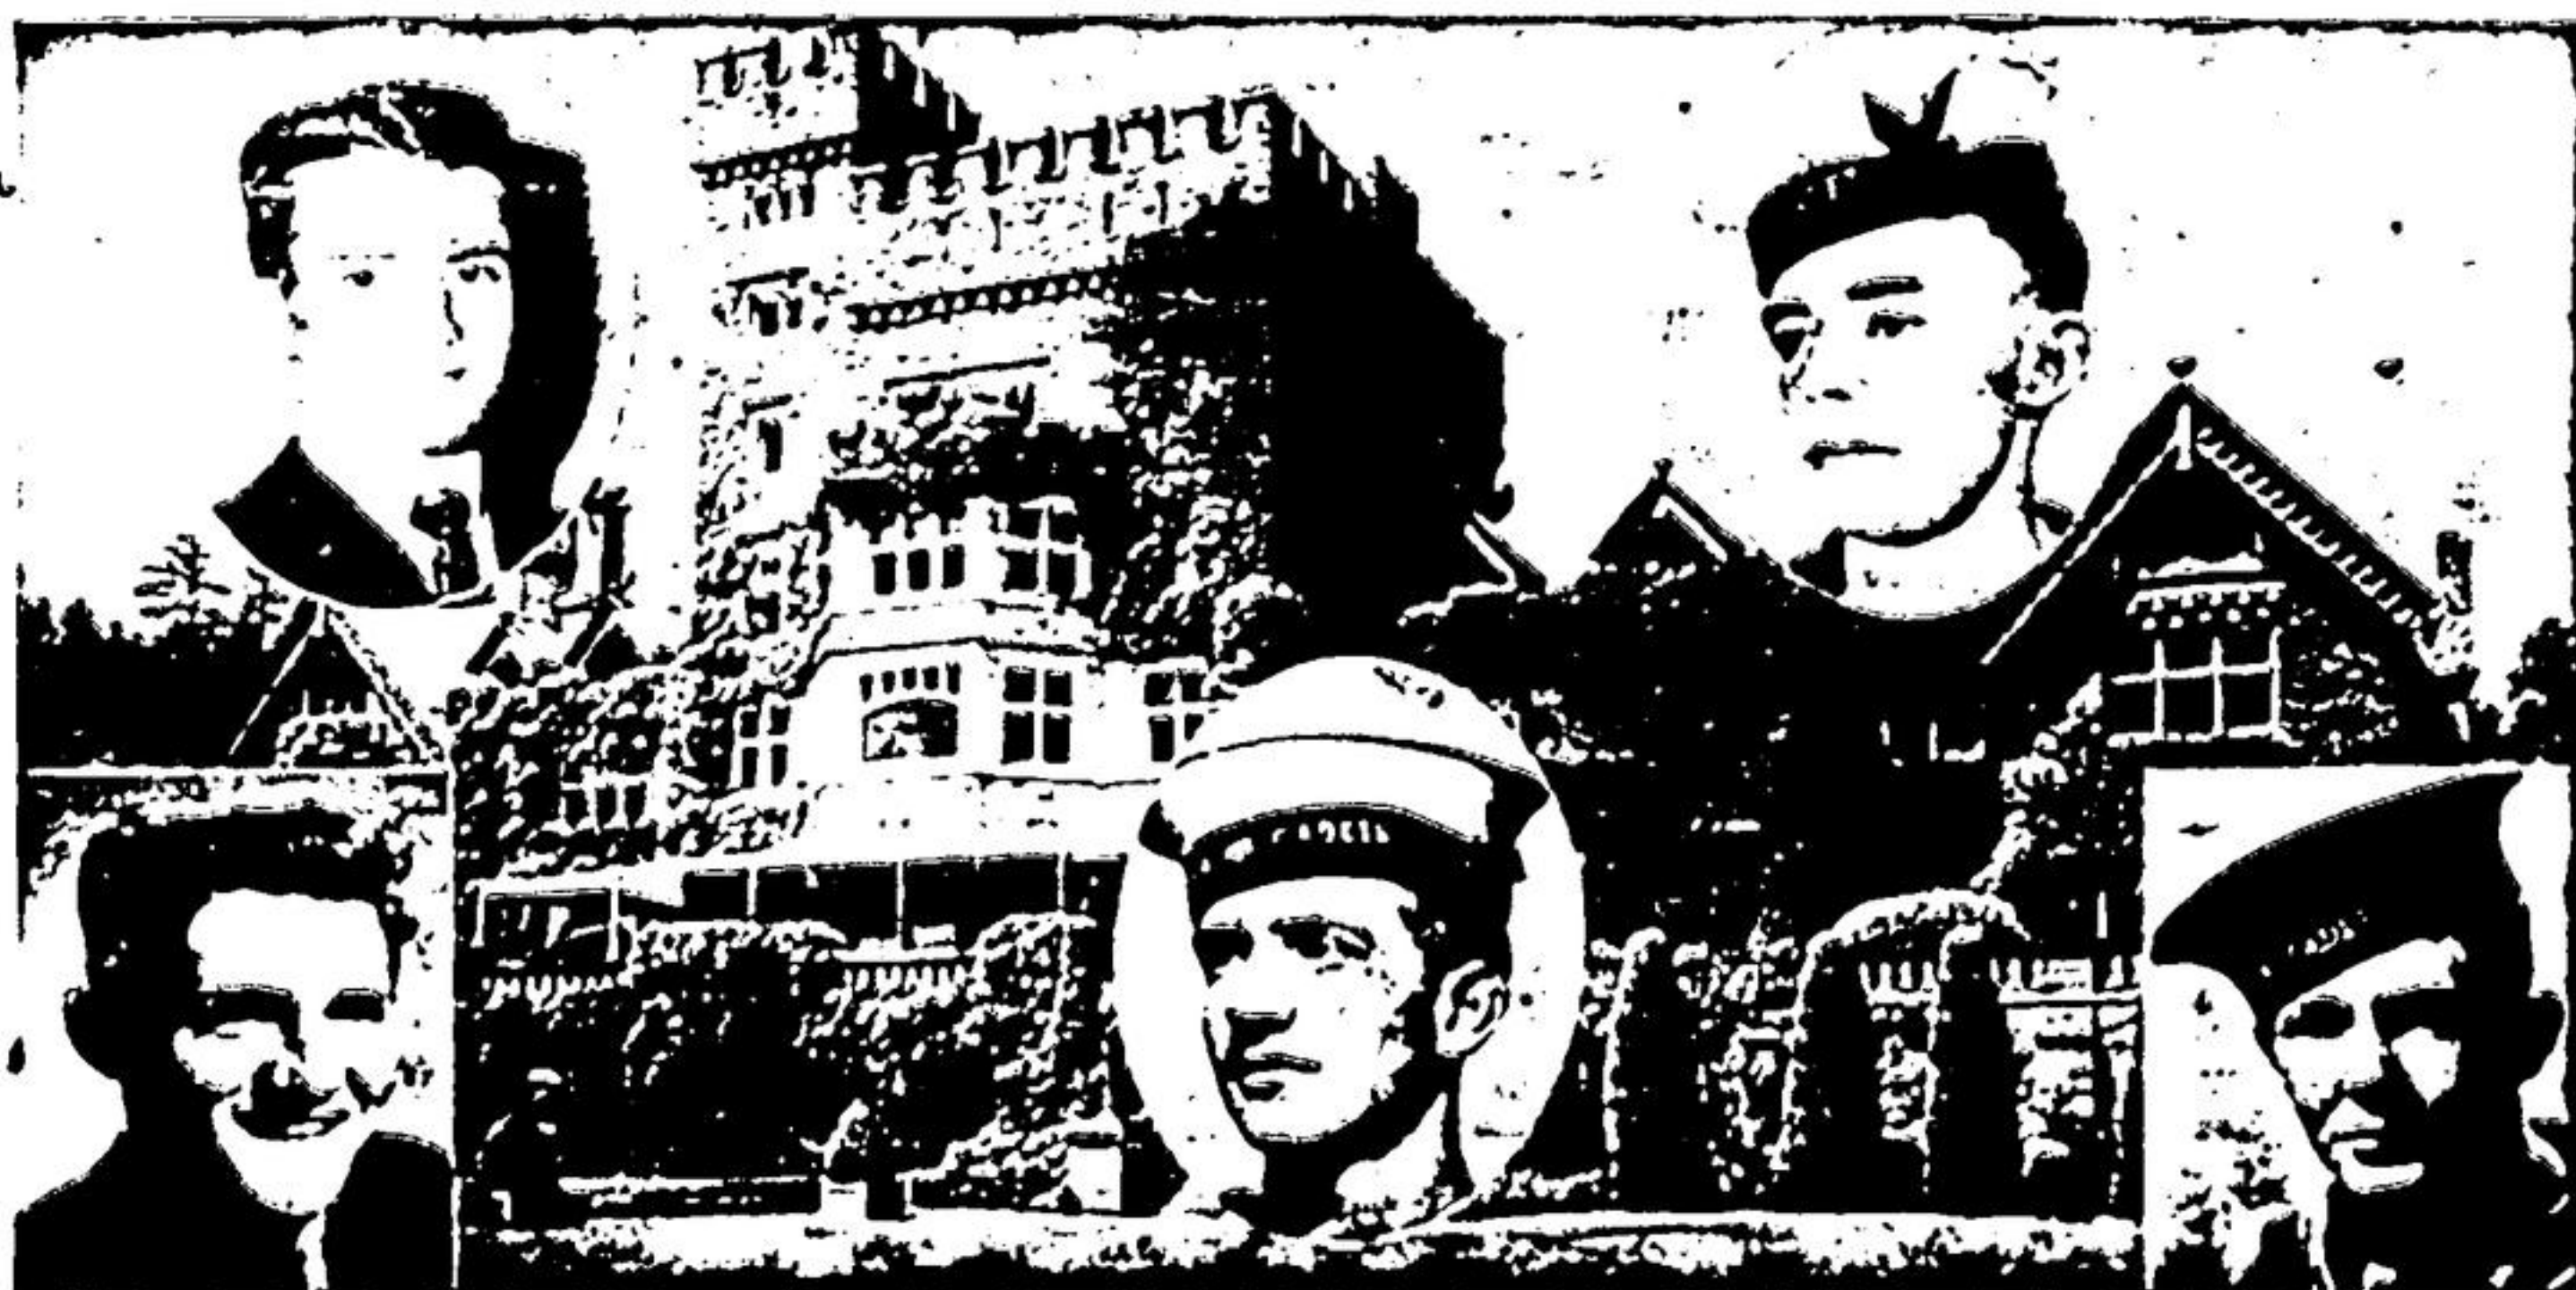

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a long white gown of Swiss-embroidered georgette, with sequins, made with a "V" neckline, long sleeves and very full skirt. Her full-length veil was caught to her head with a headpiece of shaded mauve gladioli petals and silver ribbon. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink gladioli petals centered with blue delphinium, and matching floral head-dress. She wore the gift of the bride, a blood-stone finger ring. A cousin of the bride, Dorothy Jane Thompson, was Junior Bridesmaid, also in a gown identical with the bride's, with floral headpiece and carrying a nosegay of pink roses, gladioli and blue delphinium, from which streamers of blue pink and gold ribbon fell. She wore the bride's gift, a brooch finger ring.

Graham Crichton, R.C.N.V.R., brother of the groom, was best man. The groom's gift to him was a signet ring. The bride's gift to the groom was an engraved Bulova watch.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother, assisted by the mother of the groom received the guests. Mrs. Dick wore a fuchsia two piece frock with gold trimmings, and corsage of Ophelia roses. Mrs. Crichton, mother of the groom, chose a delphinium blue ensemble and corsage of American Beauty roses. Sixty guests sat down to the wedding supper. Rev. J. L. Bell was toastmaster, and the toast to the bride was given by Mr. Laverne Thompson and to the bridesmaids by Mr. Joseph Urwin, Toronto. The groom and groomsmen made very appropriate replies. Mr. Harry Watson and the father of the bride also gave short speeches.

For going away, the bride changed to a brown tailored suit with beige blouse and brown accessories. They left on a motor trip to Northern Ontario, and on their return will live at Fairview Farm.

Sea Cadets Win Scholarships to Naval College

Five of the six Royal Canadian Sea Cadets who qualified for entrance to Royal Roads Royal Canadian Naval College, were awarded scholarships by The Navy League of Canada. Each scholarship has a value of $1,000 which is sufficient to pay for tuition, lodging, meals and uniforms for the two-year course and leave about $150 over for incidentals. A recent picture of the college, located near Victoria, B. C., is shown in the layout, with photos of

stood first among the 130 candidates and came very close to being among the scholarship winners.

"As We See It"

By J. A. Carroll

THERE SEEMS to be an epidemic of both train wrecks and of bank robberies on the North American Continent these days. One wonders why there should be so many train wrecks. Apparently there is no thought of sabotage in connection with the wrecks, at least in connection with the bank robberies one wonders where the gangsters get all the nerve and again had they turned their abilities into regular employment wouldn't they have been a big success sooner or later though they get caught and the way of the transgressor is still hard.

WE READ of the breaking up of golf links and of acres of sporting grounds and the like over in England in order that the acreage under cultivation may be increased. It sounds like a sensible idea especially in a country that imports so much of its foodstuffs. As you know many of these huge estates over there are used by the soldiers and the houses or castles on them are quite comfortable. Some of these houses are really huge, in fact we can scarcely imagine a house of over one hundred rooms out there is the size of many of them. In a recent letter from over there the writer was telling us about one of those huge estates and among other things mentioned that the big rock garden in front and was filled with onions and that it looked very nice at that. Our idea of rock gardens wouldn't allow for very good cultivation for onions however if the rock garden was large enough it might be cultivated successfully. In regard to looks, a nice crop of onions is not only nice looking but the harvest means flavor for a good many steaks. The idea could be used right here in our own country to advantage.

THE BRAMPTON MIMICO combines are fighting it out with the Lakeshore for the honors in senior lacrosse here in Ontario and for a chance at the Mann cup. The St. Catharines Athletic and the Brampton army team have passed out of the picture this season. The final game if three are necessary in the Cumbine Lakeshore series, will be played in Brampton on this Saturday evening. The winner then meets a team from the Eastern Ontario-Montreal district and the winner of that series goes on West to meet the winner of the British Columbia district in the finals for the Mann cup. The series hasn't been as interesting as usual this year, owing no doubt to the fewer number of teams that are playing and of course this is another result of the war situation. Lacrosse is still a great game however, for some reason or other it doesn't attain the popularity that the game really deserves.

JACK FRONT put an end to the Blueberry crop over the week-end and also included a good many garden crops in Western Ontario as well. We didn't notice any damage done locally, however it was cold enough for most of us. Often the first frost of the fall season is followed by a few weeks of fine and warmer weather and it always seems a pity to see the flowers and vegetables frozen before the fine weather ends. With the fall fair over and school open again we have to conclude that fall is really here once more. It has been a fine summer anyway and we had plenty of moisture and it was distributed very evenly over the growing season, with the result that even the lawns remained green all summer and the lawn mower never got a rest at all. Many crops were not as heavy as usual however there does seem to be an abundance of everything for both man and beast as there usually is.

Town's Oldest Resident Marks 93rd Birthday

James Scott, Georgetown's oldest resident, quietly celebrated his 93rd birthday at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gibbens, on Tuesday, September 14th.

Mr. Scott, who is in excellent health, has the use of all his faculties, and keeps up to the times with his favourite pastime of reading. We believe the secret of his longevity is his happy disposition. Mr. Scott still likes to look around the town first hand, and every day, weather permitting he walks about a mile. He has plenty of energy, and is always first up in the household in the morning. Mr. Scott is a staunch Presbyterian.

Although born in Prince Edward County, near Trenton, he came to Georgetown with his mother when a small child and has lived here ever since. He attended public school in Glen Williams, and was a valued employee of Provincial Paper Ltd. from 1863 to 1930. Upon his retirement from business the employees presented him with a gold-headed cane and handsome illuminated hand illustrated address. James Scott married Agnes McGraw who died thirteen years ago. There are two children, Mrs. Jack Gibbens, town, and Mr. Edward J. Scott, who used to have a drugstore here, but now lives in Hamilton. He has one grandchild, Edward Gibbens, Sudbury.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. Scott, who is indeed entitled to membership in Andy Clark's Neighbourly News Broadcast "Over Ninety" club.

FALL FAIR NOTES

From the consensus of opinion it would seem that Georgetown fair lived up to advance billing, and was on the whole highly satisfactory.

The renewed interest of the townspeople generally should give the fair board an ever higher mark to shoot at for another year. Already plans are being laid to co-operate with the 1944 board in an endeavour to put some of the constructive criticism of the judges and others into effect, and build up a bigger and better prize list.

The amplification system installed on the grounds by J. Banford & Son, of Stewarttown, was of an excellent type, and allowed the program to be announced both quickly and clearly.

We doubt if Georgetown Park ever looked better than it did on fair day, and credit for this is due to the town officials. We have a lovely park with its green level grounds and beautiful shade trees and it does not take much time to keep it in shape if done on a regular schedule.

No one, not even the kiddies, were more disappointed in the absence of the merry-go-round than the directors themselves. The truth of the matter is that the merry-go-round was in Millerton for the fair there on Friday, and the big wind and storm which went over that afternoon played havoc with the canvas and the top was ripped to ribbons.

J. A. Carroll, director of Agricultural Societies, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, was present for a while each day of the show. He was very much pleased with the fair and hoped its success would dispel any rumours that fall fairs were not necessary in war-time.

Mr. George C. Brown, of Norval, was the official umpire of the football games at the fair, and with his assistants as base umpires, handled the games to perfection and in accord with all laws.

Other visitors, noticed on fair-day were: J. E. Whitlock, Agricultural Representative, Milton; Mr. Nat. Guthrie, Mr. William Duckworth, M.P.P., and Mrs. Duckworth, Toronto; Mr. Stan Hall, M.P.P., Streetsville; Mrs. Minnie King, Montreal, who was visiting her niece, Mrs. F. R. Watson; Editor Arlof Dills of the Acton Free Press; Mr. Frank Holmes, Acton; Mrs. Bruce Mackenzie and Paul, Brampton; Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. MacLaren, Erin; Mrs. C. Junkin, Kenora, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson of Laurel, who also spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie, and Oscar Lerch and family, Puslinch.

Five exhibitors took part for the Eaton Special for bacon hogs. These hogs were shipped to the packers and will be graded on the rail. Those exhibiting were T. J. Brownridge, Fred Shortill, Harding Price, and Wm. Ball, Weston.
