CAN WE LIVE TO BE A 147?

Yes, says Berge Voronoff, noted rejuvenation wizard, in an exclusive interview in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Oct. 31) issue of The

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leslie's Home is Scene of Presentation

A large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leslie on Friday night to offer good wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Bishop. Mrs. Bishop is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Leslie.

The Rev. Leonard Self was chairman and the programme was begun with O Canada. After a brief chairman's remarks, Miss Nora Cleave and Miss Alva Cripps played a couple of duets. Miss Cripps sang "Bless this House". Miss Nora Lyons and Mrs. L. Self each gave piano selections and Mr. Carson Watson played his guitar and mouthorgan.

Mrs. L. Thompson and Mr. E. Loughlin made fitting remarks and Mrs. Leslie Young read the following address:

"We gather tonight, Christine and Bud, to offer congratulations and sincere good wishes to you both. Though you are perhaps a little beyond the physical bounds of our community we do hope that we shall still be included among your neighbours—to be helpful when the unavoidable clouds appear and to rejoice with you when, shall we say, the equally unavoidable silver lining appears.

We do hope that you will feel included in our community activities in the future days.

We do not need to itemize your good deeds Christine. For one thing, they are far too numerous for that, and for another, they are well-known to one and another of us.

And Bud, though our acquaintance with you has not been over so long a period, you are already well-known among us for one great deed—your choice of Christine to be your partner and helper. We do sincerely welcome you into our midst.

For the future "May God Bless Your Home . . . Health, Happiness and Prosperity", and in offering our good wishes in these gifts we say:

Each of us has a part in this
And in these wishes, too,
For lots of special happiness
In future days for you."

Signed on behalf of the community: Jean Thompson, Dorothy Cook, Ben Young, Alex McLeod.

Gertrude Watson, Clifford Cook, Eric Leslie, Howard Dobson, and Hugh Clarke presented the bride and groom with a desk, and chair and bookcase. Bud and Christine both replied in well chosen words.
Mr. C. Anderson offered good wishes.
