JOINT BANQUET OF CANADIAN LEGION AND LADIES AUXILIARY GALA EVENT

assisted by Mrs. P. McCartney, Mrs. H. Shapard and Mrs. Murphy. Members of the Legion waited on tables in a style and manner all their own.

After a ten minute recess while the room was being cleared, Private Robb entertained with several selections on the bagpipes.

The entertainment which followed was in charge of a group of members of the Armed Forces, Platoon 10, No. 24, C.A.B.T.C. from Brampton, and their performance was well received by all present.

The program opened with a recitation and comic patter very ably rendered by R. S. M. McCallum; two songs by Cpl. Johnny Murden were very well received by the audience. Johnny has a very pleasing tenor voice and his rendition of "White Cliffs of Dover", brought the house down; Gunner George Dukes followed with patter and a song very well done. Mrs. Hewitt, accompanied on the piano.

A short skit entitled "Hats" by one of the boys was cleverly enacted and many a laugh followed as he was assisted in his skit by other members of the party.

Something unusual was presented by Johnny Murden when he sang "O Sol O Mio". Not making any gestures he was accosted by a pal who rolled up his sleeves and putting them under the arms of Johnny made the gestures. This was very well done.

The "Needle Gag" by Corp. Bud Davis was well put on. The star of the evening was the "Strin Tease Artist". "Black" entered the room dressed as a lady with a large hat adorned with ostrich feathers and his dancing and disrobing could not have been better done by "Gipsy Rose Lee". The entire company marched in and the "Finale" was a song and dance number with audience assisting in the singing.

Lt. Pollard was accompanist for the evening assisted by Mrs. Hewitt.

On behalf of the cast, Sgt. Burke thanked the Legion for the invitation to appear in Georgetown.

Following the entertainment, a short time was spent in dancing to the music of Mrs. Mary E. Morrow, of Georgetown and Mr. John Nickell of Limehouse.

An Open Letter to the Town Council!

Georgetown, Ontario, November 8th, 1943.

An open letter to The Town Council, Georgetown, Ont.

Dear Sirs:
At the council's meeting on November 1st, 1943, a deputation of two teen-aged girls appeared (voluntarily?) as evidence against me on behalf of the Reeve, Norman Brown. The charge was "offensive conduct towards women". Note the word "offensive" which is defined as "disgusting, annoying." No effort was made to contact me for my appearance at the meeting. Through oblique autocritical methods I was tried, convicted and sentenced and the results published in various papers without my knowing it until I read the accounts myself.

I find this minority attempt to disparage my conduct so unjustified that I believe the whole matter should be brought before the public before it goes any further.

It has been tried to make it appear that while on duty I make it a habit of trying to drive women home in the town truck. These are the facts. At close to 3 a.m. I overtook the two girls as they were walking down Mill Road. Wondering who they were I stopped the truck and asked them where they lived. They answered that they lived by the paper mill, and as I was going down as far as the mill myself, I asked them if they would care for a lift. They declined the offer.

Because of this, you, the council, saw fit to refuse me the use of the truck in the future. But let me say this—

As a policeman I have certain duties to perform. One of these is checking up on all persons, male or female, at such hours of the morning, especially young girls of their age. You will find that in most towns they would be ordered home in a hurry or else taken to the police station to give an account of themselves.

It has been stated, by using "hearsay evidence", that I have been offensive to others in this manner. But let me state that I challenge council to prove such statements.

In using "hearsay evidence" (which is not even allowed in a court of law), as a base to censure and ostracize the character of the writer, the guilty among you will find this is a dangerous procedure and can very well lead to a suit of libel with the questioning of and the publicity of your own peccability.

Further to this letter, the idea of a constable trying to patrol an area as large as this with a population of close to 3000 without the aid of a vehicle is not only stupid but impossible.

Yours truly,
O. J. Fortye,
Night Constable

THE CHARTERED BANKS of Canada keep abreast of the Dominion's expanding needs.

Six times since 1870 the Bank Act under which the Chartered Banks operate has been revised by parliament—six times in that period the activities of the banks have been carefully scrutinized by the people's representatives.

Every ten years the Bank Act has been thus revised. Each one of the six decennial revisions has contributed much to the evolution of the banking system to meet the expanding needs of a developing Dominion.

In 1934 the sixth revision of the Bank Act was made. Fifty members of the House of Commons made up the committee, which examined witnesses—among them bank officers, government officials and reformers—and studied exhibits filed by various individuals and organizations. Findings were submitted to the House, and later that year the Bank Act was revised in many important particulars.

Through democratic equity and decision, the Canadian banking system has grown and been adjusted to meet the needs of the people, providing a depositary for savings and a sound basis for Canada's free economic development.
