

HALTON HOLSTEINS ON HONOR LIST

Four Halton County Holsteins are prominently mentioned in the Annual Honor List just issued by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, in Canada, in which recognition is given to the outstanding producers of the past year. Three of these are owned by W. S. Hall, and one by E. J. Meagher, both of Oakville. Shady Elms Queen Bessie Koba, the property of Mr. Meagher, headed the class for junior four-year olds in the twice-a-day milking section of the yearly division for both milk and butterfat with her production of 771 lbs. butterfat from 20,214 lbs. milk. This is, incidentally the fourth largest butterfat record ever completed in this class in Canada.

The three Hall animals listed all made their records in the twice-a-day milking section of the 305-day division. In the senior four-year-old class Abbecker Pabst was second for butterfat with 637 lbs. from 16,601 lbs. milk while Cedar Dale Man-O-War Ella was fifth for butterfat with 596 lbs. from 14,539 lbs. milk. Oakhill Clearmont Alice was third for butterfat amongst the junior two-year-olds with 489 lbs. from 13,214 lbs. milk.

To gain a place on the Honor List an animal must have completed a Record of Performance test during 1943 that rated among the top five made in any part of the Dominion in its class for either milk or butterfat.

WHERE IS YOUR DOUBLE?

Every one has a double somewhere. English bottles came upon a suicide they mistook for Mussolini. A Scotchman is the "spittin' image" of Mahatma Gandhi. TERRA COTTA

There was a gloom of sadness in our village on Saturday afternoon, February 12th, when the sad news was received that Mr. James McLeod passed away to his long home from which no wanderer ever returns. Deceased was a resident of Terra Cotta all his life and will be sadly missed by everyone as he was everybody's friend. The only remaining member of the family is a brother, John McLeod in Manitoba. Deceased had been going around as usual although not feeling very well. He never was known to complain and was found dead in bed. He was in his 81st year. The late Mr. McLeod was for many years the Terra Cotta correspondent for the Herald. The funeral took place from the residence of his cousin, W. F. Hunter on the 5th fine on Tuesday afternoon. The services were very ably conducted by Rev. J. L. Self of Norval. Interment was in Boston Cemetery. Pall bearers were Fred Lyons, Norman Icam, Leslie Icam, W. J. Rutledge, Joseph McBride and A. McDonald. Some years ago when regular services were held at Terra Cotta Methodist Church, deceased was a regular attendant.

A number of our citizens are confined to their rooms with colds. Hope they will soon be able to be around again as usual.

We are also sorry to report the sudden passing of the late Olive Harber of Toronto last week. Miss Harber prior to her removal to Toronto had been for a number of years a highly respected resident of Terra Cotta and we all join in extending our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family, in their sad loss of a kind and loving sister.

Miss Frances Rutledge met with a painful accident on Monday morning last. While coming down the stairs carrying a glass pitcher, she fell and nearly had her thumb severed, which required medical attention. We are pleased to hear that the injured member is healing nicely and we hope she will soon be able to resume her duties again as usual.

We are also pleased to learn that Mrs. J. Eaves, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is now on the mend and we all here hope soon to hear of her complete recovery.

We are all sorry to learn that Mr. Jas. Marchmont had to be removed to Christie Street Hospital for treatment. We also hope soon to hear of his complete recovery.

SICK OF IT

So you're sick of the way the country's run.
And you're sick of the way the rationing's done.
And you're sick of standing around in line.
You're sick, you say, Well, ain't that fine?
For I'm sick of the sun and the heat,
And I'm sick of the feel of my aching feet,
And sick of the siren's wailing shriek.
And I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak.
I'm sick of the slaughter, I'm sick to my soul,
I'm sick of playing the Killer's role.
And I'm sick of the groans of death and the smell.
And I'm sick, damned sick, of myself as well.
But I'm sicker still of a tyrant's rule,
And conquered lands where the wild beasts drool;
And I'm cured damned quick when I think of the day
When all this hell will be out of the way;
When none of this mess will have been in vain
And the lights of the world will blaze again,
And the Axis flags will be dipped and furled

Wood cutting is still the order of the day.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. A. Dolson has been able to return to her home at Union again much improved in health.

Terra Cotta came nearly having a serious fire one day last week, while Mr. C. Higgins, our local truck man built a fire under his car to clean out the oil and the truck was close to his residence and soon the flames were sweeping high. Mrs. Stringer, who noticed the fire first, gave the alarm and a number of willing workers were soon on hand and formed a bucket brigade and soon had the fire under control. Had it spread to some of the adjacent buildings, Main Street might have been laid in ashes. What our burgh needs is a better fire protection.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral of the late James McLeod were Mrs. J. Dunn, Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Hunter of Toronto, and Mrs. Lovell of Aitton.

Some of your griefs you have cured,
And the sharpest you still survived,
But what torrents of pain you endured,

THE GREAT BRITAIN YOU TRULY ARE

• They have said she is isolated by the enveloping sea. But she has used it to join the hands of millions.

They have said she is fortified only by ships. They err. She is fortified by the strong hearts of her sons.

Proud in arms, with a mighty heart, Great Britain has withstood a thousand storms, and will again. For hers is the strength of millions whose valour springs from a birthright of freedom.

Mother of parliaments, they call her . . . champion of justice and right.

We of her soil and of her blood and of her tutelage say this today: the world is in her debt for the part she has played in yesterday's eras of peace and progress. It will be so in the peace and progress to come.

We of Canada salute the Great Britain you truly are!
