

Council Ask Preparation of Town Curfew By-Law

Solicitor Reports on Smoke By-Law Discuss Purchase New Town Truck

The regular meeting of Town Council for March was held in the Municipal Building on Monday evening. Mayor Harold Cleave presided, with Reeve K. B. MacDonald, and Councilors W. P. Thompson, C. Bradley, G. McGilvray, J. T. Armstrong, S. W. Orr and T. Lyons present. Clerk P. B. Harrison read the minutes of the last meeting, which were confirmed.

Town Solicitor K. M. Langdon reported on the Smoke By-Law. He stated that Mr. Justice Kellogg, of Toronto, had handed down a decision against the Town in their action against the Georgetown Clay Products in regards to the smoke nuisance in the King Street area. In giving his decision, the presiding officer stated that the Town in passing the smoke by-law had been confused by the interpretation of two sections of the Municipal Act. The by-law could not over-ride and clay plants in municipalities, and therefore the decision went in favor of the defendant with total costs. It is estimated that the Smoke By-Law cost the Town in the neighborhood of $400.00 to try out.

The letter from the Local Council of Women in regards to a curfew for Georgetown was again brought before the meeting. After the pros and cons had been thoroughly discussed a second vote motion was passed asking that a curfew by-law be prepared and presented at the next regular meeting of Council. Yeas—Armstrong, McGilvray, Lyons, MacDonald and Thompson; Nays—Cleave, Bradley and Orr.

Much time was spent on discussing the possibilities of purchasing a town truck with snow-plow attachment for doing town work. While all were agreed the need for such a truck was there, some took the attitude that this year wasn't the opportune time to purchase if the council hoped to stay within the budget brought down at the first of the year. Others contended that if it was a good thing for the town next year, it was a good thing this year, and after an hour's bickering it was decided to leave the matter over for further discussion at a further meeting.

Six applications were received for the position of night constable for Georgetown. Council decided to interview a number of the applicants at a special meeting to be held in two weeks' time.

It was also decided to advertise for a piece of land outside the municipality suitable for a garbage dump.

The town auditor had submitted his typewritten report for the past year, also at the next meeting, due to the lateness of the hour.

On recommendation of Prof. H. L. Hutt, council decided to forward a letter to 'Hughes Cleaver, M. P., asking that some of the trees beautifying our Post Office building be removed while they could still be transplanted, in order that others may be allowed to grow to their proper size.

FARMERS URGED BY W. F. T. B. TO ORDER FERTILIZER EARLY

From the fertilizer manufacturers comes a warning that unless farmers will order and take delivery of their fertilizer early, they may not get it in time for use. This is due to labour problems and to the fact that more farmers are buying more fertilizer than formerly.

If the spring season is a short one, a situation will confront the fertilizer manufacturers with respect to labour and transportation, which may be beyond their overtaxed capacity to handle. The wise farmer will see to it that his fertilizer supply is safely stored in his barn before this spring rush begins.

Of course, care must be exercised in storing it. Bags should be placed on either a thick layer of straw or a false bottom floor and piled as one pile cordwood, thus leaving plenty of air space between the bags. It should be stored in a dry place and in reasonably small piles, if possible.

Farmers will safeguard their own interests and help the general situation greatly if they will buy and take delivery of their fertilizer requirements in the very near future.

Social and Personal

Archdeacon and Mrs. Andrew of Toronto, formerly of Honan, China, their son LAC Douglas, and Dr. and Mrs. George Paul of Toronto, spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Paul. Archdeacon Andrew was present at the evening service at St. George's Church last Sunday, and very kindly consented to speak to the congregation, at the request of the rector, Venerable W. G. O. Thompson.

His many friends will be glad to hear that Alex Greg, is coming along nicely after a major operation. He is in Private Patients Pavilion, Toronto General Hospital.

Origin and Early History of Lorne Scots Band Discussed

The Editor:
Georgetown Herald.

In reading a recent edition I noticed quite a write up on the Present Brass Band, (Lorne Scots). I might say that since that edition of your paper I received some information dating back to the beginning of the Band, which I take pleasure in submitting to you for publication, as I am of the opinion the early pioneers should be announced and given the credit they deserved for starting such an organization.

G. McCALLUM

It was the last of June 1930 when a discussion arose between the late Anson Thurston and E. R. Magloughlin as to why we could not have a Brass Band in this town where there were so many old bandsmen in town and vicinity.

With this in mind a notice was published in the local paper for a meeting in the Town Hall for July 3rd. As per usual no one asked for the hall from the proper authorities, and consequently when the members arrived, the hall was being used by some one else. Therefore a secondary place was necessary and the meeting was held in E. R. Magloughlin's Barber Shop, with eighteen members present, and the idea was received with great interest.

Cyril Brandford and Thomas Eason were playing with Brampton Band at the time and were a bit cautious of leaving them but advised they would do what they thought right with the home town Band if we could get a going organization.

Then an election of officers was put forth and Ken McDonald was chosen first President, E. R. Magloughlin, Secretary and the late Anson Thurston as Treasurer, with a variance from other Bands of around $7.00 to start with.

The question of a bandmaster was discussed and as Cyril Brandford and Thos. Eason, as mentioned before knew A. H. Perrott personally, they recommended him and consequently Ken McDonald, A. Thurston, E. R. Magloughlin went with Cyril Brandford and Thos. Eason to see Mr. Perrott. His salary was fixed at $35.00 per month or $420.00 per year and he would give one rehearsal to prove his ability, that was July 10th, 1930. On July 17th, 1930, Mr. Perrott began what was and still is a very worth while organization.

A few short weeks later they decided to have a Sunday night concert in the park. It was a lovely night and a good crowd came to hear as you might say Thomkin's Corners Band in action. One highlight of the concert was the lack of cornets. I believe they had on the list Ernie and Albert Simson, Jack Armstrong, Reuben Eason and Joseph Carter on cornets, at that time in the Band, but for some reason the Simson Bros. were unable to get there and left the solo concert to one man, Jack Armstrong as Jos. Carter and Reuben Eason were playing 1st and 2nd cornet at that time.

However the concert went along very well, without many noticeable breakdowns. The silver collection taken at this concert was a very important feature, and added to the amount begged from the merchants and other generous people. It made it possible to pay the Bandmaster's salary and with the very generous help of the Robert Simpson Co. who sent out a group of talented entertainers from their store and put on the program for a garden party. They also provided the tickets, the result was the band received over $90.00 for their first concert's performance. This of course was a great encouragement and in early winter a program was arranged for the Gregory Theatre on a Sunday night and I believe it was at this concert, A. C. Herbert was asked to join the Band, which he did, starting on a cornet.

A great many of the instruments were either in need of repair and another problem was they were in what they call main tune. This of course was out of date and consequently they were sent for repair. The putting in low pitch of course costs money and by the end of the year 1930 they had spent over $800 and had received around $400. This was an awful scare to the new event, which was formed early in 1931. Officers being A. Herbert, president, Harry Hale, Vice President, Cyril Brandford, Sec-Treas. Thos. Eason and E. R. Magloughlin finance committee. Spending most money on new instruments and when the C. N. E. arrived they competed in Class C, 1931 not lost as stated two weeks ago, and received first prize, $400 cash, a silver cup and a Bronze medal each, for the 24 players taking part, also the win gave them the title Regimental Band Spirit was high now, not only among the Band members but the public were solidly behind them and at the close of the year's business, a total of over $1600. had been received and spent.

Officers elected for 1932 were Harry Hale, president, Art Herbert, Vice-President, Wilfrid Leslie, Sec-Treas., E. R. Magloughlin and Wilfrid Gill, finance committee. In 1932 in the contest at the C.N.E. they won 3rd prize, or
