

So for this year, Long Distance calling is almost 10 per cent. heavier than in 1943, when toll calls set an all-time high.

So it is obvious why we must all continue to avoid needless Long Distance calls. Otherwise, pressing war business may be seriously delayed. And such delays can cost lives!

Please make only necessary calls.

"As We See It"

(By J. A. Strang)

LISTENING TO THE rural editors on the Ontario Panorama program on Thursday evenings, or while reading the rural weeklies these days, we cannot very well but feel proud of the smaller localities throughout our Province. When the cities discuss post-war programs they apparently base their ideas on how much help they will be able to get from the Dominion Government and their idea of the amount of that help that they expect to get isn't small at all. However it is quite different out in the smaller communities. They figure on some improvements that will help take up the expected slack in employment after the war and they never think of asking Ottawa to help out at all but they are either purchasing Victory Bonds to finance the proposed project or are arranging some other local mode of supplying the where-with-all to meet those post war project expenses. Many of us at times admire some fancy, this, that, or the other thing, that we see in the cities but when we recall that we ourselves helped pay for it through our contributions to the Government strong box it changes the out-look altogether. It is very easy to make improvements if we can arrange to have someone else provide the funds to do so but on the other hand we imagine we would think more of those improvements if we had paid the whole shot ourselves. It is not unlike the small boy that gets a baseball bat handed to him as a present. He doesn't take as good care of that bat as he would have had he to hoe turnips or cut grass to earn the money to purchase it.

EXAMINATION TIME has arrived once more. It is so easy to congratulate those successful students and yet it is the ones that fail to make the grade that really need the encouragement. We sometimes forget that it is no disgrace to fail and so often we find that failures are responsible for so many later on becoming a real success in their particular line. In fact many of us would never have amounted to very much had we never failed. We have only to think of Dieppe along with the present invasion to prove that point. We suppose that most students would like to be the one in their class with the best marks. In fact most parents would like to see their children attain those honors or perhaps win some scholarship if there is one available. We always feel sorry for the student that is unfortunate enough to win a scholarship. The winner of such honors is always expected to be more clever than any one else ever afterwards and naturally they sometimes fail to keep up that record. The whole trouble is they have so much farther to fall than has the ordinary student that just gets by. We often recall an incident of our own. When going to school we had as a class mate a young man from Brantford who wasn't too good at Mathematics. It so happened that we were good at that subject and this young man would come to our room at night and we would coach him with Mathematics. He made fair progress and at the final Examination he was good enough to get every question correct. We hadn't

SPOTLIGHT

Singing of romance is one of the Latin American specialists of Alys Robl French-Canadian radio star, who is currently featured in the variety program, "In the Spotlight". She gets down to business and sings "Amor, Amor, Amor" in this week's broadcast, to be heard Sunday, June 18, at 7.30 p.m. EDT, 8.30 p.m. ADT over CBC's Trans-Canada Network.

studied too hard on that subject ourselves and we missed two trick questions. However we did get more kick out of our friend's success than we would have had we gotten every question ourselves. If any unsuccessful student happens to read these lines we do hope that they will buckle in and work all the harder next term and profit by their so-called failure as so many of us have done in the past.

ACTON

It would have heartened the boys overseas to have seen the congregation which filled the auditorium of Knox Church on Tuesday night in a service of prayer for their success on invasion day and the hard days ahead. Mason Knitting Company Limited are adding a new drying room to their plant and have also added some additional knitting machines this week. Angelo Frattolozzo was fined $15.00 and costs in police court yesterday on a charge of careless driving. The case arose out of an accident on Main Street last Thursday evening. The contract for insulating the upper room of the Public School was given J. B. Mackenzie & Son at a cost of $275 for an insulation of two inches thick.—Free Press.

NORVAL

It's coming — THE ROCKET EXPRESS! — promised by men who think of tomorrow

Just as the jet propelled fighting plane has come today, the Rocket Express will be here tomorrow, carrying scores of passengers through the stratosphere from Montreal to Mandalay faster than you would have dreamed possible. Luxurious, air-conditioned, sound-proofed, this jet propelled transport will regularly fly the airways of the world in a not too distant future... thanks to the work of Men Who Think of Tomorrow!

Great as is the gift which air transportation has made to the world today... bringing the peoples of the world closer together, expediting business and industry, bringing new mobility and therefore new opportunity to millions... a still greater future in the air lies ahead of us, being planned today by MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW!

• But let us not look so far ahead that we cannot see the barrier which stands before us today. There is a war to win... first! And the winning of the war calls for every ounce of energy that we, as a nation and as individuals, can muster.

• Look to tomorrow, yes. But today... stick to the job of producing for war, cooperate with every government program designed to help win the war, buy Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates with every last dollar.

• That's the way to make sure that Canada will have its future.

• Let's all be MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW!

THE HOUSE OF SEAGRAM

All Seagram plants in Canada and the United States are engaged in the production of high-proof alcohol to help speed the war to a victorious end. High-proof Alcohol for War is used in Smokeless Powder, Plastics and many other wartime products.
