 A WELCOME FOR THE NEWCOMERS

English brides of Canadian Soldiers are eagerly looking forward to making their homes in a new country after the war. Writing to the Tyers family, Mrs. Thomas Parry, the most recent English girl to marry one of our local soldiers, is excited about the prospects of meeting her husband's friends over here, and we can assure her that Georgetown folk are just as anxious to welcome her to a new home. At the same time, when the hour of parting comes, we know there will be sad thoughts as homeland and dear ones are left behind, perhaps forever.

With this in mind, there will be consolation in the fact that there is no more ideal location for the dozen or more girls who will come to Georgetown with their soldier-husbands, than right here in Georgetown. Transplanted plants root best in their own soil, and there is a touch of England in landscape, especially so in Glen Williams, with its neat cottages, hedgerows and picket fences, with winding roads, streams and hills. There is more than a touch of England in Georgetown's population which is of predominantly British extraction and where every other home has parents, brothers and sisters, uncles, aunts and cousins over there with whom they are in touch. Mrs. Parry, whose home is in Bournemouth, Hampshire, will undoubtedly find others in town from the same locality and from these we know she will get a warm welcome. There will be no lack of things to talk about, and this will be of inestimable help in welcoming the shyness and nostalgia which is bound to be in the heart of a new arrival.

We hope that readers, and most especially those who themselves have had to adjust themselves to life in a new country, will go all out to give the newcomer a warm welcome. A cherry word, a friendly smile, a sincere "glad to meet you" will be the proper welcome for the Mesdames Parry, Tennant, Graham, Brown, Lorusso and Reeve. To you, ladies, the welcome mat is already out. In the language of your new homeland "We'll be seein' ya"—and soon, we hope.

WAR VICTIMS AND SOLDIERS' COMFORTS

This district has always played its part in worthy efforts, and readers need no reminder of the splendid support given to Victory Loan drives, campaigns for Red Cross, Russian and Chinese Relief, salvage drives and farm Commando help. It seems that citizens are always willing to dig down deep when approached by canvassers, and campaign after campaign has gone over the top with a bang.

But there is an even more marked indication of this brotherly spirit, in the two funds sponsored by this newspaper. Nothing has given the publisher more pleasure than to see the War Victims' Fund and the Soldiers' Comforts Fund soar past the four figure mark. There has been no solicitation and no compulsion—every penny has been a free-will offering from those who have thoughts for people less fortunate than ourselves, and for men who are playing their part that we may enjoy Canadian freedom.

In the months ahead, there is no limit to what can be accomplished by your support of these Funds. German robot bombs have added new hardship to a Britain which bears the scars made by man-propelled birds of destruction. Every day, Britishers are losing their homes and possessions and looking to a helping hand from this side of the water. The Evening Telegram Fund, with which the Herald is affiliated, sends the complete total overseas, and there are absolutely no deductions made for expenses from monies so collected. The Soldiers' Comforts Fund works on similar lines, and goes intact to the good ladies of the Committee who send cigarettes and packages to all district men and women overseas. You can imagine what these gifts mean to those far from home, and we can't think of any better use for an extra quarter or dollar than as a free-will expression of gratitude to the ones who are giving all.

BONUSING BABIES

The proposed payment of allowances for children, announced by Prime Minister King in Parliament recently is perhaps one of the most important items which has been advanced by the present administration. Much of the comment in the daily press has been unfavourable. There are charges that the estimated costs of two hundred million dollars will throw our economy out of gear; that the average man will be in the same

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers: This is a week to give thanks for your garden efforts. This weather makes people hanker for salads and for long cool drinks made of fruit juices. It certainly is lucky that there are lots of makings of both in the market now.

Berries, for instance, can be used to make a delicious juice, steeped in water. It is good combined with any of the other stewed strained fruits—rhubarb for instance will add flavour and tartness, or orange juice may sweeten the beverage. Iced tea makes a good base for a fruit drink, too. The tea will make the juice go farther.

There are all kinds of vegetables now that are better in salads than in purées. Why not gather an assortment of fresh vegetables—enough for lettuce, carrot sticks, onion rings, radishes goes well with scrambled eggs, boiled potatoes and some hot corn muffins. Put a tall glass of combination fruit juices beside each plate—and your family won't complain that they are too hot to eat.

CHERRY PUNCH

1 cup water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup cherry juice, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup grapefruit juice, 1 quart ginger ale. Make a syrup of sugar and water; boil 5 min. Cool. Prepare fruit juices; strain. Add syrup and ginger ale or ice water, just before serving. Serve with ice and garnished with cherries.

SPECIAL SUPPER SALAD

1 cup cooked, diced potato, 1/2 cup minced onion, 1/2 cup grated carrot, 1/2 cup minced green pepper, 1 cup string beans, 1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. chili powder, 2 tbs. vinegar, the salad oil, 1 cup salad croutons, lettuce. Mix vinegar, seasoning, oil and croutons together. Add to vegetables and toss together. Serve in a bowl lined with lettuce.

COLOUR SALAD

1 1/2 cups grated raw carrots, 1 1/2 cups grated raw beets, 1 1/2 cups shredded raw cabbage, 1 1/2 cups minced raw spinach, salad dressing. Arrange lettuce leaves on individual serving plates and arrange beets and carrots in lightly piled mounds on opposite sides of plates. In between, place mounds of spinach and cabbage. Place slices of seasoned hard cooked egg and sprig of parsley in centre. Chill in electric refrigerator. Serve with boiled dressing to which some vegetable juices have been added.

BOILED SALAD DRESSING

1 1/2 cups milk, scalded, 1 cup milk, cold, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tbs. mustard, 1 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. pepper and cayenne, 1/2 cup flour, 1 egg, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1 tb. butter. Mix dry ingredients and combine with cold milk, stirring until smooth. Add slowly to scalded milk in the top of a double boiler and stir till thickened. Cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat eggs, add vinegar and Worcestershire sauce. Stir egg mixture slowly into milk mixture. Cook and add butter. Store in a glass jar.

Take a Tip

1. Do not mishandle fresh greens. Wash under running water and place on clean towel, fold and shake gently.
2. Do not add too much salt to prepared greens or they will wilt as salt draws out the juices.
3. Vegetable juice may be added to boiled dressing instead of oil. To obtain the juices, grate carrots, beets or onion. Put in a piece of cheese cloth and wring out the juice.
4. It is desirable for both attractiveness and flavour to leave a small green leaf on the top of the radishes.

The Question Box

Mrs. E. L. asks: How can you account for the loss of two jars of peas out of seven which were processed in a pressure cooker on a small electric element turned to medium—the peas were from the same fresh batch?

Answer: The cooker should have been placed on the large electric element instead of the small one because the one side might not have been receiving the same amount of heat. The jars should not be placed in a draft to cool. The two jars may have cooled too quickly.

Mrs. S. T. asks: Is it possible to stack tin cans when processing? Answer: Yes, but be sure there is sufficient space around the sides, over and under them. Racks in the form of strips of shingles may be used under and over the cans, but the space around the sides should be about two inches.

MILTON

John Marshall, life-long resident and former Clerk of Nassagaweya Township passed away on Tuesday in his ninety-second year.

Rifleman Donald Alexander Wilson, who was last week reported as missing in action June 11th, has now been reported killed in action on that date.

Trafalgar Township Council Monday night unanimously passed a motion endorsing the $100,000 campaign now under way for the Oakville-Trafalgar Memorial Hospital.

The Board of Trade met on Tuesday evening with a good attendance. It was decided to have the playground in Victoria Park and the opening is expected around the beginning of July.—Champion.

position as before, because tax deductions for children will be lowered and what he receives will be paid right back in increased income tax; that family allowance will favour French-Canadians and citizens of foreign birth, who are more prolific than those of British origin; that Canada is, like a Fascist country, encouraging the mass-production of children for future wars; and finally, that the Liberal Government is playing politics and looking for votes in a not-too-far-off election.

No question can be one-sided, and we do not completely disagree with any of the arguments advanced by the daily press. We do believe there are arguments on the other side, however, which bear consideration. Regardless of the reasons for the proposed "baby bonus", it is indicative of the inability of industry to make allowances for children. A man is no more valuable to an employer if he is married or single, has one child or four. His salary is based on what he is worth to the firm, and this worth has no relation to his family life. Similarly, the employer himself gets a certain return from his business, and his profits also bear no relation to the number of children he can afford to raise.

This fact has been realized in our army. Although a corporal or a sergeant or a lieutenant is worth no more as such when he becomes a father, the Government increases the allowance to his wife in order that her standard of living will not suffer. The passing of a family allowance bill would be merely the extension of this principal to include all citizens. It is one step further in the realization that the raising of children is a national, as well as a personal obligation. For many years it has been readily accepted that every taxpayer pays a school tax, and childless taxpayers thus have a share in educating other peoples' children. The day may not be far off when childless taxpayers will also pay a small share in bringing up the nation's children.

Provided the measure is properly drafted, we believe "the bonusing babies" act would be a good thing for Canada. It has been truly said that a nation's true wealth is its children and it is also a deplorable fact that Canada's birthrate, in the English Provinces especially, has been too low these past years in comparison with other countries.

BRAMPTON

The wild rice plants which are gradually spoiling the batting and boating in the Credit River at Huttonville will be cleared away this Saturday, it was decided at a meeting of Huttonville cottage owners last week end.

W. O. John R. Bingham, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bingham, 106 Main St. S., has been listed as missing, according to a message from the Dept. of National Defence.

Residents of Peel County are advised to be on the lookout for Elton Neal, 21, who escaped from Langstaff Asylum at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday. Neal is 5 ft. 9 one half inches tall, weight, 150 lbs., has fair hair and a fair complexion. When last seen he was wearing blue overalls and a blue work shirt. This man is very dangerous.

Two men and a woman will appear in court Monday, charged with the attempted theft of a fur coat from the Brampton Fur Store, 33 Queen St. E., late Saturday afternoon.

The happy shouts of children gave proof this week that the swimming pool in Rosalee Park was open and in use. The pool was opened to the public on Tuesday afternoon.—Conservation.
