This is a special flash to school children. How is your Victory Garden? Remember the Victory Garden displays for the fair, and be sure to have some rare specimens saved for this exhibit.

Liberals across Canada will join August 7th in celebrating the 25th anniversary of Prime Minister King's leadership of the Liberal Party, it was announced by the National Liberal Federation. Mr. King was chosen leader August 7th, 1919.

It is to be hoped that the ladies read the advanced prize list of Ladies' York and Domestic Science, published in the Herald two weeks ago, and that they are planning an entry in these classes. Prize money has been greatly increased.

The Consumers' Branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board will have an exhibit at Georgetown Fair this year. Any local organizations desiring space in the hall should get in touch with the Secretary as soon as possible as the space will be at a premium this year.

Miss Mary Cummins is in Harrisburg, Penn., U.S.A. this week with the Laurel Ladies' Athletic Club of Toronto. They competed in the United States Championship Games where Mary placed third in the 200 metre sprint, and the Laurel Ladies' Relay team came third in the championship relay race. Canada's Oldest Agricultural Fairs

With the opening of the 1944 schedule of Agricultural Fairs in Canada comes a reminder that these fairs are among the Dominion's oldest institutions. Arrangements are being made to celebrate this year, the centenary of the fairs at Vankeek Hill, Ont., and Richmond, Ont.

The first organized agricultural fair in Canada was held at Windsor, Nova Scotia in 1765-179 years ago, and at Pictou, N. S., the first fair there was held 127 years ago. In Ontario the Niagara Agricultural Society held a fair in 1791. In 1822 what was then considered a great fair was held at Queenston, Ont. It was intended to be the first all-province fair. The records disclose that "the fair was inconveniently crowded."

For the centenary celebration of the Vankeek Hill Fair a special program is being planned. The first feature of this program, the planting of evergreen trees in the fair grounds took place recently. It was part of a general beautification and improvement plan. The Vankeek Hill Fair started in 1884 under the name of the County of Prescott Agricultural Society. It is interesting to note that the first fair ended with a credit balance of three pounds (sterling) and seven shillings. English currency was used in Canada at that time.

In 1844 agriculture was not very extensively developed in the Vankeek Hill district, but now it is a progressive town in one of the most prosperous farming sections of Ontario.

Richmond, a village about 20 miles from Ottawa, takes its name after the 4th Duke of Richmond, the same Duke, who with his wife, the Duchess, gave the famous ball in Brussels, Belgium, on the night before the Battle of Waterloo, June 18, 1815.

The Duke died of hydrophobia in a barn near Richmond, Ont., on August 28, 1819, the result of a bite from a pet fox.

The agricultural fair in Canada has been a great factor in social and economic progress. After the war it will probably be bigger and better than ever.

HYDRO Lightens The Way!

Ready to serve . . . 24 hours a day

● In the early days of commercial flying, hours of daylight were far too short. The mantle of night automatically cancelled flying schedules. But . . . because electrical engineers discovered ways and means of flooding runways with light . . . swift couriers of the air tonight are cutting hours off time, carrying precious burdens of humanity and vital correspondence that may mean the saving of thousands of dollars before tomorrow's workday has been completed.

Electricity has not only helped to make flying economically sound, but with the aid of modern electronics, flying is safer. Today . . . tonight . . . airplanes are guided safely, surely on their course by a beam of electrical waves which electronics make possible. In every field of endeavor, as in the field of aviation, electricity stands ready to serve 24-hours a day.

The development of electrical devices in the field of aeronautics is but one indication of what lies ahead for the world of tomorrow. In the electrical field it can be truly said . . . the best is yet to come. Electricity is the servant of mankind. In commerce . . . in industry . . . at home and on the farm . . . it lightens our tasks, makes life more comfortable. Plan and save now, so that, when the day of peace arrives, you will be ready to enjoy more of the benefits that electricity can bring you.
