RADIO WON

English born Nancy Hanbury, of CBC's announce staff, satisfied her taste for the varied life through travel, acting, copywriting, and managing restaurants, until radio beckoned. That was in January, 1944, and since then Mrs. Hanbury has stayed close to the CBL "mike" in Toronto. Currently she is heard announcing "Styled for Saturday" on Saturdays, at 9:30 p.m. EDT, the recorded novelty, "Sweet Melody," on Sundays, at 3:15 p.m. and a number of daytime news and music features.

WONDER IF WE UNDERSTAND

We print the following letter which originally appeared in the Montreal (N.J.) "Times". We think it is well worth passing on.

Dear Jim and All:
It is pleasant to hear from you after such a long period of time, but is unpleasant to learn of your changing conditions of living which I can readily understand from the change of my own conditions.

It is too bad you are limited in the use of your automobile. I often walk through miles of swamp and mud. So I understand how you feel.

It is too bad to have your choice of food limited. I have experienced this, too, except that there is NO choice here. So I again understand.

It is too bad that Willie has to work so many hours a day at the defense plant. I have to work nights as well as day in our defense lines. So I can understand how he feels.

It is too bad John has so little amusement. I, too, am deprived of amusement. So I understand.

It is too bad you have to wait in the rain for transportation. I have to wait in the rain on post and often our transportation and destination is so uncertain. I know what it is to wait over here with enemy planes raining bombs down on us while others strafe us with machine gun fire. Yes, I can understand how troublesome it must be for you folks back home to have to wait in the rain for your street car.

It is too bad you are being paid so little for working so hard. We only get a fraction of what you folks get, so I know what it is like to be paid so little.
Winning this war is hard on all of us. You work long hours and so do I. So I understand. But during the long hours I work I GET SHOT AT. DO YOU UNDERSTAND?
Regards, TED.

Send us the news. Your co-operation is very necessary in order that we do not miss anything of interest in the community.

IMPORTS OF FURS UP

Since the introduction of the price fixing in 1941 until recently, imports of furs from the United States have been limited to one-third of the amount imported in 1941. From the time of the recent lifting of this restriction there has been a sharp increase in the entry into Canada of furs of all kinds, particularly of Persian lamb, which promises to be the leader for women's coats next winter. Pelts of this fur which come principally from South-west Africa and Persia, may sell from $1 to $15 each, depending on the gloss, sheen or tightness of the curl. To make a woman's Persian lamb coat of average size, requires about 30 pelts. But Persian lamb is an inexpensive fur compared with mink. Top grade mink pelts sold this year at a peak price of $58. Pelts of indifferent or poor quality were bought for around $4. It takes 80 pelts to make a mink coat and such a garment made of selected top grade pelts, would retail at around $7,500. With care such a coat would last more than the lifetime of the average person.

Among furs of strictly Canadian production mink, muskrat and silver fox are leaders. In recent years what are known as New Mutation types of silver fox have caused the sharpest changes in the field of production of this fur. Among the new types are the platinum, platinum silver, pearl platinum, white mark silver, glacier blue and arctic blue. Such pelts recently sold in Montreal at a top price of $300 each, but the average price in the high grade brackets ran from $125 to $250, though a low grade silver fox pelt may be bought for below $10. Muskrat of which Canada is a large producer, and the fur from which Hudson Seal coats are made, is always a ready seller. Pelts recently sold from $1 to about $3.50 each according to quality.

ATTENTION TO QUALITY

Mr. Ritchie says that those engaged in the fur production industry are now paying much more attention to quality. Since grading was introduced in 1941 on fur pelts for export it has caused an all round improvement in production. More attention is being paid to breeding and fur ranch management so as to get better pelts.

Before the war Britain marketed about 65 per cent of the output of Canadian silver fox pelts. Since 1939 that market has been closed and the United States market has been open for 70,000 pelts per year.

In 1939 Canada produced about 385,000 silver fox pelts. Last year the output was about 140,000 but of infinitely higher grade than in the pre-war years.

Just now there is a big demand for furs because people have money to buy them and with the shortage of trappers and help for the fur farms at a premium the supply is none too plentiful and the demand keen.

AMMUNITION FOR HUNTERS

Where gun registration certificates are dated Aug. 15, 1944, or later, applications for small arms ammunition for hunting purposes must be accompanied by a statement giving reasons for registration after date. W. H. McCrae, regional rationing superintendent for Wartime Prices and Trade Board, announces.

The quantity of ammunition available for hunters was based on the number of guns registered before Aug. 15. Sportsmen with guns registered before that date may make application for ammunition to their local ration board. When making application they must present their gun registration certificates and their ration book. Persons with guns registered after Aug. 15, in addition to presenting certificate and ration book, it is necessary to produce evidence that ammunition had not previously been secured by another person for the same gun, or that the gun had not simply been transferred to another person for the purpose of securing more ammunition.

When the hunter's application is accepted a permit to purchase ammunition is issued. Ammunition allowed will be 50 shells or 100 rim fire cartridges. No centre fire ammunition is available for sportmen.

See that G.S. badge on his arm? That means he's volunteered to fight anywhere in the world.

The Army needs more men like him—men who can take it—men with the courage to fight, so that their home, their loved ones—everything they cherish—may be free.

For this War is not over yet—we still have a lot of fighting to do. And our boys who are fighting over there will need the help of every red-blooded Canadian who is fit to fight, and willing to fight.

It will take months of thorough training to make you fighting-fit. That's why Canada's Army needs you NOW—and needs you for overseas service.
