Concrete Plans Being Made for Rehabilitation of District Soldiers

Local Committees Active—Sept. 25th Meeting will Further Post-War Planning—Toronto Official Recently Outlined Gov't Plans at Committee Meeting.

With three local committees, coordinated by an over-all committee to be known as the Georgetown Rehabilitation Council, active in plans for post-war rehabilitation of district soldiers, the Georgetown community is wisely planning early for the return to civil life of several hundred men in uniform from this district.

At a recent meeting in the Municipal Office, members of the three committees, representing Branch 120, Canadian Legion; Georgetown Council, and Georgetown Board of Trade gathered to discuss the forming of a central coordinating group and the Georgetown Rehabilitation Council was the result. Col. G. B. S. Cousens was in the chair and the guest speaker for the evening was Capt. J. A. Catto of Toronto, who was wounded at Dieppe and is now Veteran Welfare Officer for the Department of Pensions and National Health. Capt. Catto gave a concise and instructive summary of the benefits which returned men might expect to receive from the Government; and this was followed by a question period when those in attendance were given an opportunity to ask details of Government planning in this regard.

For the second half of the meeting, Mr. A. R. Speight of the Board of Trade took the chair. A nominating committee was appointed to submit a list of names representing all sections of the community to meet on Sept. 25th, when election of officers and permanent committees will take place. Members of the nominating committee are: Col. G. B. S. Cousens, Harold Stalford, K. R. MacDonald, Roy Bradley and Fred McCartney.

It is reported that a good response has been received by the Legion to the questionnaire sent some time ago to all district soldiers overseas. This information, coming as it does from the men most vitally affected in rehabilitation plans, will prove helpful in discussing problems and solutions for a speedy return to civil life for our soldiers.

Dunc. Tost Writes Home

Sgt. Mjr. Dunc. Tost, son of Mrs. Fred Tost, serving in France, has written home of his experiences when the R.A.F. mistakenly bombed out troops in Normandy. The letter speaks for itself, so without further comment, we print it below:

France, August 19, 1944

Hello Mom:
 How are you? I hope you're all well and O. K. I am sorry not to have written sooner, but it was impossible. I am very lucky to be alive and that after all, is the main issue. I am very nearly a nervous wreck, but things are getting normal again, and I feel O. K. I guess you can tell by the news pretty well what I am doing. We have made a lot of advances and are pounding hell out of the Jerries that are in the big trap. But things often get confused and we have been in some tight spots.

The R.A.F. came over some time ago to bomb the Jerries that were in front and on one side of our position. Something went wrong and they bombed us by mistake. We're very fortunate that any of us got out alive. They were all Lancasters and Halifaxes, with everything from anti-personnel bombs up to block-busters. They circled over us picking us out from about two hundred feet or so. What an experience.

Once a Lancaster came in so that I could see the crew. I thought it would be worth a chance, so I got out and waved a coloured shirt and pointed out our identity marks. They went right over us and circled and came in again. I thought they had recognized us. Just when he was over me, they let go a whole stick of bombs. I dove into a slit trench and the bombs just straddled it. I climbed out and saw a whole wave coming in. So I started to run. I was half way across a field when the next one lit, and it threw me about ten feet without a scratch. The whole thing lasted about an hour, and it was a pitiful sight when they left. It wasn't the killed and wounded that looked so bad, as the fellows whose nerves had broken. All in all, it was a h— of a day.

The Jerry prisoners are coming through here now by the hundred. They are a hard-looking crew.

Dunc goes on to tell of his promotion to Sergeant Major, and send personal greetings to his mother and family. Sgt. Mjr. Tost has another brother, Jack, serving with the R. C. N.V.R.

MINOR FIRE ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Georgetown Fire Brigade were called out on Sunday night about seven o'clock to extinguish a small fire in a barn on Emery Street, owned by W. H. Keatner and Son. The blaze was put out in a few minutes and practically no damage was caused. It is thought that the fire was started by children playing in the barn.

Fall Fair Attendance

very attractive displays which drew many favourable comments.

Special Fall Features

One of the big attractions of the fair centred around the booth in the hall under the auspices of the Arts & Crafts Co-operative. So many beautiful and novel articles were on display that one could not do the exhibit justice to describe it in detail. The spinning of Angora wool, the mule for cloth-making and hand-made articles drew much attention throughout the afternoon. None the less fine was the display by the Georgetown Branch of the Navy League. Wearing apparel for the sailors, ditty bags and cap-pots were on display, and Mrs. S. Mackenzie and Mrs. W. Mendham were in charge of the booth.

Horse Show Excellent

The show of light and heavy horses was one of the many grandstand attractions. The light horse class drew special attention, with horses shown by K. C. McMillan, Georgetown, Al Reid, Burlington, Robt. Kerr, Acton, Dr. Foeter, Galt, Wilbert Wheeler, Orton and Charles Armstrong, Brampton.

The harness races were of a high calibre and thrilled the many spectators along the track. The trick horse act by Clure Archdekin and his horse Eagle, held much interest, as did the high jumping, running races, musical chairs and potato races. Winner of the musical chairs was Jean Gowdwin, and the potato race Clure Archdekin and Bruce Lamond.

Livestock Show

The exhibit of livestock according to the judges was above the average this year, especially in quality. The bacon hog class, sponsored by the T. Eaton Co., drew 14 exhibitors, and the sheep classes were well filled. The poultry show was prominent as one entered the gate, and a number of new exhibitors took part in this class.

Music and Midway

The ever popular Girls' Pipe Band supplied Highland music throughout the afternoon. The midway was one of the finest and cleanest of any fair this year, and the merry-go-round and aerial swing were favoured with a large patronage.

A report of the baseball games appears in another article, so suffice it to say that Norval were district softball league champions.

Two special tents on the grounds were those of the Georgetown Board of Trade and the St. John Ambulance tent. The former displayed many beautiful photos of points of interest in and about Georgetown, and a poster greeted the fair with the words: "The Georgetown Board of Trade salutes the 98 year old Equestrian Agricultural Society"

The Baby Show

The baby show had less entrants this year. The winners were Marjory Hancock and Marlene Ganton in the under 9 months class, and David Stant and William Wilson in the under 18 months class. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie, donors of the prizes, in judging the babies were Mrs. Frank Peddie and Mrs. Maynard Patterson of Milton.

120 STUDENTS ENROLLED AT G. H. S. THIS YEAR

Principal Walter Carpenter reports that there is an enrollment of 120 students at Georgetown High School this year. School opened Monday and the students are already active planning for rugby and basketball this Fall. There is an extra large group of first year students this year, 57 in all, and this has necessitated the grouping of students into two first forms, one for boys and one for girls. The teaching staff remains the same as last year, with the exception of Miss Irene B. Peebles, who is taking the place of Miss Luke, on leave of absence due to ill health.

ASHGROVE

The September meeting of the W.M. S. was held in the Sunday School room last Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Thos. Giffen, president, in charge. The roll call was responded to with thoughts on Temperance. Mrs. J. O. Totton led in a very helpful devotional service and also favoured with some musical numbers. The new study book "West of the Date Line" was introduced in a most interesting manner by Mrs. Frank Ruddell. This book will take us to places and peoples very much in the news to-day and promises to be a splendid study. The meeting closed with hymn 423 and prayer.

Mrs. B. Howden, of Guelph is visiting with her niece, Mrs. A. J. Ruddell.

Miss Ismay Kean of Rockwood resumed her duties as teacher of Ashgrove school.

Mrs. Isabel Coyne has returned to Toronto after spending the summer with Mrs. Geo. Nurse.

Mrs. Geo. Nurse and Harvey spent Sunday with relatives in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wrigglesworth returned home last Wednesday, after spending the summer in Muskoka and other points.

WHAT GOES UP MUST COME DOWN

Whatever goes up, must come down, that's sure as shootin'. Remember the last war. Well, here is how things went, wheat up as high as $3.26 a bushel in 1918. . . . It sold in the early 30's as low as 27c not enough to pay for binder twine and feed for the horses.

Men coming back from overseas got it the worst of anyone, and some of them never recovered; the wounds that peace gave them were a hundred times more fatal than bullets and shells. . . . They soaked them $140.00 for a common everyday grade cow. . . . which sold a couple of years later at $28.00 a piece. Day-old calves cost $15.00, two years later the same calves grown big and fat, sold for around $18.00 on the hoof.

Hay was $25.00 a ton, then dropped to $3.75 and after 1920 ruin and bankruptcy were commonplace in every section in Canada, and returned soldiers—starved off the land—were selling lead pencils, candy and soap from door to door, and dying on their feet from sheer discouragement and poverty, their children forced to quit school at 15 and 16 years of age to take hard work and underpaid jobs to keep the rest of the family from starvation.

That's what Canada is going to see doesn't happen again, but unless everyone keeps battling it will come as sure as guns.

How to prevent it. . . well here is your part in this nation wide fight. . . watch prices, observe ration regulations. . . buy only what you really need. . . for if inflation ever gets its ugly beak into us we'll go through all the hard times again. . . only they would be harder this time and more people would suffer. . . more prices to tumble. . . There is more to lose.

We're riding high right now — big payrolls, good wages, more jobs than people to fill them—but the payoff is just around the corner. . . What are you doing to see that inflation doesn't get a head start? What are you doing to hold the price ceiling line?—Grimsby Independent.

Chateau Frontenac Again World War Center

Within the massive walls of the Chateau Frontenac and nearby Quebec Citadel, plans now they are meeting again, just a little over a year later. Today's plans have to do with final crushing of Nazi Europe, and the stepping-up of the next great task, elimination of the Japanese Empire as a world force.

During these days, the eyes of the world, United Nations, our enemies, and hundreds of thousands of peoples in still-bondaged Occupied lands, are focused on Canada and the figures which are shaping the world's destiny. It is a tribute to Canada and its people that this country has been chosen for a second conference, and the civilized world will await with patience and confidence the benefits that must surely accrue.
