INVEST IN VICTORY

For the next few weeks, you will be hearing a lot about the Victory Loan. This time we can look back and realize where the money subscribed in other loans has been spent—that such gigantic combined operations as the landing in France could never had been, without the financial support of the Canadian public to supply the materials necessary for invasion.

Every holder of a Victory Bond should rightly be proud that he could contribute one little cog to the vast machine of war. And every holder of a Victory Bond should take stock of his current finances and see if he can contribute two cogs or three or four this time. With victory in Europe so close, it would be calamitous if that victory were delayed even one day because the Canadian people did not supply enough equipment to the armed forces—if scheduled operations had to be put off because money was not available.

We must invest in victory, for without victory our money means nothing. By lending now we are helping to make victory possible, and we are building up a reserve of purchasing power which will be important to the individual as it will be to the nation in post-war years. Don't delay—buy your bonds today!

WHEN VICTORY COMES

Elaborate Victory-Day celebrations being planned by some Ontario municipalities leave us rather cold. We are glad that Georgetown folk have exhibited more common sense than one neighbouring municipality which has chosen a committee to lay plans for such a celebration. The whole business seems so trivial when our newspapers are filled with accounts of hard fighting in Italy and Holland, and when mounting casualty lists show the terrible toll of war on our young manhood.

Victory is coming — of that there can be no doubt—but must we childishly plan to greet it with sports and entertainment and general public carnival? Let's leave the celebrating to the men overseas who alone have the right to let themselves go on V-Day. Our celebrating should be done in our hearts and minds, and in a sober thanksgiving that peace has been once more restored to half of this confused old world.

TO BE FOREWARNED

This week the Herald again carries an account of house-breaking and thievery. Both this robbery and the first one, which was reported a little over a week ago, were committed in the same neighborhood. This fact may or may not establish anything about the actual robbery, but it does point out most emphatically that to be forewarned should lead to being forearmed. We don't mean that in the literal sense, of course. What we're getting at, is this—to keep large sums of cash in one's home is not a good policy. Perhaps you have followed this practice for years and nothing has happened. But it would take only one robbery, or one fire to make one realize how unwise such a habit is.

It is regrettable, but nevertheless true, that one robbery of this type seems to lead to another. So at this time particularly, make sure you keep no large sums of money in your home.

ACTIVE SERVICE NOTES

Pte. Bruce Harley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Harley, was one of the guard of honour which was turned out for Hon. J. L. Ralston during his visit to the First Canadian Corps in Italy. A member of the Lorne Scots reserve before enlistment, Bruce joined up in July, 1940, with the 48th Highlanders and transferred to the Lorne Scots when the Regiment went active in the spring of 1941.

Pte. Harley holds the championship of Canadian forces in Italy in the three mile run and he represented the Eighth Army in this event at the Allied Sports Meet in Rome. He is one of the few Canadians in the army, Gen. Brock being overseas, Opl. Gordon, at present a patient in Cheshire Park Military Hospital, Toronto, recovering from injuries received overseas, and

Gen. Ray stationed at Camp Borden. L. Opl. John Booth, whose wife, the former Margaret Lettmer, resides in Georgetown, has been serving in Italy for the past year with a Canadian Provost detachment. En route to Italy his ship was attacked and sunk by torpedo bombers and John was in the water for two hours before being rescued. Recently he visited Rome on leave and was present at an audience held by the Pope in the Vatican.

THE MIND HAS ALLERGIES, TOO

If you embarrass easily, stammer, and never think of those smart, witty cracks until after the party's over, maybe you've become a "mental hermit," psychiatrists say—and what to do about it is explained in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Oct. 28) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times. Annual Halton Plowing Match Scheduled For November 3rd

The annual Halton Plowing Match which in recent years has become recognized as one of the outstanding County Matches in the Province is to be held this year on Friday, November 3rd, on the farm of Thos. Snow, corner of the Boyne sideroad and the Nelson-Trafalgar Town Line. New features this fall, states W. H. Robinson, will include a display of labour saving equipment, demonstrations with one-way discs—disc plows and a dynamometer, a strong committee under the chairmanship of Stanley Hall, M.P.P. is now making plans to get out various types of buck rakes, corn chaff loaders, manure loaders, electric lawn mowers, chain saws, and many other handy home-made devices.

The ladies of the Mt. Union Institute are looking after the noon day luncheon, while the Otago W.I. is catering for the supper to be held in the Milton Town Hall. J. A. Carroll, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, for Ontario, is to be the special speaker and it is expected that Alderman John Innis, who has done such an outstanding job in connection with Toronto Farm Commando Labour, will be the guest of honour.

Halton Garage Operators Ladies' Night

The Garage Operators of Halton again broke all records at their annual Ladies' Night held at the Palermo Community Hall, Palermo, on Thursday night, Oct. 19th.

Shortly after 8 p.m. Fred Sinclair, the President, called on everyone to be seated at tables artistically decorated for the occasion, and which were laden with good wholesome food which the ladies of Palermo know so well how to prepare and serve. At the conclusion of the meal a toast programme was presented in the following order: "The King, singing of the National Anthem; "The Ladies," Mr. A. R. Speight, of Georgetown, and responded to by Mrs. G. R. Duffie, of Milton; "The Guests and Visitors," Mr. E. R. Macklin, of Burlington and responded to by Mr. Geo. Davis, of Hamilton.

The committee had secured Mr. Tom Hamilton, Scotch comedian and entertainer, whose humour and songs provided much enjoyment for the guests.

Mr. J. L. McKindley, Provincial Council President, and a member of Halton County Branch, and Mr. E. J. Wadham, Executive Secretary of Provincial Council, spoke briefly.

Doris Hull's Orchestra supplied the music for the dance which followed the concert and brought to a close another successful evening.

Progressive-Conservative Letter

TO THE CITIZENS OF HALTON

Reviewing our serial letter submitted to the people of Halton over the past nine weeks, we think the reader will find much to remind him of our Leader, John Bracken's attitude to the national problems which confront us.

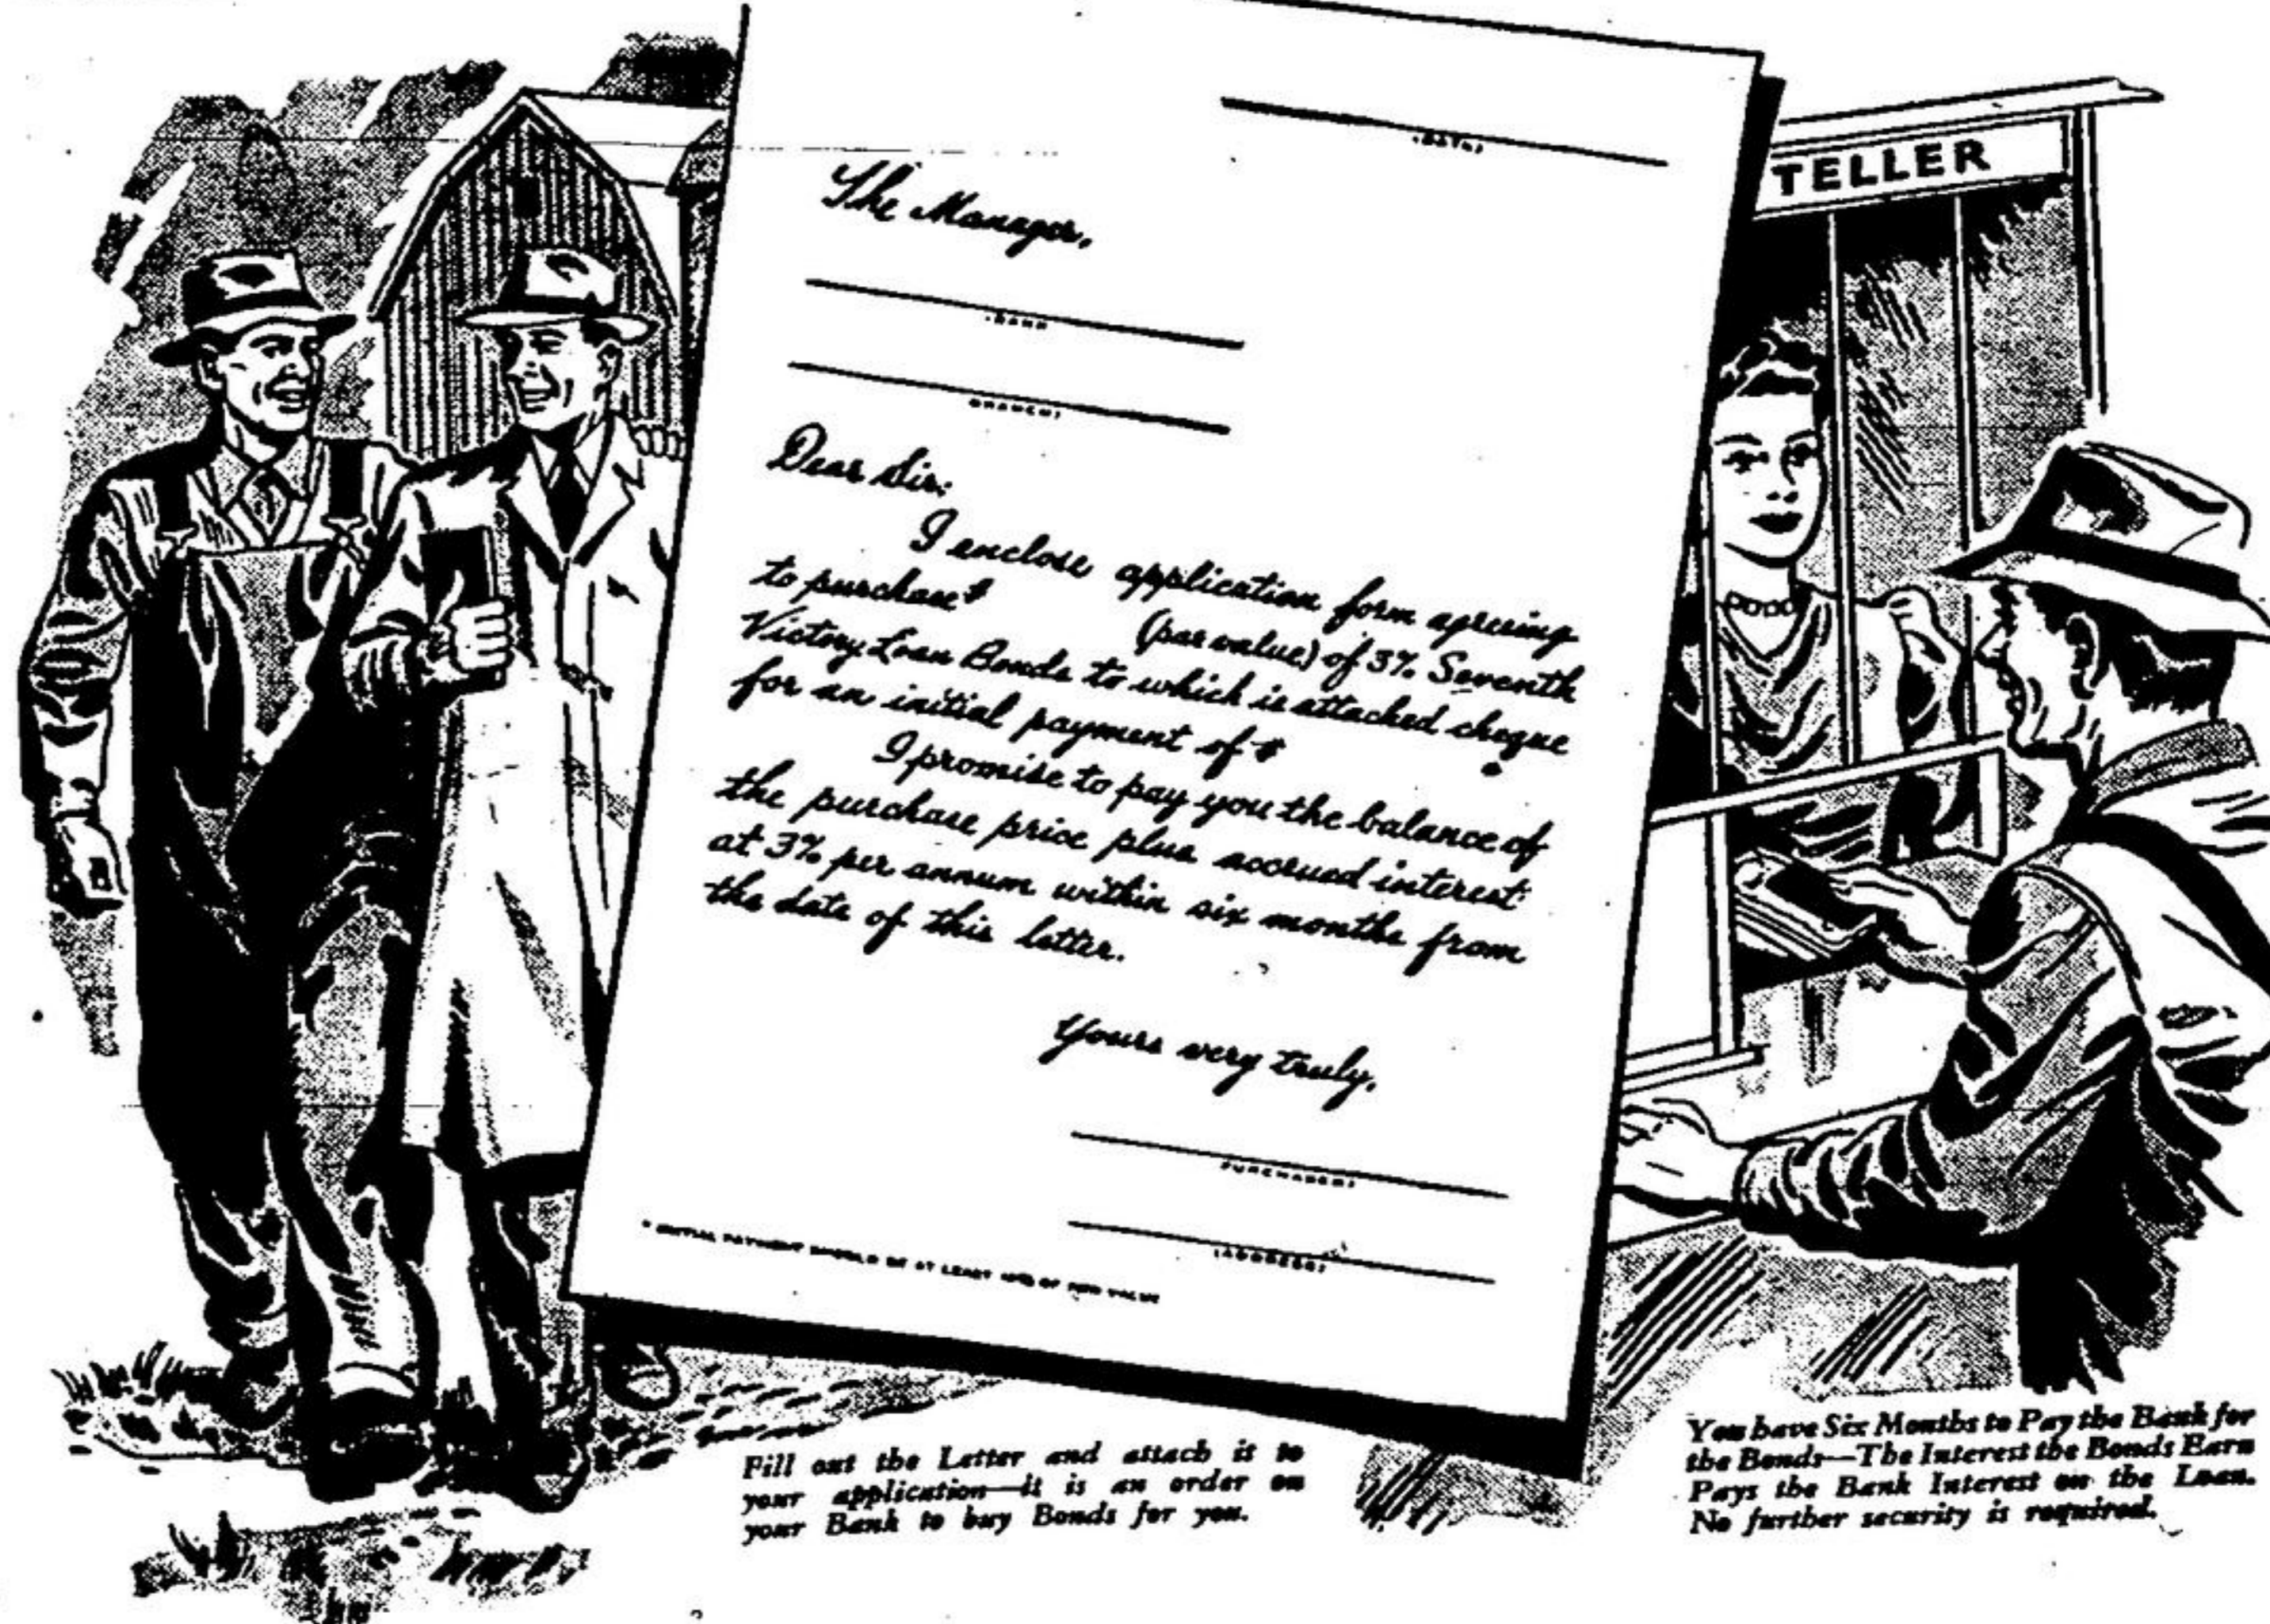

1. He stresses the need of wise leadership.
2. He demands freedom for the individual.
3. He asks for a more equitable disposition of the national income between all classes—farmer, professional man, labor and industry.
4. He allows capital its important place but emphasizes the need of control of capitalism.
5. He asks for evolution upward from the foundation already established by the nation and decries the menace of economic revolution.

Your Victory Loan Salesman Has This Letter

IT ENABLES YOU TO BUY VICTORY BONDS THROUGH YOUR BANK ON CONVENIENT DEFERRED PAYMENTS

● You say you want to do all you can to help Canada's war effort. Then you will keep on buying Victory Bonds. You will buy all you can.

You recognize the obligation that we, at home, owe to our men overseas. You know that stocks of munitions which our fighting men need are being depleted and must be replaced. You know that more munitions must go forward—and you will buy Victory Bonds to help pay for them.

You would like to be able to buy more bonds, you say. Well here is how you can do it. You can buy more bonds with money as you get it. Any bank will loan you the money to do this and the interest on the bonds will pay the cost of the bank loan. All you have to do is to sign the letter shown here—which you can get from your Victory Loan Salesman. You make a first payment of 10% or more when you apply for the bonds, and pay the balance at any time over a period of six months.

You will be doing an important war job when you do this. You will be helping your country and backing up her fighting men. You will get another reward, too, that will benefit yourself. You will have money, later on, when the war has been won—to do things you plan to do—money to improve your farm and your home.
