He had no use for his brother-in-law and was always threatening him. At last his wife took him to task. "It's ridiculous for you to talk like that. You know it will cost you a ten-pound fine if you touch him."

When a month had elapsed and he hadn't mentioned the name of his brother-in-law once, his wife expressed her pleasure.

"So you've given up the idea of hitting Jim?"
"Given up?" he scowled. "I'm saving up!"

FALL FAIR NOTES

Two weeks from Saturday will be fair day in Georgetown.

The prize lists have been distributed and there are a number still obtainable, either from the Secretary, the Herald office or the local drug stores.

Probably the most money ever offered in prizes by the Equestrian Agricultural Society in its 99 years of existence is at stake in this year's prize catalogue. The prizes offered in the various classes for horses and livestock should see one of the largest shows on record.

The Poultry-Lawn Show will attract exhibitors from many parts of Ontario, and some of the finest shows birds will be on exhibit.

Arrangements for the show are now almost completely in hand, and only good weather is needed to make the 1945 fair the best in history and on a level with the better shows in Ontario.

Ladies, the Directors are counting on you! Surely you must have plenty of fancy work that could be shown at the fair? To those more domestically inclined we say that better prizes were never offered for baking and canning. Take a look at the Robin Hood Flour special in the prize list offering $10.00 in cash.

Sure, the Baby Show still remains one of the feature attractions of the afternoon, with prizes given by Mr. Nat. Guthrie of Toronto, a Georgetown old boy.

For young and old the Lavale Midway Attractions Co. have been contacted to present a super-duper show. There will be rides, games and amusements, and they will be in operation both Friday night and Saturday.

Then, too, there is the usual fair night dance in the Arena, when the Modern Aires will supply the music.

Tory Gregg, of Wingham, who will again be master of ceremonies at the fair, gave the Georgetown show quite a boost over the Wingham radio station on Saturday evening. Nice pitching Tory, and the Fair Directors are looking forward to welcoming you here on September 8th.

If you were one that has talked about the fair since last show day, we know you will be there. But what about those who failed to see the 1944 show—are you going to miss the thrill of a lifetime. Georgetown show is on the road back—make sure you help it along. As one lady said: "I never used to go to the fair, but since seeing the show last year—well, I'm going to be there when the gates open and make sure of a grandstand seat for the whole show."

Have nothing else scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Sept. 7 and 8, and tell your friends to come to the fair.

COOK—In loving memory of Wilhelmine, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bell, who passed away August 23rd, 1925.

She was only a little white rosebud, A sweet little flower from birth; God took her home to Heaven, Before she was solled on earth.

—Ever remembered by Grandma, Grandad and Uncles.

MINO—In memory of the dear daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bell, Lulu Loretta, who passed away Aug. 22nd, 1944.

Though your smile is gone forever And your hand we cannot touch, We shall never lose sweet memories Of the one we loved so much. We often think of you, dear, And think of how you died, To think you could not say goodbye Before you closed your eyes.

Your last parting wish We would liked to have heard, And breathed to you, darling, Our last parting word.

Only those who have lost are able to tell, The pain in the heart at not saying farewell.

—Ever loved and sadly missed by Mother, Father and Brothers.

THIS AND THAT IN SPORT

By G. "Mac" McOllivray

This columnist couldn't help but set a few lines congratulating those responsible for the sport set-up in town this summer. It is some years since any interest could be aroused along baseball lines—and some sandlot fans sure missed their favourite sport.

The softball fans are really witnessing some rivalry in this sport, and almost any night in the week they are able to find a game in progress at the park.

But we are thinking more particularly of the younger set and the hardball league. Baseball took quite a slump in Georgetown during the past six or seven years, and it is heartening to see the boys of another generation taking to the sport and making such a fine job of it. One can let a sigh of relief and say that baseball is not altogether dead and buried forever in Georgetown. Thanks boys for reviving the game, and we look to you for the future teams in the Halton and district leagues.

But these boys must have equipment. We know the season is getting late to think about that now, but there is still a good many games left to be played this Fall. There is considerable equipment around town that if made available to the boys would come in mighty handy. Don't let it lay around and wear out from lack of use, turn it over to Jim Sargent and his up-and-comers to make good use of. And by the way, the town owes a lot to Jim Sargent, who arrived home recently from overseas to parachute right into the big job of managing the baseball setup.

And a word of thanks to Joe Stamp who has taken over where we left off and is doing a bang-up job of sports reporting for the Herald. More power to you Joe, and keep up the good work.

Notice!

MR. J. P. REID, having disposed of his business to Mr. James Goodlet, would like to take this opportunity of thanking all customers for loyalty and support throughout the many years, and speaks for continuance of same patronage for successor.
