To Decide Winner in Georgetown - Preston Hockey Series To-morrow

Papermakers Eliminate Owen Sound Due to Evans' Fine Goal-Tending

Lumber Kings Iced Great Team, but Were Beaten by one Just as good — Freak Goal Decides Contest — Score 4-3 in Second Game.

Georgetown Papermakers were able to emerge successful in the third round of the Intermediate B playdowns last Thursday night, due to the outstanding performance in the net by Lorne Evans. He was sensational to say the least, and carried the team through to the Preston series. The win gave Georgetown the home and home series 6-5, the first game in Owen Sound having ended in a 2-2 deadlock, and the Thursday score 4-3.

Over 2000 fans witnessed the game, with Georgetown Club taking over 500 supporters to the Galt Arena where the game was played. The game was fast from start to finish, and while Evans was the star, Rush for Owen Sound had to be the goat. His poor clearing at his own net resulted in the puck being deflected past Goalie McCauley and provided the all-important goal for the winners.

From here, by way of a change, we will carry on with part of the story from the Owen Sound Sun Times. With the count tied at 3-3 Rush skated behind his own goal to start a rush, Beaumont of Georgetown set out to worry him and cut in front of the Owen Sound net. Rush attempted to shoot the puck ahead on right wing. It hit Beaumont's leg and rebounded into the net behind a startled Carl McCauley before he had a chance to move for it.

Stout Defence
From there on the Papermakers threw up a stout defensive display that balked the Owen Sound attempts to gain the equalizer. There were several times when the Lumber men broke right through but they couldn't, beat Evans. He was nothing short of sensational and it was his twine-tending display alone that carried Georgetown into the next round.

Owen Sound outshot their opponents by at least three to one and carried the play for the greater part of the contest. Georgetown played the part of the opportunist and they played it well. Their first goal came as they intercepted a pass inside the Owen Sound blue line and their fourth and winning goal was a gift all the way.

First Period
The two clubs turned in a terrific first period of hockey with Evans in the Georgetown net playing sensationally to keep the Lumber Kings from running in a dozen goals. Owen Sound carried the play continually and outshot their rivals by a wide margin.

Shropshire drew a penalty for tripping Dolson and this was the signal for an Owen Sound power play. It backfired as Kenny Nash broke into the clear, pulled McCauley neatly to one side and punched home the goal that put Georgetown in front. The Lumber Kings took 25 seconds to get that one back. Eddie McArthur was Johnny on the spot to ram home a flip shot after Dolson brought Evans to his knees with a hard drive.

For a short period then, particularly while Roy Faubert was serving a hooking penalty, Georgetown pressed, but the Lumber Kings soon recovered their offensive form. With 50 seconds remaining in the period Henry and Olmsted broke away with only Shropshire back and they fooled him neatly. Olmsted finally throwing the damaging punch past Evans.

Town Council Considers War-time Housing Scheme

Mr. G. Spry of Toronto, representing War-time Housing, was present at Monday night's council meeting and gave some facts and figures relevant to the system should Georgetown wish to adopt it.

The first requisite is for the municipality to provide improved lots to be sold to War-time Housing at $1 a lot. Houses are of three types, 4, 5 and 6 roomed, and are built to rent at $22, $27.50 and $30 monthly respectively, with preference in renting given to veterans and their dependents. They are constructed on a 4-ft. cement foundation and a circulating heating unit takes the place of a furnace.

The town is paid $24 yearly for the smaller houses and $30 for the larger in lieu of taxes, and in addition receives $1 a house per year for street lighting. If the land should be sold during the first five years of the agreement, the town receives $400; if in the second five years, $200; and if at the end of the 15 years the agreement is in effect, the town should wish to purchase the houses in bulk, they would be sold to the municipality at ed life into the Owen Sound Club and they went after the goal that would put them ahead. It also set the stage for the fluke tally that gave Georgetown the victory.

For Owen Sound the outstanding players were Ken Dolson, tireless on the attack, Bruce Small and Dick Yeo who did great work on the defence. McCauley made several fine saves in goal but didn't have anything like the volume of work that was thrown at Evans.

Opening an Intermediate B hockey series with Preston Vets on Monday night, the local Papermakers came out on the short end of a 5-3 score, after sixty minutes of thrilling hockey. The Preston team played a much more rugged brand of hockey than the local Club had been used to, but they were not long in turning in some good stiff checking on their own behalf. The game was fast and Georgetown held their own on territorial play. While the win gives Preston a two-goal margin going into the second game on Thursday night, the fine hockey of which our boys are capable of playing, should yet see them come through another series. Preston opened the game with two goals, and at the end of the second period the score stood at 3-2, with Georgetown tying the count early in the third. However Preston rallied to win 5-3 by game's end.

Messner started the ball rolling for Preston with a deflected shot that cut the open side of goalie Evans' net. Shortly after Jack Shropshire drew a penalty for tripping. A neat job of dumping over the knee right in front of Referee Red Dunn of Hamilton. Georgetown withstood all attacks by Preston and it wasn't until 12:37 that Art Foster picked up a pass from Smith to gain Preston's second goal. Five minutes later Beaumont sank Georgetown's first goal on a pass from Ferris. Pete Circura drew a trip to the sin bin and was still off when the buzzer sounded.

With Circura still off at the beginning of the second period, Georgetown put on the pressure but couldn't put it behind Preston's Welshman. Veneables got a breakaway and Ferris in trying to check from behind got a tripping penalty. While he sat in the cooler Goad bulged the brace on a pass from Veneables. The game then lapsed into a choppy game of long shots and close checking until near the end when Beaumont went in to stink one while Chris stood by ready for the rebound that never came. This at 18:05 and the period's end.

Early in the third period Hurst got a clear shot on a beautiful centre from Kenny Nash to tie the score. The Georgetown fans enjoyed only three minutes of the score for Goad scored on a pass from Veneables. Bertwistle, followed closely by Ferris Circura, drew penalties and while the play was broken and poor Foster picked up one on a pass from Schmalz for the final goal. Score 5-3 Preston.

A great deal of good playing was spoiled in this game by heavy stick checking and slashing. Many body checks were exchanged and Chris kept Smith, the Preston fans' favorite, groggy.

Penalties were few but many more could have been handed out and could easily have helped the Georgetown cause.
