

THIS AND THAT IN SPORT

By C. "Mac" McIlwray

1945-46 — The grandest hockey season since the Arena was built, 23 years ago. More people watched hockey this winter than in any season before. The financial situation was better than ever before. The team went farther than any team before. What more could we ask.

ALREADY THE HOCKEY Club executive have met, and plans to organize next month for next year's hockey. We are at last realizing what a good hockey team can do for a town, and are planning well in advance. If you are not connected with the Hokey Club, offer your services for next year's executive, or better still offer a job to a good player.

AS A WIND-UP to a grand season the Hockey Club is sponsoring a dance in the arena on April 25th. Keep this date open to meet all the players in person and have the time of your life dancing to the Modern Aires.

IT IS planned to present each player with a windbreaker at a banquet to be held the following week, if they can be procured in time.

NOW THAT the Preston team has knocked off the London sextette quite handily, it is a pity that our Intermediates could not have withstood the barrage of pucks long enough to trim the Veterans. From this prospectus it looks as though the Preston team may end up as champions. They go into the finals tonight at Barrie against Bobcaygeon, with the return game at Galt Friday night.

Should a third game be necessary the teams will toes for it.

BOBAYGEON eliminated the Orillia entry, 7-6 in the first game, 8-4 in the second, and 15-10 on the round.

GEORGE HAYES of Ingersoll, is certainly a capable referee, and the Preston-Georgetown fixture was the 98th game he has handled this year. Few referees have this number to their credit. However, as far as refereeing goes you will go a long way to get better results than from Pat Patterson and Dave Houston. They are both strict, fair and have the support of the fans.

ARTIFICIAL ICE and hockey imports are definite needs in Georgetown. A town that supports a hockey team like Georgetown could certainly pay for an artificial ice plant. The money that went out of town this year would have made a good payment on this project. If we hope to keep in the contending class in any future hockey ventures artificial ice is a must in Georgetown. A championship club has to be clicking on all cylinders when group playdowns get underway late in the season and this is next to impossible when a team loses its home ice with the coming of March. More and more towns over the province are "seeing the light" and it behooves this town to get on the band wagon and present the popular winter pastime in its best possible setting.

SIFTINGS — The management of the Galt arena say they like to see the Georgetown fans come to Galt. They are an orderly lot and cause little trouble. Wonder who the local fan was that paid two admissions to get into the Preston game.

The two bands certainly added much to the series. Word comes from Owen Sound that the Lassies in Killa certainly took the city by storm, they're still talking about 'em. Hockey must have held sway in other places this year too. Notice where Goodrich Easter exams were postponed until after the hockey season.

THE O.B.A. has formed a Minor Baseball Association, and the new association is seeking to control minor baseball up to junior class. This should give county baseball enthusiasts a chance to get the younger boys into organized baseball, while an intermediate team might be entered in a Halton county League.

UP MEAFORD way the town has allotted $2000 to the Sports Committee to instal floodlights on the baseball diamonds. This is something for the Recreational Council to think about — providing of course, the local public kick in to the "cash pot" a little faster than they have been doing for this worthwhile venture.

BUT WITH Joe Stamp, your baseball reporter, back with us, we bow out of the picture, and turn baseball proceedings over to him with the hope that you enjoy his "Sportille" as much as we've enjoyed bringing you the hockey "jam-session."
