TIME MARCHES ON . . . . .

TAKE a quick look at your calendar! If you're going to gather eggs this fall, you should be starting your chicks! Early chicks can take their time about growing and maturing. But June chicks haven't much leeway. If you're going to get them into production by top-price time, they've got to grow and develop FAST.

That's one of the many good things Bray Chicks are noted for.

By using good tender green pasture, you can raise good chicks very cheaply. Order Bray — Order Today!

WITH THE ANGLERS

by G. H.

Another week has gone by with the weather against the fisherman's chances of filling his creel. Our local streams are not very good at any time as the trout are very scarce. We hope the Dept. of Game and Fisheries recognizes this fact and re-stocks them as rumoured.

A young angler who was initiated into the sport last week is Keith Tost, who hooked and landed a 13 inch speckled trout. Keith was quite proud and excited over his catch and we might add he had good reasons to be. Good luck in the future, Keith.

George Brown had quite a catch of speckled trout last week, the largest specimen weighing 2 and a quarter lbs. They were caught near Flesherton.

Also fishing in the Flesherton district, Jack Kemshead had a nice catch of speckled beauties numbering fifteen and all a good size.

The Credit has been much too high and mucky for good fly fishing. Sure hope it clears up before next week.

The Beaver River at Maxwell and the Mad River at Singhampton are producing good catches this year.

Right on our own back doorstep! Floyd Varey caught five nice trout in the stream behind the Herald office early Thursday morning, and sent his son Bud down to show them to us. The largest measured 9 and a half inches.

The type gremlins played hob with an account of Perc Blackburn's fishing trip in last week's column and two lines were dropped by accident. It should have ended up "A ten pound fish makes a fellow forget about the meat shortage these days."

That's all for now, so good fishing till next week.

Mrs. Barry O'Connor of Toronto spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kentner.
