—The Mill Street business block owned by Dale & Bennett in which their offices are located is being brightened with a coat of paint.

—What is probably the last of the 1945 apple crop was a prize-winning spy presented to us on Monday by W. O. Brownridge. It was grown by W. J. Pengilly of Meadowsdale and was still a beauty to look at and to eat.

—The absence of the Sunday School lesson from our last two issues is due to the illness of the writer, Rev. R. C. Todd, who we hope will soon be back on the job.

The house on Mill Street beside the Gregory Theatre which was last occupied by E. M. Reid, has been demolished by the owners, J. B. Mackenzie & Son, and we hear rumours that a new business building is to be erected on the site.

—Perhaps May is replacing June as the traditional wedding month. At any rate last week-end set a new record for the Herald with six weddings of local interest to report.

HORNBY

A very delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cantelon on Thursday last, when quite a number of friends of Mr. William Sibbald and his daughter Eldred gathered together to bid them farewell, and express appreciation for their splendid characters and faithful service in the community and the Hornby United Church. Such things as: "They are fine people, friends to many, great interest in the church; ready to help; dependable neighbours and friends; won't be forgotten; heart in the church"; were said of them by Mr. Thomas Douglas, Mr. Irvine and Mr. Lloyd May who read an address, Mr. Norman Cantelon made the presentation of a very fine floor lamp, which seemed a happy surprise to the guests of the evening. Both Mr. Sibbald and his daughter Eldred responded, expressing their thanks for the gift, and their regret at having to leave the Hornby community. They will live at 97 Highland Avenue, St. Catharines.

Progressive crokinole was played and contests held. Prizes were given. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Woman's Association of the church, who sponsored the event.

Sunday saw the new time schedule in effect at the Bethel church, when service began at ten o'clock, followed by the Sunday School. It was Temperance Field in the three churches, and the minister, Mr. Fred Ainsworth, gave an address on Temperance. About $45.00 was subscribed for the Educational activities of the Ontario Temperance Federation. Two children were baptized.

Dr. Percy G. Price, for many years a missionary in Japan, doing social and personal work, was among the week-end guests in our community. Dr. Price is under appointment to Japan.
