Bob Goldham, Georgetown's pro-hockey star with the Toronto Maple Leafs will join the ranks of the beneficiaries later this month. His bride-to-be is a graduate nurse.
 We understand that Armstrong, Lahe and Thompson, Hockey and Horses, have not let Ken McMillan's challenge of last week go unanswered and have secured a horse which lives up to all specifications — delivering milk in the forenoon, ice in the afternoon and transporting a dance band at night. As a matter of fact, rumour has it that McMillan is so worried, he has sent one of his old nags to the hayward and has bought a pair of newcomers to take his place.
 One of last year's Intermediate hockeyists, "Chuck" Tyler now has Hamilton as his address. He is taking a trade course at the Hamilton Trade School.

A last minute flash from the office of Georgetown Clay Products tells us that Bill Bell has a horse which not only fulfils the specifications but will climb a greasy pole as well. You never know what you can do until you advertise!
 In return for the use of the high school softball diamond which the Board has granted to Smith & Stone, Ltd., for their house league, the company have generously offered to erect a proper backstop behind home plate, and this will be done immediately.
 The Bolton Enterprise tells us of an inebriated gentleman who visited a fashionable bar across the border where the main decorations were mounted fish. Fascinated by them, he carefully walked from one to another, mumbing as he went. Suddenly he came upon an enormous stuffed pickerel. Swaying precariously he stared at it for a full minute, then burst forth: "The fellow who caught that fish is a liar."

We Salute You, the Canadian Farmer

—grain grower, stock raiser, dairyman, fruit grower and market gardener!

During the War you fed the armed forces and civilian population, not only of Canada but of a large part of the Allied world. That was a big job, and it was well done.

To-day you have an even bigger job. In the Old World millions are either starving or on the brink of starvation. For the bare necessities of life they must depend almost entirely on the New World. They look to the farmers in more fortunate lands to save them.

Discuss with our local Manager your financial requirements to reach your production goal. He will explain fully the Farm Improvement Loan plan and other ways in which we can serve you.

Nature Unspoiled
YOURS TO ENJOY
YOURS TO PROTECT

"THE BEAVER"
 Based upon a picture painted for Carling's by Beverly Herbert
 This is one of a series of illustrations on the subject of the Conservation of Canada's natural assets designed to emphasize the fact that the beauties of unspoiled nature that we enjoy today are a precious heritage which we must protect for tomorrow.

Meet "MR. CONSERVATION"

To many of us the beaver is a queer little animal with a flat tail, usually found on the reverse side of the Canadian 50 piece. But to the hunter, the trapper, and the woodsman—the beaver is known as the guardian of the waters—as "Mr. Conservation" in person.

By damming small streams the beaver makes ponds which store water for a slower, more even distribution, preventing floods and droughts. In beaver ponds fish spawn, muskrats make their homes and migratory wildfowl find sanctuary. As old beaver ponds fill up they become rich, moist meadows.

These are the reasons why the beaver is protected by wise conservation laws. But we can do more than protect the beaver—we can emulate him. In many parts of Canada flood control projects are under way. Such works, vital to the national economy, can be helped immeasurably by a more general awareness of the needs and methods of conservation.

Every Canadian is a shareholder in the vast heritage of wealth and wild life with which nature has endowed us. Every one of us has a vital interest and a duty to preserve that heritage.
