SPORT SHORTS

It was an auspicious start for Georgetown Intermediates when their first pre-season practice was held at Reynia Bank in Toronto on Sunday afternoon. Some forty puck-chasers were trying out under the watchful eye of manager Ern Thompson and playing-coach Jack Ingoldby. Another practice next Sunday and after that we'll be able to give some details on the team make-up which for certain reasons are still a secret. Won't hurt to keep the Tanners in the dark for another week anyway.

Jack Armstrong, Bob Lane, Cece Hardie, Norm Hill and Teddy King were all down to see the practice, but Ken McMillan of that "Hockey and Horses" foursome last year was among the missing.

A correction to our own column last week. The Hockey Club executive informs us that although there was some discussion on raising admission price, it has been decided to keep the hockey price at 35c this year. There'll be no doubts about a full house for every game with the advance tips pointing to a championship team this year.

It takes money to carry these pre-season city practices, and sports fans are urged to patronize the hockey dance on November 13th. This is the second dance sponsored in the Rose Room by the club.

Another country heard from and now we read in the A.F.P. that "Acton has the finest arena this side of Maple Leaf hang out." Sez who?

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

At last we have finally secured the reports of the inter-school field meet at Acton. As you already know, Acton won the day with 188 points, Georgetown second with 120 and Erin had 43. Now ye ed. tells us that due to shortage of space the list of winners will have to wait till next week.

A 12-piece school orchestra has been formed under the guidance of Mr. Capps and Mr. Lambert. Violins, cornets, trumpets, clarinet, baritone and piano compose the orchestra.

Monday night another off-the-record rugby game was played between the Peck and Dillon teams—score 5-1 for the latter. Beaumont scored the only goal of the game. The reason for the off-the-record games is the fact that Peck and Dillon told us this) the other teams refuse to play 8-man rugby, but instead crave for the 12-man game. Don't forget, boys, there is a shortage of manpower.

See you at the High School dance!

ISOBEL RICHARDSON WEDS, WILL LIVE IN PERGUA

Rev. E. C. Todd officiated at the wedding ceremony on Saturday evening, October 26th, at 7:30, of Florence Isobel Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson, Georgetown and Frederick Maveol, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Maveol of Erin. The wedding took place at the United Church parsonage.

The bride wore a green suit, with brown accessories and corsage of Tallman roses. Her attendant, Miss Christine Dickenson, wore a rose suit with corsage of pink roses and baby's rumsa. Mr. William Bradley, Hornby, was groomsmen.

A reception for the bridal party, was held at the home of the bride's parents. Following a honeymoon trip, the couple will take up residence in Pergua.

HORNBY

Five sticks of dynamite can and did do a very good job of breaking up a sizeable stone and a window or so for each stick of the explosive, as the Post Office corner folks discovered when the men Gordon Bridgen had asked to break up the stone had finished the job. Three windows in the Thompson bee-house, one large one in their dining room, and one in the front upstairs of Gordon's house suddenly caved in with the usual glass clatter to a good deal of consternation of all concerned. Even the furnace-doors in the Thompson store basement were blown open, and the cellar filled with gas. It's not often we're blown awake at our breakfast tables like that, and we'll appreciate it if it doesn't become a regular occurrence.

Sunday saw a visiting minister from Acton, Rev. Walter Postbury, in one of our Hornby Charge pulpits, when the regular minister was at the former place giving an address on Missionary work in Japan.

The lantern pictures recently given in our churches on "The Church in the City Streets", were the first of a series of missionary lectures to be given during the fall and winter months in the Hornby, Belhel, and Ashgrove churches. They will give a very good idea of the work the church is doing in the mission fields at home and abroad.

Folks around here are doing their best to be kind to the weather man this week in the hope that he will provide a fine, warm day for the Helton Flowering Match to be held on October 31st on the William Near farm. Others will be glad to have plenty of rain for the evening to dampen the ardour of the lads and their girl friends as they roam our backyards in search of unprotected buildings on which to test their prowess and skill. Neighbours expect to have their moveable material exchanged for that of a their neighbours, and the road signs are shivering in the wind in their expectation of being pulled up or bent that their ugliness may be seen for another year. Lights will flash on and off as the filmy spooks slink in and out of the shadows, frightened at their own shadows and noises. And in the morning the older folks will try to be brave and say "Boys will be boys," if they are not girls, and silently go about gathering up the pieces and exchanging material and greetings with their neighbours.

Congratulations to Keith Merry for hitting the top in the Ont. Hog Judging Contest at Guelph recently. It's a nice way to bring home the bacon.

THE WEATHER

By H. L. Ebit
So far as weather is concerned in this particular neck of the woods we have much to be thankful for this year. We have had enough rain to give bountiful crops in field and garden. And the weather has been fine for harvesting them.

The Meteorological department tells us last Sunday was the warmest 27th of October in a century and we had it five degrees warmer than in Toronto, 73 degrees.

But there are warnings that this cannot continue indefinitely. Wild geese are going south, indicating that their feeding grounds or waters are frozen over in the far North. And yesterday's reports are that a cold wave is sweeping over the prairies with zero temperature in some places and two feet of snow at Lethbridge.

Following are the local records:

	Max	Min.	Rain
Tue., Oct. 22	65	36
Wed., Oct. 23	60	40
Thur., Oct. 24	70	42
Fri., Oct. 25	62	40	38"
Sat., Oct. 26	66	35
Sun., Oct. 27	73	50
Mon., Oct. 28	87	48

Watch next week for special write-up on the 100th anniversary of St. Paul's, Norval.

Among graduates of the commercial course at Northern Vocational School who received their diplomas last Friday night, was Miss Joan de Vries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. De Vries, R. R. 3, Georgetown. Her father and brother, Henk, accompanied her. During the evening, the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario unveiled a tablet for students killed in the war.

TOOK TRIP BY PLANE TO VISIT ENGLISH RELATIVES

"The next time I make a trip home to England" said Mrs. Andrew Dewhurst after telling of a most delightful passage by air, "it will be made in six-actly the same way." In company with Mrs. M. Law, Mrs. Dewhurst arrived home last Saturday after nearly a three months' stay in Britain. "The trip by plane from Canada to Scotland was grand," went on Mrs. Dewhurst, "although the second plane from Prestwick to London did make me a little sick. However, this was negligible considering the days that a person can be sea-sick when going by boat. I have crossed three times on visits and this is the best trip I ever had."

Of course, meeting her three brothers and one sister was the main object of her trip and the greatest interest to her — her greatest thrill overseas, however, was seeing Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose. "Yes, I could have almost touched their Majesties, the King and Queen," and she stopped — "but the Princesses — they were lovely."

Mrs. Dewhurst spent most of the holiday in Lancashire and the north of England. She had the good fortune to spend a week at Blackpool, that favorite summer resort on the sea, and visited in Manchester and London. "England carries many war scars," said Mrs. Dewhurst "especially the big cities of Manchester and London. In many places they haven't time to tear down the wall and rebuild properly, but are rebuilding as best they can on the broken structures."

She didn't feel that the Islanders suffered too much from the food shortage, and said that salmon and pork chops seemed to be on the daily menu.

Mrs. Dewhurst related many interesting and amusing incidents which took place on her visit — her endeavour to see Clement Attlee at 10 Downing St., but just missed him; her trip to Westminster Abbey, to Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum, and many other places — but space does not allow us to detail further a grand plane trip to England and return.

THREE HUNDRED ATTEND GAY "TENNIS BALL"

Hallow's'en decorations and the many - coloured evening gowns of the ladies made a gay picture at the season's first "semi-formal" last Friday night in the Rose Room, when St. George's Tennis Ball was staged by the members of the tennis club. Some three hundred dancers enjoyed the music of the Modern Aires, with Jack Armstrong as master-of-ceremonies.

Novelty dances and Paul Jones featured the evening, with an intermission for serving of sandwiches and coffee. Mr. Wilfred Hunter and Mrs. Wheldon Cunningham won the lucky spot dance, and Mrs. Wilfred Ford, partnered by her husband, and Miss Joyce Letch, whose dance partner was "Bud" Tost were birthday dance winners.

ADDY — KRUTKO WEDDING LAST SATURDAY

Rev. R. C. Todd officiated at the marriage ceremony on Saturday, October 26th, of Miss Nettie Krutko and Mr. Raymond Arthur Addy son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Addy, Glen Williams. The ceremony took place at the United Church parsonage. The bride wore a blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom, wearing a green suit with brown accessories and yellow rose corsage. His brother, Jack Addy, was groomsmen.

A reception for the wedding party was held afterwards at the home of the groom's parents, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Toronto and St. Catharines. They will take up residence in the Glen.

TWO GEORGETOWN CHURCHES CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARIES

On Sunday, October 20th, Knox Presbyterian Church was filled with members and their friends to celebrate the 88th anniversary of the church's establishment in Georgetown. Rev. D. D. Davidson, M. A., of Mitchell, who was pastor at the church prior to Rev. C. O. Cochrane was anniversary preacher, and Miss Betty Windsor, leading soprano of Grace Church on the Hill, Toronto, was soloist.

Last Sunday, Rev. Francis Vipond of Francis, Sask. was guest speaker at the United Church when that church celebrated its 107th anniversary. A special song service was held in the evening. Mrs. Archie Black, of Galt, a former member of the congregation, was guest soloist for the day.

Apprentice Productions, Ltd. will present their first play on November 28th in the Old Town Hall.
