Many Local Breeders Win At Royal Winter Fair

In the very strong competition that prevailed in the Holstein classes at the Royal Winter Fair, J. W. and E. H. Carnay, Georgetown, won third prize in the class for Junior Yearling Bull. Elmer Carnay won sixth prize in both the Junior Yearling Bull and Milking three-year-old Heifer classes. Twin features of the Holstein exhibit at the Royal Winter Fair were the "battle of the bulls" which brought together the six previously undefeated Aged Bulls and the winning of the Female Grand Championship by what Judge Paul Misner, Hahmerville, Pennsylvania, described as "the nearest to the True Type Model that I have seen for a long time." This was the largest exhibit of Holsteins yet held at the Royal with 268 head shown by 86 exhibitors. Indicative of the intense interest in this first meeting of the top show animals of the continent since before the war was the large crowd of spectators that were on hand from the beginning to the end of the show.

The winner of "the battle of the bulls" was Chip of Nettle and Aggie shown by Frank Farms, Hopkima, Minn., with the famous three times All-Canadian Montvic Rag Apple Marksmen in second place for McCague and Cerwell of Alliston and the equally noted twice All-Canadian Montvic Rag Apple Sovereign third for Dent and Brown of Woodstock, Ontario. The Grand Champion cow was Roschill Payne Wayne owned and developed by J. D. Innes, Woodstock, Ontario, and bred by Nelson Bechtel, Hespeler, Ontario. Undoubtedly she will go down in history as one of the All-Time Greats in the show-ring. Junior Champion Female was bred by Elsworth Francis and Son, Renfrew, Ontario, and shown by Hays Limited, Brampton and Calgary. "Alert" the "Marksmen" son shown by McCague and R. H. McQuham, Lanark, Ontario, was Junior Champion Bull with Reserve going to a "Sovereign" son shown by J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, Ontario.

Recreational This and That

FATHER and SON EVENING: On Friday, November 23rd, the G. R.C. will hold its annual Father and Son get-together. As usual there will be entertainment, refreshments, some business, plus a lot of fun. This is not a night just designed for the boys — but a night in the year which is set apart for all the club members. It is a night where a father can take an active interest in the things which his boy is doing and become acquainted with the work which the Recreational Council is planning for the future. There are many plans afoot — plans which include both indoor and outdoor and the Council would like your suggestions and help.

So Date, please reserve Friday, November 23 for a night with your boy at the Oshkosh Ball.

Tickets are available from any member of the G.R.C. or at the Herald Office. Get yours NOW.

THEATRE NIGHT: Last week we wanted you to reserve Thursday, December 5th for an evening at The Old Town Hall. Well, we are repeating ourselves, because we are convinced that you are in for several hours of real entertainment. It will also be the official opening of the Old Town Hall as a Community Centre and we feel that most of the citizens of Georgetown are in for a pleasant surprise. So make a date to be at the Old Town Hall on Thursday, December 5th. Tickets are now available from G.R.C. members and the office of the Herald.

WAR AGENTS FORTIFICATION: Our appeal to the citizens to purchase a bond or to buy for cash work in the Old Town Hall has met with a fine response. However, we still need a few more names to be entered on the list for the quantity we have ordered from War Agents. We know that dozens of people interested to buy a bond or to buy for cash work are waiting to be known about it. You can buy a bond that will cost four for one dollar. You can buy a table that will accommodate four potential customers for three dollars. How about that?

BRIDGE CLUB: The Bridge Club is holding all clubhouse players to meet with them next Monday evening in the Old Town Hall.

THE PHOENIX-GEORGETOWN STADIUM AT BRIDGE:

Mr. J. Duncan, dog breeder, whose name is on the highway across from the three children, showed one of his prize-winning dogs at the Royal Winter Fair. The dog, a collie named "The Dog," was that prize in the Collie class.

Rats That Help the Farmer

Positive examination of this and hundreds of other white rats showed whether animal feeding aids and fortified whole milk powder contain as much Vitamin A as advertised. Here, a technician in the Vitamin Assay Laboratory of the Division of Chemistry, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, prepares to weigh a rat to see if it is gaining on a diet supposed to be rich in Vitamin A. Farmers' organizations and food manufacturers welcome this testing of animal foods.

GOTTA' BE THIS OR THAT

If a taxpayer is nominated for more than one municipal office next Friday night, a change in the Election Act forces him to make a spot decision as to which office he wishes to contest. The new regulation makes it obligatory for a candidate to state this before the end of the nomination meeting, otherwise he will be considered a candidate for the first office to which he was nominated.

The nomination meeting proper last from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m. After this, the meeting is turned into a public meeting for hearing of the year's reports and election speeches.

Miss Joan Marchington, who has been scenographer with Federal Sales has accepted a position with the Smith and Stone office staff.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Georgetown, Nov. 19th, 1946

Dear Editor — I noticed in the Herald of Nov. 2nd where a party from this district was fined for not putting a penny in the parking meter in Guelph, and that he may do his shopping at home now. No doubt the Georgetown merchants will appreciate his business. But I would say it is high time the parking by-laws were enforced in Georgetown. On Main Street in the business section there are lines marked out for parking. There is plenty of room between the lines for any car to park, but where do they park — on the lines, across the lines, away from the curb, or any old place at all. What sense is there going to the trouble marking out the lines, and to the courtesy of the public, when it is all ignored.

The writer has parked his car several times in Guelph since the parking meters have been installed and can only say Guelph is to be congratulated on their fine system of parking. Georgetown would benefit a lot if we had parking meters in the business section. Some 100 customers park their car day and night in the business section while good customers have to carry their parcels to the back streets.

Mrs. De Vries Returns From Visit in Holland

Mrs. Lydie DeVries returned home last Wednesday from a three-month visit with her parents and relatives in Holland. It was her third trip home since coming to Canada in 1928, and particularly enjoyable after the anxious war years when little news was received. She found her parents well and in good health. Their home had been taken over by the Germans during the occupation, was later used by the Canadians and is now being used as a recruiting station for the Netherlands colonial army, but they had secured comfortable accommodation elsewhere. Mrs. DeVries made her headquarters at Almelo, also visited in Amsterdam and the Hague and spent a week in England. She has five brothers and two sisters in Holland.

In Holland the clothing situation is bad. Everything is rationed and only those who have the money to buy on the black market have any surplus clothing. The food situation has improved. The butter ration is more generous in Canada, sugar about the same, but meat a scarce and the ration is one pound a person every two weeks. Cheese is all exported and there is no white bread, but the midweek brown bread obtainable is of good quality.

War damage is being repaired and much of the ugliness has been cleared away, though of course evidences of destruction are all too apparent yet. Bridges have been replaced, mostly by Bailey bridges, with equipment in year and most countries have only wooden seats with windows still boarded up. Coal is very scarce and one can obtain only a few bags of it at a time.

Mrs. DeVries did not visit the dyke lands, but was told that dyked lands are being reclaimed. War damage payments are being made both by the Government and the Canadians and the country is slowly returning to its pre-war condition.

Mrs. DeVries made the trip to Holland on the Prinz Willem IV, which sailed from Montreal and returned on the De Vries via New York. The return trip was rough and the last night a light had so there is still light to expect from Holland. Part of the cargo was a large shipment of country linen which she has after some adjustment to a Toronto department store.

County Assessor Promises to Have Any Data Required Available Before Municipal Elections — Reviews Matters At Meeting in Milton Tuesday

The November meeting of Halton County Council was held in Milton. Following routine business Council went into Committee of the Whole with Deputy Reeve Foster in the chair. There was very little business arising from Committee reports other than the authorization for payment of accounts which were as follows:

Finance	$3211.89
Education and Health	41.48
Printing	139.08
County Buildings	145.08
Hospitals	475.29
Agric. and Reforestation	12.00
County Roads	23072.12
	$32108.71

Some discussion ensued following Sheriff Robertson's reading of the report as given by the Grand Jury in regard to the county buildings.

Sheriff Robertson asked specifically that consideration be given to the purchase of cot mattresses for goal inmates. He said that at present blankets were used instead of mattresses and since they were subjected to constant washing they wore out very quickly and therefore could hardly be said to be economical. Better seating accommodation was also requested for witnesses called by the Grand Jury.

The Warden said that before buying mattresses there should be advice from the Department as to the type that should be purchased, otherwise they might be condemned as unsuitable. Until such recommendations were made he thought it better to continue with the blankets.

Reeve Crak: "Would you then be in favor of mattresses, Mr. Warden?"

Warden: "Yes, I would."

Sheriff Robertson said if Council would recommend the purchase of mattresses he would see to it that those purchased would be in keeping with Department regulations.

The matter of fire protection was taken up and Reeve Smith gave it as his opinion that the County buildings should be furnished with more fire extinguishers as they were more easily handled.

Deputy Reeve Whittaker suggested that the local Fire Chief be called in to advise as to the best means of improving the present fire protection.

Finally it was moved by Craig and Kirkness that on the recommendation of the Grand Jury our County Buildings Committee consult the Milton Fire Chief in regard to fire protection in the County Buildings and that they also take up the matter of mattresses for the goal cots and a report be given to the Council. Carried.

The County Assessor, Mr. Ford Rogers, gave a brief summary of his work up to the present and promised that any data that might be required would be available for those who require it before the next municipal elections.

Council adjourned.
