HALTON JUNIORS GROUP WILL BE FEATURED IN COMING RADIO BROADCAST

Those who have been listening to the winter series of radio broadcasts presented by various Junior Farmer groups in the Hamilton area each Saturday evening, will be pleased to learn that on Saturday, Feb. 22 at 8.30 p.m. a discussion group of Halton Juniors will be heard over CHML, Hamilton. This is the second broadcast for this 60thly, the first one having been presented on November 30.

This time there is an entirely new cast and its members will be Margaret Alexander and John Bird, Georgetown, Marion Galbraith, Zimmerman, Cedric Harrop, Milton and Elwood Johnston, Acton. This gives not only the various Junior Farmer Clubs of the county representation but also the areas of Halton where young people are organized, and thus makes it possible for them to discuss meaningfully the problem "Does Our Junior Farmer organization prove its motto "Self Help and Community Betterment." They have written and prepared their own script and can promise a worthwhile and informative discussion on this topic which they hope will be of prime interest, not only to fellow Juniors, but to all members of any organization.

Beth Lockerie, who was a leading figure in Winnipeg's theatre and radio activities before going to Toronto last summer to create the role of "Mama" in the humorous family drama, "Alan and Me," broadcast every Friday over the CBC Trans-Canada network.
