LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Saturday, Feb. 22, 1947
 Dear Mr. Editor:
 When the powers that be launch on a "no parking", "no buses" and "by-laws" program for Georgetown we wonder if they take into consideration the fact that a large percentage of the potential buying power of the town comes from outside the town, and that too many restrictions, changes and nuisances are going to hamper this trade. Let us not be too severe in our changes and too strict in their enforcement—remembering that a good customer will come back if given reasonable treatment. Town and country buyers who use our streets do not wish to break our "by-laws", but until a municipal parking lot is provided for their cars, they don't wish to drive all over the town to find a parking place in order to make a ten-minute purchase.
 It's been mighty cold too, waiting for buses at the new bus stops, when patrons could wait at the depot just as easily.
 Town progress comes gradually, not over night. Let us do some sane thinking before making any drastic changes.
 —A Home-Towner.
