Weaving a pattern of Happiness

The sightless worker weaving a basket is fashioning also a better life for himself... a life of useful activity and independence. The blind ask only a chance to learn to help themselves. They get this opportunity through The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, which gives them training in a wide variety of crafts such as basket and fabric weaving, sewing, chair caning... plus retail outlets for their products. In order to provide this and all its other services to the blind, the Institute urgently needs funds. Give as generously as you can.

Long Distance Runners to Bring Message From Toronto Mayor

A unique feature of a long distance race planned by members of the Gladstone Athletic Club this Saturday will be an exchange of greetings from Toronto's mayor Robert Saunders to Mayor Joseph Gibbons of Georgetown. Bill Emmerson, Jr., running the last lap for his marathon team will deliver the Bob-to-Joe message, contained in weather-proof tubing, to the mayor at the Waterworks Building.

The Gladstone A.C. has a firm connection with Georgetown through its local men on the team, who include Bill Collier, Jim and Bill Emmerson, and Bruce Harley. Johnny Emmerson, also a member will not be running this Saturday.

The race will be between an 8-man team, running as a relay, and a number of long distance runners who will each take on the complete thirty-six and two-fifths mile course. Started off by Mayor Saunders from the Toronto City Hall steps sharp at 2 p.m., they will run up Bay Street to Bloor, west to Cooksville and up No. 7 highway to town. The runners are expected to arrive here about 5.15.

Orville Garbutt, 62, is the oldest man in the race. F. Bristow, 46, is one of the crack runners for the club, who has just returned from competing in the Boston marathon. Others who will go the whole distance include F. Begley, H. Carter, G. Proctor, Jim Cummings and brother Logan, Potter, Ben May and Bob May. Members of the relay team in addition to the three local men are Jim Potter, Jr., Paul Poce, Bob Wheeler, Jack Caray and Hoyle.

The race will be held regardless of weather conditions, though naturally the men are hoping that showers and wind are not too much in evidence.
