

BALLINAFAD

We are glad to know that Mrs. Robert McInery is able to be home from the hospital after her recent operation.

Some of our ladies attended the India Tea in Georgetown United Church last Saturday where there was a splendid display of articles from India. A good program was much enjoyed.

The Swindhurst Bros. are erecting a new garage in the village. We are all anxiously awaiting new developments of R. A. Merriam's new purchase.

The Farm Forum Ball team is practicing eagerly in the evening preparing to take on all village teams of the district.

Miss Joanna Shortill and Miss E. McDougall of Woodside School attended the presentation to the Rev.

Metcalfe Friday evening in Caledon East United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Shortill, Mrs. Wm. McInery and Mr. Harding were guests at the Young-Pell wedding in Bethel Presbyterian Church Princes' Corners on June 4.

Miss B. Hills and Mrs. Fred Huggins visited friends in Brantford last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Patterson accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. McKay left Saturday morning for a motor trip to the coast. We wish them an enjoyable journey and a safe return.

Was Home Economics Teacher at Waterloo College

Her many friends in Georgetown were grieved to learn of the death on Saturday, June 7th, of Miss Lillian Edith Kennedy, who passed away at the Kitchener - Waterloo Hospital. Miss Kennedy, who was home economics teacher at Waterloo Collegiate, had been in ill health for the past year.

Born in Georgetown, she was the daughter of Mrs. Kennedy and the late H. W. Kennedy. She attended Georgetown Public and High Schools and on graduation taught for two years in a country school. Continuing her education, she attended the University of Toronto and the Ontario College of Education. She taught for five years in Port Arthur and for the past three years in Waterloo.

She was predeceased by her father, one brother George, and one sister, Margaret. She was a member of the United Church.

The funeral service from the McClure Funeral Home on Tuesday, June 10th, was conducted by Rev. R. C. Todd, assisted by Rev. Newman Truax, Carlisle, and Rev. Ray Davidson, Tillsonburg. There were many lovely floral tributes. Pall-bearers were Mervyn Kennedy, Owen Sound, Hillary Stevens, Toronto, Fred Hutt, Ithaca, N.Y., Gordon Hutt, Harold and Lorne Cleave. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown.

Out of town friends who attended the funeral included Mr. Zeigler and Miss Augustine, fellow members of the Waterloo teaching staff, and Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Near of Waterloo.

DISTURBED with his own cooking, George angrily pushed his chair back with his foot. If only Anna weren't such a strange little foreigner, he thought impatiently, his meals wouldn't be so tasteless, and the burden of keeping house, in addition to many of the farm chores, would fall on her instead of him.

With the odor of the barn still clinging to his clothes, he walked the short distance to the next farm to see Anna and speak to her cousin. Without knocking, he went into the living room.

The woman looked up from her mending indifferently, as if his visit were too frequent for him to be considered a guest. "Hello, George. You'll find Anna in the kitchen."

"Have you spoken to her yet, Mrs. Laud?" he asked.

"Well," Mrs. Laud said slowly, "I tried to, only she didn't seem to know what I was getting at." She paused thoughtfully. "Seemed more that she pretended not to."

"I see," he said wearily.

"I did tell her what a fine, honest man you are. But her only ambition right now is to visit a fortune teller." She laughed indulgently.

"A fortune teller?"

"Yes. Can you imagine? She believes in them. You see, in Europe a gypsy once read her palm. And Anna said that everything came true. Of course, I imagine little Anna helped out a lot by twisting everything that happened to her into the shape of that faker's prediction."

They talked a while longer about Anna, who was only twelve when the

"I want see fortune teller."

Germans invaded her country, and how Mrs. Laud managed to get her to Canada. George had often heard the story before. So he went into the kitchen. He leaned against the wall, faded blue overalls sagging on his awkward thin frame; his blond neck tipped forward, his blond, sun-dried hair hanging over dull blue eyes.

As Anna washed the dishes George could almost see the dreams in her large eyes—dreams of a modern knight riding in the wind with her, the long thick braids of her hair flying behind her.

Her eyes sparkled. "I want see fortune teller."

"What for?"

"I want find out who my husband be."

Suddenly he had an idea, and he was overwhelmed by his own cleverness. What had Mrs. Laud said a little while ago? "She believes in them... she sure does swear by them now..." His red face brightened with enthusiasm. After all, he thought, they would probably be married some day, anyway. No harm in hurrying things up a bit. "There's an amusement park fifteen miles from here," he told her.

On the bus Anna sat quietly in anticipation. George saw her lower her wide eyes modestly when she noticed the man staring at her shy loveliness. Fearing to escape their glances, she took a white handkerchief out of her pocket and wiped away the lipstick smudge which her cousin had touched her mouth.

"Maybe they don't look now," she whispered to George Naive. Thank heaven she was, he thought. For his plans were all the likelier to succeed.

At the park she walked close to him, asking every few minutes where the fortune teller was located. They came to a row of booths under a huge awning and he bought a ticket. "Wait here a minute," he said. "I'll be back soon."

He told the fortune teller to describe him to Anna when she asked about her future husband. He handed her some money. "Don't forget Tall man, blond hair, blue eyes." Then he told Anna. "You can go now," he told Anna.

While waiting for her, he laughed. Anna wouldn't doubt the oracle for a minute, he thought, amused. When she came out, she looked as if she were in a trance. Her large shining eyes were focused straight ahead.

He fell into step beside her. "Well what did she say?"

"Oh, she say wonderful things. She say I marry tall man. He have blue eyes with blond hair. And he be very good to me. I know he be the handsomest man in the world. And I want find him," she said softly. "I want find him forever."

MRS. O. R. FLINDALL GUEST SPEAKER AT UNITED W.A.

The quarterly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church was held Wednesday evening, June 11th in the church, with Group No. 2 as convenors. Mrs. E. L. Arnold, president, and Mrs. Frank Tyler, secretary, presided.

The meeting opened by all repeating the Lord's Prayer after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. This was followed by a short business discussion.

Miss Erma McCumber conducted a devotional period which proved very helpful, the theme being "Christ and Our Holidays."

Mrs. H. C. Wrigglesworth and Mrs. Chester DeForest accompanied by Mrs. E. H. Wright sang two duets.

Mrs. O. R. Flindall of Ballinafad was the guest speaker and she chose as her subject: "Jesus' Disciples." She pointed out that we each have a work to do and though we may think that we are not perfect enough to do that work, still the Disciples were by no means perfect and yet Jesus had work for them to do and He called them to do it.

Miss Lynda M. Stewart accompanied by Mr. Kenneth Harrison sang two lovely solos.

A vote of thanks was given to group 2 for a very interesting programme, also to those taking part after which the meeting was brought to a close by singing a hymn. Refreshments were served by Group 2.

JUNE I.O.D.E. MEETING TAKES PICNIC FORM

June meeting of Countess of Strathmore Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Batkin, Wildwood. A picnic supper was enjoyed on the lawn with a brief business meeting later with Mrs. N. Vernece presiding. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were heard also a very interesting letter from the teacher of the chapter's adopted northern school expressing appreciation for the sale of clothing received. Mrs. A. Scott was appointed representative to the local Red Cross branch. Final arrangements were made for the Garden Tea which is being held this Saturday, June 21st at the home of Miss Ruth Evans. Quite a number of knitted baby garments were turned in for the Overseas shipment. Meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Batkin was assisted by Mrs. D. Charles and Mrs. R. H. Ireland as hostesses for the evening.

GLEN WILLIAMS

Congratulations are in order to Jean Hancock for winning third prize with her essay, "My Visit to a meeting of the Halton County Council." Jean was placed third out of sixty contestants from Halton County public schools who visited the Council Chambers at Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robinson and Russell were weekend visitors in Toronto with Mr. Robinson's mother.

NORVAL

Services at St. Paul's Church, Norval, on Sundays, June 29th and July 6th will be conducted by Mr. James Gillespie, Lay-reader from Toronto Diocese, during the absence of the Rector on vacation.

TERRA COTTA

"Rain, rain, go away. Come again another day." The recent rains have greatly retarded seeding operations in this section.

Mrs. Patch, who has been visiting with friends in British Columbia and Los Angeles, California, has returned home and reports a very enjoyable trip. But she says there is no place like Terra Cotta after all.

W. J. Rutledge has opened out his new gravel pit here and reports doing a rushing trade in gravel at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hayward of Guelph spent the week-end with Terra Cotta friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were out from Toronto to spend the week-end at their summer home.

We expect to hear of some more real estate transfers in our hamlet again in the near future. Watch Terra Cotta grow.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Clarence Hayes has returned from a trip to Port Arthur, Kenora and Port Frances, where she conducted a series of Women's Institute meetings.

Mrs. Clara King of Branchton spent last week visiting with her family in town.

Mrs. R. T. Cave has returned from a two week visit in Detroit, Michigan, with Mr. and Mrs. James Cave.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Riddall spent the week-end in Hamilton as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace.

Mr. Peter Bessey, Toronto, spent Sunday at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bessey, Guelph Street.

Mrs. John Miller has returned home after spending two weeks at Port Dover with her sister, Mrs. McAuley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McAllister and Patsy of Pontiac, Michigan, are visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. E. V. MacCormack.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fisher and daughter Edna arrived home last week after spending a week's vacation with relatives in St. Louis, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pollock are preparing for their annual summer trip to Sheldon, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wodson of Toronto, will once more occupy their house for the summer months.

Mrs. E. W. Wodson and Mr. C. C. Whyatt of Toronto accompanied by Mrs. Robert Jobbins of London, England, were visitors in town on Monday. Mr. Whyatt is a former Georgetown resident and worked here at one time with Provincial Paper Ltd. Mrs. Jobbins, who is a friend of Miss Elaine Wodson, has been visiting with her daughter in Peterborough.

Mr. Brock Beaumont of Sarnia and Mr. and Mrs. A. Pyffe and daughters Shirley and Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beaumont and Mrs. George Beaumont all of Toronto were weekend visitors with Mr. Lindley Beaumont and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beaumont, Glen Williams.

Prior to her marriage last Saturday, Mrs. Harvey Dewhurst (Elsie Stinger) was tendered a number of parties. Fellow members of the Daughters of the Church grouped with a number of friends for a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Fred Johnson, Jr., Guelph Street. The gifts were arranged in a wishing well and during the evening a bride's book was made. Fellow employees at Smith and Stone, where both bride and groom are employed, presented the couple with a trlight lamp and mirror. Another lovely party was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bradley, where members of St. George's Choir presented them with a handsome picture.

GLEN REPLACES ALLIANCE IN LOCAL SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The local softball league gets underway at the park Thursday when the High School lads and Smith & Stone start the season. The four team league this year also includes last year's champs, the Businessmen, and a new entry from Glen Williams.
