WITH THE ANGLERS

was on from the 2nd of July to the 10th. After that they set of petersed out. While the hatch was at its height the trout were very hard to catch although they would rise near the boats and take shades. The shade comes up from the bottom at dusk in a case, as it hits the surface it breaks open and out pops the fly. The shade's life is short, however, because it's a race between the trout and the red wing blackbird who gets him first. After the main hatch was over almost everyone had good luck. Some of the lucky fly fishermen were Jack Tomlinson, Deputy game warden and Bill Pinkerton, deputy game warden. These two anglers have been fly fishing this water for years and have been known to get trout where others fail. Jack Tomlinson took a very nice 3 pound specimen last Friday evening. Jack and Bill live on opposite sides of the full-way and rent boats.

Wally Wilson of Hamilton also took some nice ones.

Al Brunton of Hamilton was also very successful.

Norm Ward of Toronto also had good luck.

Several anglers from over the border were very successful in catching some beauties.

BASS

Bass season is in full swing, and as usual Jim Costigan is taking his share. Jim, accompanied by his son, Elmer, grandson Jimmy and Leonard Cozard of the Detroit Free Press were very successful in landing some nice ones recently. Jimmy hooked and landed without help from the others a nice one that weighed about 2 lbs.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Suckers take a fly at Eugenia. A huge brown trout at the Pillway bridge at Eugenia actually pulls the boats around before he breaks loose.

A 665 QUESTION

Who is the angler that refers to the body of water above the power dam at Eugenia as a lake and not a pond? And why?

Well, that's all for this week, so good fishing until next.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

If determination means anything a certain big trout who is jump crazy will be successful in clearing a barrier that will enable him to explore the upper reaches of a river.

Teacher: "Now can anyone give me a sentence using the word Dredon?"

Elmer: "People who drive carelessly diadem sight quicker than those who stop, look and listen."
