ART HALLMAN
Art Hallman, popular orchestra leader who is often heard over Canadian radio stations.

With nearly five years of war service behind her, the Canadian National Steamship, Lady Rodney, has returned to her peacetime calling as a luxury passenger liner. Shown above

A veteran of nearly five years of war service, the Canadian National Steamship, Lady Rodney, has undergone a complete rehabilitation and is back on "cruise street" as a first class luxury liner sailing on a regular schedule to Bermuda and the British West Indies from Halifax.
Early last December, the Lady Rodney was berthed with the St. John Dry Dock Company where she was overhauled completely. The de-luxe cabins, top right, have been painted in pastel shades of blue and rose and refurnished with modern beds, dressing table and bathrooms. The garden lounge, top left, is refreshingly informal in light color scheme and rattan furniture. Below, the famous Lady Rodney, resplendent in a new white dress.

Legion Notes

The sincere thanks of members and executive are given to all those who helped in any way during the July 1st celebration.

Convener of the Entertainment Committee, Alex Taylor has been holding some very successful parties for wife of the members and all friends. He has been holding two a month and has been getting excellent crowds. Mrs. Mary Morrow and her orchestra supply music for dancing at these affairs.

Unfortunately, during Comrade Bill Verrege's absence this week, a heavy rainfall just about "washed the place away." We hope the rain will not come again until the roof is finished.

—ARE YOUR DUES PAID UP?

Rehabilitated after nearly five years of war service, the Canadian National Steamship, Lady Rodney, is once again plying a regular schedule to Bermuda and the British West Indies from Halifax. Above is a view of the bolsterous staterooms of Canada's servicemen, the Canadian National Steamship, Lady Rodney, is once again plying a regular schedule to Ber-
smoking room and bar completely redecorated in the fashion of a club lounge.
