ANNUAL HALTON FLOWING MATCH AN OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Halton's annual Flowing Match, which in recent years has become known to many as Ontario's premier County Match, lived up to its reputation on Thursday of last week. Held on the farm of Chas. Jarvis, 4 1/2 miles South of Milton on Highway No. 26, it had an ideal setting. Despite unfavourable weather conditions which prevailed in the early morning, 44 plow boys met in competition. Included in this number were many of the champions from the counties of Brant, Haldimand, Waterloo, Wentworth, Peel and York, who annually meet in friendly rivalry with Halton's moulboard artists. Wednesday's showers had improved soil conditions materially, with the result that the quality of workmanship was outstanding.

R. S. Duncan, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who was guest speaker at the banquet held in the evening, stated that it was a long while since he has attended a Match where the general quality was so uniformly good. Similar statements were made by Clark Young, of Milliken, and Fred Timbers, the official adjudicators. The latter complimented the members of the Halton Plowmen's Branch on the general efficiency with which they looked after all detail of management throughout the day. In short, notwithstanding unfavourable weather conditions of the early morning, it was one of the best matches ever staged by the Halton Association, and a real feather in the cap of President Jack Elliott and his fellow officers and directors.

As usual the display of farm machinery and demonstrations staged under the leadership of Stanley L. Hall, M.P.P., W. E. Breckon, Fred Ruddle, Arthur Diamond, Harvey Nurse and R. T. Wilson, created a lot of interest and was a source of real educational value to the crowd of 1500 or more who were in attendance. Demonstrations were given by Nelson Lawrence with his power takeoff tractor mower; Colin Alton, with his tractor propelled side delivery rake and later by his Allis Chalmers Automatic Pick-up baler, and also by J. E. McKinnon's New Holland automatic baler. The Ruddle Bros. and Gordon Cartwright demonstrated the efficiency of their respective power chain saws, and Fred Ruddle also gave pleasing and conclusive demonstrations with his home-made manure loader, both as a manure loader and as a bulldozer for moving earth and rocks. The big Seaman Rototiller, owned by Messrs. Toccalino and Breckon, also came in for a lot of interest as it demonstrated its ability to make a seed bed in one operation both on corn stubble and on an area which had been plowed last spring but owing to last spring's wet weather had had to be left idle the past season. Others who contributed to the machinery display included W. E. Breckon, Freeman, Nicholson and Kelly, of Milton; Woods Manufacturing Co.; Surge Milkers; the Mt. Forest Threshing Machine Co.; D. A. Wendover of Palermo; G. W. Breckon of Freeman; McDuffee & Son of Milton and Valley Crest Farm, Palermo. This is a feature which is annually looked forward to by Halton farmers and adds much to the interest and educational value of Halton's big match, judging by the interest with which the crowds moved from demonstration to demonstration, despite the raw cold wind.

However, to return to the plow-boys, the champion walking plow contestant was again the veteran and popular Bob Brown of Galt. Halton's top ranking walking plow artist was Harold Ferguson of Nasagaweya Township, who for the second year in succession took the coveted Salada Tea Co. Special, with Stan May of Hornby getting the reserve position.

In the tractor classes, Harold Pickett, one of Hornby's favourite sons, took top honours in the open tractor class and thereby won the Esso Champion Tractor Special and also the Bank of Commerce Special. Our readers will recall with pride, Harry's proficiency with the walking plow a few years ago when he and an adjoining neighbor, John Lister, placed 2nd and 1st respectively in the big Salada Tea Class at the International, and thereby won a trip to the West Coast. Just to show that all the plowing ability of the Pickett family does not belong to one member, a younger brother topped the tractor class for Halton boys under 18 years, and thereby took both the T. Eaton Company and the Bank of Nova Scotia Specials. The youngest contestant in the field was Billie Grice, a 13 year old from Freeman, who was runner up to John Pickett Jr. and took the Halton Mutual Special. Jack Taylor, of Freeman, was also in the limelight taking the Stirling Dunes Special for Ford Ferguson equipment, and also 3rd place in second class tractors which brought together nine contestants. Sheriff anticipated.

W. J. Robertson Special, to the Halton Junior Farmer Group with the largest number of its members in action, resulted in a tie between Acton and Milton clubs. Nothing daunted, the worthy past president of the Plowmen's Association doubled his donation.

While the real bulk of Halton's plowing is performed by means of the tractor, the horse show demonstrated that there are still many horse lovers in Halton and also some good plow teams. Here, with Bert Berry, popular manager of Valley Crest Farm in charge, the Nelson Robinson Special was won by Geo. Brownridge's team of blacks with the Halton District Cooperative cash special going to Stan May's team of greys.

The wants of the inner man at noon were capably and amply supplied by ladies of Omagh Women's Institute, while at night over 200 crowded the groaning tables prepared by the ladies of the Appleby Women's Association, in the Palermo Community Hall.

Following the banquet an excellent programme was presented, with President Jack Elliott demonstrating that he is equally as efficient in the chair as on the auctioneer's stand. R. S. Duncan, Ontario's assistant deputy minister of Agriculture, who was introduced by W. E. Breckon of Freeman, delivered a most interesting and educational address which was keenly enjoyed by the large audience. Other pleasing features of the programme included delightful numbers by the Campbellville quartette, and Kilbride's one and only Jack Bennett in the role of a most versatile comedian.

Following a few words of appreciation by Stanley L. Hall, M.P.P., to all who had co-operated in making the day an outstanding success, the announcement of the awards and presentation of prizes brought the heavy day's programme to a fitting conclusion.

The awards by classes were as follows:

HALTON JUNIORS TO STAGE PUBLIC SPEAKING COMPETITION

The second annual county public speaking competition open to Halton Junior Farmers, is scheduled for the Milton High School, on Friday, November 7th, at 8.30 p.m.

Preliminary competitions have already been held by the Acton, Milton, Norval, and Palermo Clubs, and the winners will now "talk it out" at Milton on the above date for the honour of representing Halton in the District and Zone Competitions to be held later this month. The winner at the latter competition will compete for Provincial honours in Toronto in January. Each Halton Club will also present a member in the class for amateur entertainment.

Coupled with this is to be a dance to music supplied by the Milton Harmony Six. All in all, it will be a most interesting evening's entertainment and a capacity house is anticipated.
