THE MIXING BOWL
by Anne Allan

Hello Homemakers! Americans have coined a new word — "mixed upness." It reminds us of house-cleaning since we never see so many things mixed up in our drawers and cupboards before. Probably it's because we save everything these days hoping at some future time it will be useful.

Sorting things out and putting fresh paper in the drawers and on the shelves is a job that can take up a lot of time — so make a tentative schedule of the decorator will be at your door before you are ready for him.

If you are doing your own painting be sure and discuss the project with someone of experience. And here are general hints for amateurs.

1. Don't forget to read the label on the paint can or to follow instructions to the word.
2. Don't work outside in wet weather — immediately after a storm, or too early in the spring before wood has dried out.
3. Don't paint in very cold weather, as low temperatures thicken paint and causes cracking.
4. Don't try to cover the surface all at once with one heavy coat; several thin coats are better.
5. Don't paint over the basic coats until thoroughly dry.
6. Don't neglect proper preparation of surfaces.
7. Don't use anything but good brushes and reliable thinners.
8. Don't waste time and money by using poor paint for economy.

If you belong to the group which dislike cleaning up, you will find that the weekly care for specific rooms will not upset your routine too drastically, and you can take the strictly seasonal jobs, like painting, as they come.

If you belong to the other group, there are two ways to attack the big job you have set yourself. Take one room at a time and clean it and everything in it. Or do similar jobs at the same time, cleaning walls and ceilings in two or three rooms in one session.

TAKE A TIP
1. The efficiency of your vacuum cleaner depends upon the condition of the dirt container. Empty it every 2 or 3 days. In many models the grid of the bag opposite the one attached to the machine can be opened. A dampened paper bag can be fitted over it and when the machine is turned on, the dust swirls into the paper bag.

2. Do not push vacuum cleaner over pins and sharp articles which may pierce the dirt container.
3. Turn vacuum cleaner off when anything has to be moved out of the cleaning area.
4. Be a leisurely operator of a vacuum cleaner — a quick flight over does not allow the cleaner to pick up the dirt.
5. Adjust the cleaner on rugs according to the regulations of the machine. In the tank cleaner, the pressure you exert makes the adjustment between high and low-pile rugs. On the motor-driven machine the brush should only touch the surface of the rug — run a thin ruler under the machine to check on the nearness of the brush to carpet.

THE SUGGESTION BOX
Mrs. J. K. says: Unravel old sweaters and use the wool to stuff porch cushions.
Mrs. M. T. says: To remove crayon marks from wallpaper, dampen a soft cloth with carbon tetrachloride and sponge lightly. Do not rub. Repeat and after it is dry use an art-gum eraser.
Answer to Mrs. R. G.: In reply to your problem of removing grease from wallpaper we have to say that it is impossible.
Mrs. R. N. says: To clean plywood veneer walls use a cloth wrung out of soapuds — never use a wet cloth — then use another damp cloth and dry each small area thoroughly.
Mrs. T. C. says: We clean our windows with a detergent or synthetic soap and get shining results, easily.
To remove putty smear use a cloth dipped in household ammonia.
A. A. says: (1) Clean lighting fixtures thoroughly. (2) Do not use electricity unnecessarily.
