business, but a maximum yield of real value for land and forest, set by nature herself?

Farmers and land produce real value which is unalterable and always the same regardless of price, subsidized or not, protected or not. It can be expressed in "subsistence units," the number of units required for human sustenance, growth and achievement. The people of ancient Greece needed exactly the same amount of these units for their sustenance as we do. Their babies grew just as much on a quart of milk as our babies do whether milk sells at 2 cents a quart or twenty. Their armies could march the same distance as the armies of today on the same number of bushels of wheat or pounds of beef. It looks as if the great mistake of our economic system is that we are all trying to adapt real unalterable value of farm products to the unstable, gradually declining purchasing power of dollars, pounds or other tokens. We should adapt money to those real values, nobody can live without.

We are vainly trying to adapt the inexorable working of nature to man made economy. "We have conquered Nature, haven't we." We are lost in a maze of sophistry and fallacies. Our wisest men are squabbling about hard and soft currency, gold, depreciation, appreciation, revaluation, inflation, deflation, international monetary funds, preferential treatment, loans lend-lease, subsidies for everyone uni or multi lateral trade treaties and planned economy. We don't seem to know that in order to get a harmonious economic system we have to adapt it to Nature's laws, first of all.

Our first aim is to "make money" but, everybody indulging in this sport without giving equivalent service in return, robs the fertility from the soil and kills forests. It is a planetary disease: all nations are infected with it. Moses tried to teach his people not to worship spurious value, but to recognize real value. We seem to have forgotten it. We are still gold, money, token worshippers. Under a producers' economy we have to be! We go out in the rain with an umbrella and leave the umbrella in the cloakroom. When showers increase we tear the check in pieces and think we can keep ourselves dry.

The people of today have been doing just that. They have been trying to cure the precarious economic and social situation with money and more money and still lose money.

AUSTIN MATTHEWS DIES IN BRANTFORD

Austin A. Matthews, former resident of Brantford, died in that city after several weeks' illness. A devout Baptist, Mr. Matthews was a charter member of the L.O.O.F.E. and a member of the Masonic Order in Simcoe before he moved to Brantford. He had been a foreman for over thirty years in the Cocksbutt plant and was highly respected by all the employees. The funeral took place on Easter Monday in Brantford.

He leaves his wife, Mary, formerly of Georgetown and sister of Fred and Joseph Armstrong, two daughters, Mrs. Elmore Taylor (Charlotte) of Brantford and Mrs. Clarence McIntyre (Pat) of St. George, one son Edward, of Galt four sisters, Dollie and Lillian Matthews, Brantford, Mrs. Tom Jepson (Minnie) and Mrs. Birdie Sims, both of Hagersville, and one brother, Rhy of Port Arthur.

Liens To Hold Tag Day

Georgetown Lions Club along with other Lions Clubs throughout Canada, is cooperating in a fund-raising plan for sending parcels to Britain. In addition to private donations by members, the club is sponsoring a tag day on Saturday, April 17 as a special project, with all funds raised to go to this worthy cause. The tag day is being arranged by a committee composed of Alex Machinen, chairman, Norman Smith, J. L. Lambert and Keith Barber. Anyone wishing to make private donations may give them to any member of the committee.

IN THE MAIL BAG

Norval, Ontario April 5th, 1948

Dear Editor: Let me express through you a word of appreciation to Hal Newman, the Georgetown Recreational Council and its Hockey Committee for the great opportunity given to Norval boys to play hockey in bantam, midget and juvenile leagues this winter. They all have had a great time. Norval has always felt part of greater Georgetown and this strengthens the tie.

I also want to express our appreciation to Mr. W. G. Bell and the Arena Board and to Mr. J. B. Wilson, the genial and hard-working rink superintendent. At times the G.R.C. demands for games could not be met and we appreciate the Arena Board's position of having to raise funds to pay for the ice plant. We know that next year with earlier ice, the G.R.C. and Arena Board will be able to work out a better and more even schedule.

Perhaps I should say one more word to the public. Already to date some 67 games have been played under G.R.C. auspices and all of this was donated time by the Arena. While it is true that most games were on Saturday mornings, there were also several open nights.

I wish to bring one other matter to the attention of readers and that is the wonderful trophies donated by Messrs. W. G. and L. J. Bell in the juvenile and bantam series. They deserve a real vote of thanks. Once again let me thank all those who made G.R.C. hockey such a success this winter.

John Drainie, Toronto radio actor, who plays the role of "Mr. Clay," a harassed but lovable father, in the CBC's Thursday night drama broadcast "Alan and Me," and narrates a "Forward With Canada" story about Canadian achievements on the "Northern Electric Hour," Monday nights. Besides this he is heard on many "Stage 48" dramas, and in the CBC Wednesday Night series, both as actor and narrator. He and his wife, actress Claire Murray, have collaborated in writing a number of plays for radio.

Earl Cameron, chief news announcer at CBC's Toronto studios whose voice is heard on the noon-timely CBC news and the National News Bulletin at 10.00 p.m. at night. He also announces various other news broadcasts and, as he says, "anything else that comes along." Cameron began his radio career in 1939 as an operator in Moose Jaw. From operator he graduated to announcer, chief announcer, writer and commercial manager. But his first love was announcing, and 1943 found him doing just that at a Winnipeg station. The following year he joined the CBC's Toronto staff.

PITY THE GROCER!

Mr. J. R. Williams brought a copy of the Chepstow Weekly Argus, his home town weekly in Wales, to the office last week, to show what grocers in the Old Country are faced with in these days of rationing. The item reads:

To help grocers understand bacon rationing procedure, the Ministry of Food has issued a leaflet explaining the permit system now operating. This is how it reads: "As from January 11, 1948, buying permits on form CP2 and authorisations on forms EA2 SA2 for Category 'A' bacon will be valid for the amount of bacon stated thereon. Those permits which specify that an additional quantity of 2 1/2 per cent is included in Category 'A' quantity shall, notwithstanding anything therein contained, be valid in respect of the week commencing January 11, 1948; and for Category 'A' bacon up to the permitted quantity, plus a further quantity equal to the additional quantity stated already to be included thereon."
