SHOW NOTES FROM THE ROXY

Three good shows coming up this week at the Roxy. In "Ramrod" (Fri., Sat.), Joel McCrea and Veronica Lake star in an exciting saga of the west. Veronica is a selfish, domineering woman who tries to gain control of a roaring cattle town. The foreman, or ramrod — of her cattle ranch is lanky Joel McCrea, while Arlene Whelan is the third end of the love triangle. Preston Foster, Donald Crisp, Charlie Ruggles, Don DeFore have featured roles. "Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer" won an Oscar for best original screen story of 1947. You'll see why next Monday — Tues. when Cary Grant, Myrna Loy and Shirley Temple are joined by Rudy Vallee in this rollicking farce. If you're an Ernest Hemingway fan, you'll want to see the dramatization of his short story "The Macomber Affair" (Wed.-Thurs). Gregory Peck is cast as the hunting guide who is the unwilling third party between the Maccombers, Robert Preston and Joan Bennett, on their ill-fated African hunting trip. Do you old-timers remember "The Leather Pushers." Reginald Denny is in this one.

Week-end guests with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dawson included Miss Helen Wright, head music mistress of Bishop Strachan School, Miss Patricia Tait of the Red Cross Blood Donor Service and Mr. David Knight of Toronto and Mr. Philip Howard of Milton.

Mrs. Stewart Magwood and children Peter and Mary of Sussex, N.B., are in town for a visit with her sister, Miss Yvonne Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McCallum spent the week-end in Fenelon Falls with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McCallum.

Misses Barbara Dawson and Harrell Dawson will be in Ottawa and Montreal this week-end with the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir. They will sing in two concerts under the direction of Sir Ernest McMillan.

Mr. W. A. Lavoie, owner of the Lavoie Knitting Company, who celebrated his 75th birthday yesterday, was guest of honour at a party at his home on Sunday when relatives and friends gathered to celebrate his birthday.

Over 800 Attend "House-Warming" at Scott Motor Sales Saturday

Marking the official opening of the new garage building, which houses the local General Motors agency, Mr. and Mrs. Art Scott held open house last Saturday afternoon and evening, when over 800 people from the district came to see one of the most modern garage buildings in Ontario. The handsome establishment, built on the site of the former B-A Station on the highway across from St. George's Church, was spick and span for the day and visitors were impressed by the spaciousness of the interior and the well-equipped work shop, where all members of the staff were on hand to explain details of machinery used in repair work.

Focal point of interest, of course, was on the new car models on display. In the show window was a black Chevrolet Fleetmaster sedan, while the shop contained a blue Oldsmobile coach, a two-tone green Fleetliner Chevrolet, a gray Chevrolet Fleetmaster coach, and a sedan delivery just purchased by Barrager's Cleaners. Show room and shop were decorated with beautiful baskets of flowers sent by business associates, among them the Bank of Commerce, McClure Home Furnishings, Licata's Fruit Market, Toronto Zone of General Motors, B-A Oil, General Motors Acceptance Corporation, Guelph Auto Body, A. D. Gorrie and Co. of Toronto, Brewer's Warehouse, Clarke Motor Sales, Orillia, and Mills Motor Sales, Oshawa.

In the evening, Harold McClure was master of ceremonies and introduced several speakers including Ed Howe, district G.M.C. representative, Jack Hoyle of B-A Oil, Chuck Strome of Fisk Tires and Mayor Joseph Gibbons, who declared the new building officially opened. Mr. Gibbons also officiated: at a draw for lucky door prizes. Winners were: 424, plate glass mirror, Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson; 375, toaster, Joseph Rice; 373, radio Wes Louth, Norval; 479, Fisk tire and tube, Cecil Davidson; 491, waders, B. F. Muffin; 645, clock, Miss Catherine Hill.

Visitors also had a look at the apartment upstairs where Mr. and Mrs. Scott and their children are making their home and where refreshments were served during the afternoon and evening.

United Church Calls Rev. John Smith

At a congregational meeting followed the evening service in Georgetown United Church last Sunday, a decision was made to extend a call to Rev. John Smith of Norfolk County, who had preached for a call at the service. Mr. Smith, who is in his middle thirties is married and the father of a small daughter. His present charge in Norfolk County consists of three churches, Old Windham, Linville, and Victoria, and it is a coincidence that this latter church was the first church at which Georgetown's present minister, Rev. R. C. Todd, preached. A graduate of Emmanuel College, Toronto, the new minister began his preaching career in the West.

THE WEATHER

Mr. Editor: "Keeps cool", and "pretty wet, eh" are two phrases I've heard quite often in the past week. I checked over the corresponding week for 1947 and find that last year showed much cooler weather with a Max. of 45 and a Min. of 28. And just to refresh your memory — remember the big snow storm we had on April 16th, 1947, to a depth of 8 inches?

BUSY BEES INSTITUTE MEET

Mrs. Elmer Cox was hostess for the April meeting of the Busy Bees Women's Institute, Nasagaweya. Roll Call was answered by each member presenting a crocheted handkerchief. Mrs. Stephen Cox read the financial statement, which showed receipts of $32.75 from a box social and $10 from a sale booth, in the absence of Mrs. Davendorp, Mrs. J. J. Kennedy gave a report of the meeting of the district directors.

A number of donations were voted, including $5 to Halton Music Festival, $3 for the Girls' Trip, $15 to the Sick Children's Hospital and $15 to the Crippled Children's Fund.

In a paper on Citizenship, Mrs. Oscar Locker spoke of the attitude to and treatment of immigrants entering Canada. She reminded the ladies of the privilege being a citizen gives us and ended her paper by reciting the Institute Ode:

"A goodly thing it is to meet
In friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure
Sweet,
Nor dims the radiant light,
No unkind words our lips shall pass,
Nor envy sour the mind
But each shall seek the common
weal,
The good of all mankind."

As part of her program, Mrs. Stephen Cox read a poem "Mother's Day" and Mrs. David Henderson a humorous reading "Men." A singing featured well-known numbers and Mrs. Elmer Cox, conducted a contest to identify the brand from cut-out newspaper advertisements. Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Locker tied for the prize. Mrs. William Allison gave a reading "A Stranger here."

A decision on several matters discussed, arising from the district director's report, was left over for the annual meeting in May. These included a rally or conference district program for the coming season and the number of delegates to attend the District Annual. Roll Call at the next meeting will be answered with a miscellaneous shower and "Why I Like Canada."

After the singing of "Blest be the Tie that Binds" and the recitation of the Mizpah benediction, Mrs. Cox served refreshments and a social half hour was spent. There were three guests at the meeting.

With two games up, and away in the play-off for the Intermediate "A" championship of Eastern Canada, Georgetown Raiders are trailing by two games, and it is problematic whether they can accomplish the trick of winning three straight against Dolbeau Castors, who will be playing on home ice this Friday at St. Joseph d'Alma. Both games were played in Oshawa, and large numbers of fans made the trips by special train and by car to see their favourites in action against the speedy Quebecers. The Girls Pipe Band was on hand both evenings to entertain between periods.

These Dolbeaus are good, there is no getting around it, and while it is doubtful that they are any better than the last opposition, Markham, they are a clever bunch of lads with good team work, superb skating and plenty of beef to fire a lighter team. Goalie Maurice Thifault was a stand-out in both games, but didn't outshine Jack Rhodes, whose good work particularly on Saturday, kept the Raiders from being snowed under in the first two periods.

The Dolbeau team were solid French, in spite of the Scottish names like Ross and Blackburn which appeared in the line-up. Their style of play was much like that of Weston and they kept up a set pace never appearing to waver in tight spots and always ready to seize the opportunity for quick breakaways. Their defensive work was superior to the Raiders and their cool blocking and clearing against heavy Georgetown pressure was a big factor in both games.
