MOVIE CAPSULES — We hear that Bob Topping bought eight seats (the entire front section) on the Constellation that took East and himself, east. Nice for parking bugs, champagne and books, y'know. . . .
What are we saying? . . .
One for Ripley, is the news that Ingrid Bergman will adopt an Irish brogue in "Under the Unicorn". . . .
If her son Norman's sitting room, Joan Blondell has hung the following motto: "God gave us the eternity to accept the things we can't change; the courage to change things we can; the wisdom to know the difference". . . . Believe it or not; but Harry James is thinking out loud about producing Betty Grable's next picture . . . the Grable, incidentally recently entertained a bunch of paraplegics on the "Burlesque" set . . . nice gal — in or out of tights! . . . Roy Del Ruth has next engineers and such east to view the Yankee Stadium with a view toward having the premiere of "Babe Ruth Story" right in that spot, if lighting arrangements, etc. can be arranged.

May 31st, 1948! Begorra you'll be gay that day! . . . because Warner Bros. big parade of colour, colleens and Killarney, "My Wild Irish Rose," starring Dennis Morgan, is coming to town.
Shure, and it'll be a great day for the lot of you. In your wildest dreams you've never seen such shennannigans or heard the old songs of the old sod sung so well. It's "The Jolson Story" with a brogue . . . a musical stroll down memory lane. . . . "My Wild Irish Rose", is the saga of the immortal Irish composer singer, Chauncey Olcott, whose voice could charm the stars right out of the sky, with Dennis Morgan in top form in the title role. Andrea King, as cute a colleen as ever stole the heart of you away, portrays the fabulous Lillian Russell of legendary beauty and fame. Alan Hale, Ben Blue, George Tobias and George O'Brien provide the side-splitting shennannigans this bit of old Erin is full of.

Shure and it's not just once you will be wanting to see "My Wild Irish Rose". It's again and again you'll be yearning for the sight of it. With this in mind the Roxy management — the Sabra blues — declare that the theatre will be a wonder of the green for four days starting Monday, May 31st. So lay out your Kelly gown and make ready your Irish bowler with the lucky shamrock on it, for if you've an ear for a tune and an eye for a wild Irish Rose there's a great day comin' begorra!

GUESTS OF THE WEEK: If Mr. and Mrs. George Chaplin of Georgetown will make themselves known at the Roxy Theatre Box Office on any night during the week of May 31st to June 5th they will be admitted free as guests of the Herald.
