COUNTY ELECTION RESULTS

The official count of the June 7th election, as released by W. G. McDowell, Chief Returning Officer, shows that Stanley Hall, Progressive Conservative M.P.P., had a slim majority of 118 over his Liberal rival to return to Parliament for his third term. In 1945 his majority was 1071. Mr. Hall received 6877 votes as compared with 6580 votes in 1945. Dr. F. M. Deans received 6264 Liberal votes, while in 1945, Mrs. Mary Pettit received 5459. The C.C.F., which gave Cecil Millward 2656 votes in 1945, had a strong showing and W. E. Adams increased this to 3524 votes. The report shows that 16,165 went to the polls in 1948, a considerable increase over the 1945 figure of 14,644.

Statistics in last week's Herald erroneously showed a Liberal majority in Georgetown and the correct figures for the whole County appear below.

Only Cowards Change

By VICTOR DI CASTRI
WNU Features.

MRS. FEATHERHUGH looked over the brick wall of her pink terrace into the sunken garden below and as the sun played on the clumps of purple and yellow flowers she resolved again, that no matter what, she would make that Mary Smith realize that although Jim had only been Pfc. in the army he was still a Featherhugh and a Featherhugh had no business marrying a nursing sister called Mary Smith under any circumstances.

Well, it wouldn't be very long now. Any moment a car would stop in the driveway at the foot of the lawn which rolled away from the rock garden. It would take courage to put her son's wife in her proper place the moment she arrived but it had to be done. Mrs. Featherhugh believed it was, all in the way people started their relationships that counted.

But here was the car. She smoothed her carefully groomed gray hair nervously and as the car came to a stop she steeled herself for the test she knew was imminent.

In a matter of seconds a girl with dark hair falling to her shoulders and wearing a blue coat with large white buttons, stepped out, looked about her and then up the flight of flagstone steps that led to the terrace. The girl waved.

After what seemed to be an eternity her son slowly got out of the car and as he got to his feet he reached for his wife's arm and then he steadied himself with a cane.

Mrs. Featherhugh wanted to run to him but with an iron will she restrained herself. He couldn't be seriously wounded or he would have told me, she told herself. Besides, if he thought so much of the girl down there that he married her without my approval, why should I fall all over him now? I'll stay right here till they come up.

Mrs. Featherhugh hoped she wouldn't cry. Everything within her wanted her to rush towards her son and take him in her arms but that girl with him was an impossible barrier. "No, I won't do it. I won't do it," Mrs. Featherhugh screamed silently to her heart.

She watched anxiously as the girl whispered something to her husband and then while he just stood there she ran up the steps.

"I'm Mary," the girl said, and held out her hand.

Mrs. Featherhugh reluctantly admitted that Mary was even prettier than her picture, but this was no time for comparisons. "How do you do?" The words were brittle.

Mary was obviously taken back as she repeated, "I'm Jim's wife, Mary." "Yes?" "You're his mother, aren't you?" "Yes." "Well, don't just stand there. Say something." Mrs. Featherhugh's eyes narrowed. The girl had spirit.

For a moment the two women just looked at each other and then Mary said calmly, but with obvious bitterness, "I see. You've got all this." With a sweep of her hand Mary took in the gardens and the huge stone house behind the terrace. "I've got nothing. I'm nobody. Well, that's where you're wrong, Mrs. Featherhugh. People in love have everything and they're very important people. They can't add it up and tell you what it is or who they are but—"

Mary turned, took a step towards her husband, and then changed her mind. She faced her mother-in-law and, said quietly, "Mrs. Featherhugh, Jim is very anxious to see his mother again. He remembers you as a very special sort of mother. He has told me about you dozens of times. I thought I knew you so well that I was sure that when we met I would feel as if I had known you all my life. But I guess you've changed."

"War changes everyone." "Only cowards change, Mrs. Featherhugh."

"How dare you?"

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Featherhugh, but we can't keep Jim waiting down there forever. He's come home to see the mother he left behind. That's the only one he's going to be able to see for a long time."

"Jim has had a partial blindness for some time. It's improving and with proper attention," she smiled and added, "of course, there's more than a chance. But you and I have got to pull together."

Jim couldn't see that his mother and her arm around his wife, but in a little while he heard Mary call, "Here's your mother, Jim!"

TENNIS CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICER

At an open-air meeting of St. George's Tennis Club last Thursday evening, Art Reinhardt, was elected vice-president, filling the position left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Mary Bedell.

The fourteen members who attended the meeting also gave attention to the matter of junior players. It was decided to hold regular classes for the younger club members, various of the older members volunteering their services. Max Bradbury, local hockey star, will be one of the first to conduct a class. The membership fee for juniors is $2.00.

It was decided at the meeting to go ahead with preparation of the upper court now that the lower one is being played upon. It is expected that another couple of weeks will see the St. George's Tennis Club right back to pre-war condition with two good, fast, clay surfaces in play.

Plans for social evenings and tournaments are progressing satisfactorily and it does the hearts of tennis players good to see the activity and enthusiasm that is evident nearly every week-night up at the tennis courts.

New members are still being welcomed. The five-dollar membership fee for seniors, paid to the treasurer, Miss Margaret Hoare, will wreath her face in a smile of quiet bliss.

Home Helpers Meeting of Knox Church Ladies

The Women's Missionary Society of Knox Presbyterian Church held their annual Home Helpers meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. B. Foulis. A splendid programme was prepared by the Home Helpers with Mrs. Cruickshank, Home Helpers Secretary on the Council Executive of Toronto Presbyterian as guest speaker. She gave an interesting talk and suggested many helpful ideas and thoughts on how to have a true missionary spirit, emphasizing the great need for a prayer life, how to pray, what to pray for and when to pray. Mrs. L. DeVries and Mrs. W. R. Cromar sang two duets — "One Sweetly Solemn Thought", and "Hold Thou My Hand", accompanied by Mrs. H. Graham.

Miss Redmond, Home Helper secretary, thanked the Speaker and all who helped make the meeting a success. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Cruickshank and lunch was served by the Home Helpers.

Mill Employees Honour D. P. Crichton

Salaried employees and girls from the sorting and counting departments of the Alliance Paper Mill said farewell to Mr. D. P. Crichton, who has retired as mill superintendent, with the presentation of a mantel radio and an illuminated address. The presentation was made by Mrs. J. G. Gillis who expressed appreciation for Mr. Crichton's thirty-seven years service with the company and wished to Mr. and Mrs. Crichton many years of happiness to come.

BOWLING NOTES

A pleasant evening was spent on Friday, June 11th when a bus-load of bowlers from Toronto paid a visit to the Georgetown Greens. Three games were played and a nice lunch was served by some of the lady bowlers.

Eight prizes were given, four of which went to Toronto, two to Georgetown and two to Streetsville. Another evening has been arranged for June 25th.
