Honoured at Brampton

—Last Friday night at Brampton Armouries "The Old Timers" of the Sergeants' Mess who helped reorganize the Regiment after World War I and again went on active service at start of World War II; were entertained by the present sergeants of the Lorne Scots, and were given Life Memberships to the Mess for long and faithful service with our county Regiment. Among the "Old Sweats" to receive the honour was Norval's own "Staff" Cliff Moreton, M.M., with 27 years service.

Chatting . . . With Ann

This week while the editor loafed under a shady tree, we will endeavour to give you the news as we see it. We didn't quite gather where Walter was going to do his loafing, as the idea seems to be that all great personages like to travel incognito, while holidaying. Let us get fixed next Monday.

It is nice to see friends who have been ill put and around again. Saw Mrs. Will Taylor taking her first walk after a serious bout with pneumonia. May you have continual health.

Someone has said, "All brides are lovely." When we saw Bertha arrive on Saturday, she was more than lovely. Bertha was going out exquisitely in white satin. Details of the wedding may be found elsewhere in the Herald, but this we will say: No bride ever radiated more beauty and happiness than Bertha on her wedding day. The best to you, Bertha and Jack.

How time flies! On Wednesday, July 14th, we have the Georgetown branch of the Royal Bank celebrating its first anniversary. We like the friendly staff at the Royal. Manager Frank Benner is always ready with a helping hand, not only in the business life of the bank, but in the social life of the town as well. The staff, consisting of Art Reinhart, Joan Hoare, Brenda Robinson and Rose-Marie Robinson is a decided asset to our town. We think manager Frank has the right idea when he has a gorgeous looking gal like Joan in the teller's cage in full view of the public gaze. Who wouldn't want to drop in for a chat? Must be good for business having lovely girls like Joan, Brenda and Rose Marie on the staff.

Somewhere along the way we met Ken Langdon.

Sez he: "What do you mean, I am having a two weeks holiday?"

Sez we: "Well, aren't you?"

Sez he: "No, I just wish I was."

Sez we: "Well, you should be, — how can we write a social column if you people insist on working all summer instead of doing something interesting?" So there we have it, folks, Ken Langdon working all summer. Tough! Isn't it?

Joan and Lorne Peters are away for a long holiday at Pawaia on Georgian Bay. Asked what they planned to do on their holiday and they said: "Just loaf." Sounds like a good idea.

Mrs. Nudwell and Mrs. Marion Barber are spending two weeks at Wandermere Inn at Muskoka. Chatting with Marion we asked should we say she was having a well-earned rest, and she said: "I'll say it was well earned." Marion is the efficient secretary of Mr. Elmer Thompson.

We have Johnny Hamilton leaving for vacation at New Liskeard. Johnny is the sociable little chap who serves gas at Scott Motor Sales Art and Myrt Scott, and family have just returned from a week's holiday at their cottage at Oro. Art enjoyed the sun so much, or should we say the sun enjoyed Art so much, he finds little traces of himself falling off all over the place.

Just love to drop in at Berwick Hall. Cool and quiet, we often enjoy a chat with janitor Tom Elliott. But what have we here. Noise and confusion! Nothing to be alarmed about! Bachelor Jim Taylor flying in and dropping his dishes down the stairs as he ascends. His remarks, of course, are considered. Those Massey-Harris duties must be onerous when a fellow has not time to wash his dishes. Heads are withdrawn, quiet reigns once more in Berwick Hall.

Mary McClure and Jean Dickie holidaying in Montreal.

Here is Constable Jas. McNiven back again pinch hitting for the local provincial detachment, while they have their respective holidays. It is often said, a policeman's lot is not a happy one, but judging by the friendly hellos and genial handshakes, Constable Jimmy was finding his return to Georgetown quite pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodlet and the boys are spending the summer at their cottage at Glen Haven Beach on Lake Simcoe. Jimmy says he is just there for the week-ends. We aren't quite clear in our mind just what a week-end is as we find Jimmy getting back to town on Friday morning from the week-end. David and Ellen Saxe, Katherine and Stephen, leaving for their cottage at Mary Lake. Asked Dave did he do anything interesting I should know about, and he said "Sure! I Sleep. Being the hardest working man in Georgetown I need sleep when I go to the cottage." Room for argument there.

Bob and Joan Hoare entertaining about fourteen friends at an informal party on Saturday evening.

Glud and Tim Scratch returning from a motor trip through the States. They visited friends at Toledo, Ohio, stopped off at Buffalo, Cincinnati, on to Detroit, then home. We have a nice souvenir of that trip. It was a nice thought, folks.

Mrs. H. M. Stewart is back at Wildwood for a few days. We were glad to find Mrs. Stewart much improved in health, but missed Mr. Stewart who is still ill.

We found Mrs. Sid Orr positively gleaming over a blessed event. Two tiny kittens in a linen drawer. Mr. Sid Orr has taken to oil-painting as a hobby and the painting we saw was well worth a second look. With their guest, Mrs. Dorothy Brauer of Pittsburgh, the Orrs will meander through the Northland looking for an ideal spot for a vacation.

We finished the week chatting with Mrs. W. G. O. Thompson. That good lady's philosophy of life is always interesting. We love to stop and rest and chat, and leave refreshed in mind, and just a little happier because our morning was bright with a few moments of her company.

Just in passing we might say "Thank you Rose, for that nice letter. Needless to say, I hardly recognized myself." To have the confidence and love of small children is happiness infinitely rare and precious.

If I may leave with you this thought in the poetry of K. Blake. Would ye learn the road to laughter town,

O ye who have lost the way?

Would ye have young heart though your hair be grey?

Go learn from a little child each day.

Go serve his wants and play his play.

And catch the bit of his laughter gay.

And follow his dancing feet as they stray;

For he knows the road to laughter town,

O ye who have lost the way.

And so as I said before, while the editor loafed, this is the news as we see it. Anne.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. James Hineley, of the Smith and Stone cost department, recently returned from a two week motor trip to his home in Moose Jaw.

Pupils of Miss Marion Hepburn successful in exams at the Toronto Conservatory of Music were Barbara Cromar, passed Grade 7, and Richard Stenka, honours, in Grade 4 piano.

Miss Marion Hepburn is attending Summer School in Music at Jarvis Collegiate in Toronto.

Holiday visitors to Mrs. C. Freure's last week were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Freure and daughter, Lois of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fred Freure and grandson, David and Mrs. Maud Elliott of Erasmus.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Harley, Jean, Terry and Mr. Glenn Scott motored to Lindsay over the week-end, and were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brock Harley, and were also guests of Mrs. A. H. Perrott.
