

Norval Presbyterians Repair Church Steeple

Work commenced yesterday at Norval Presbyterian Church on extensive repairs to the church steeple and its repainting. A six-foot ornament on the top of the steeple which was blown off in a storm a few years ago will be put back in place during the operations.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Edward Jewell and Mrs. Alf Collins wish to thank friends for cards and letters of sympathy extended to them at the time of Mr. Jewell's death, especially thanking members of Verdun Rebekah Lodge for their kindness.

Lieut. Murray Young of Camp Borden, spent last week end with Mr. and Mrs. Lealie M. Clark.

Chatting ... With Anne

We didn't get fired. This week we find Bill Verrege, admiring some of his own handiwork. We stopped to admire it too — Barwick Hall. Mr. Verrege said that was quite a big job, and now it was finished, he was really going to celebrate. How was he going to celebrate? Not just too sure about that, but the idea was that he was going to do it up right.

We have no less than five men who lay claim to being the busiest men in Georgetown. Who are we to judge? I give you the Ladies' Bless. They never brag about what they do.

We were introduced to Petunia. Petunia is a pet skunk. Little Teddy Kirby of Ashgrove is the proud owner. It seemed rather an unusual pet, but Teddy has had Petunia for more than a year, and now there are two baby skunks who are just as tame as Petunia.

The Pensions are back. Now we can have our Friday fish and chips. Mr. and Mrs. Penison, with Kay, Billie and granddaughter Joan have been holidaying at Wasaga Beach. Mrs. Penison found relaxation in her favourite game of Bingo, and won some prizes. Kay, unfortunately, cut her leg, and it required six stitches to close the wound but as Kay said: "Who minds a little thing like that when they are having a holiday?"

We had occasion to visit our dentist this week. As we were going in, met Ted Arnold coming out. "Ha Ha," says Ted. "I am coming out, you are just going in." Well, it is a long time since we spent an hour with Dr. and Mrs. Reid, and we talked about this and that, mostly about country homes, which is a subject dear to the doctor's heart and the first thing we knew an hour had passed all too quickly. Our work was done and he, his right back at you Ted — we enjoyed the visit to the dentist.

Everyone was happy on Friday at our street. Zella Timbers came home from hospital, very much improved in health. We all trooped in to welcome her home. It's no secret. We all like Zella. An amusing part of her homecoming was when her wee three year old niece, Marsha, after rushing in and embracing her aunt, looked around the room and said, "Didn't they give you a baby Auntie Zella?"

Mrs. Ray Gerrie, Billie and Katherine Anne, are spending three weeks at North Bay, while Ray keeps busy with his bread route.

Alva Grieve is planning a holiday at Colborne.

Saw John and Daisy Kingstott in town. John has had ill health for some months now, but we are glad to hear he is feeling some better, and hopes to soon be back on the job.

We pause to admire the cemetery. The flowers and shrubs are looking specially good this year. Caretaker Harry Sayings is a busy man. He tells us not to pause too long as he gets to us all sooner or later. We hope it is much later.

Miss Aldous from California, had stopped in to tell Harry how nice everything was looking.

Across the street is the loveliest display of roses I have ever seen. Mrs. Henry Preston's garden is beautiful this year.

Had a peek at little Janet Elizabeth Chamberlain, one of our newest citizens. Just one word. Lovely!

Bert Parr is back among us for a few days. Mrs. Campbell plans a ten week holiday in Sudbury.

Pound Mrs. William Ostrander all smiles because she expects Mr. Ostrander home from hospital this week. Mr. Ostrander unfortunately broke his hip. He will be confined to bed when he comes home. Mrs. Ostrander, who is well up in her seventies said: "I expect it will keep me stopping, but I am glad he is coming home." She is a grand old lady.

Some people have been kind enough to say they get quite a kick out of our column, then there are the others who seem to think another kind of kick would be in order, but they have to catch us first.

Caught Eric and Mrs. Lomdesboro leaving for their holidays. They plan to go to Niagara Falls and also visit friends in Windsor. Eric gave us leave to say anything we liked about him. Not everyone is so generous. He is the genial personnel manager at Smith and Stone, and seems very much to deserve his popularity! "Happy holiday folks."

We were tired and rather out of sorts. Stopped in for some gas at McCluskey's at Silvercreek Garage. Said Mr. Mac "When you feel like that, you need to smile at someone, then they will smile back at you, and you will feel better. Here, take this road map, so you won't get lost, fill up the old tank and away you go, and don't forget that smile." It worked folks, just try it.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT GUEST OF NASSAGAWEYA BUSY BEES

Mrs. Rhinehart, District Institute president, was a guest at the July meeting of Nassagaweya Busy Bee W.I., and in her friendly and capable manner told of some of the Institute's doings. A rally on "Aids to Effective Speaking" will be held at two places in Halton, Limehouse and Nelson in November. The district fees may now be paid in a lump sum and membership pins are

Mackenzie News

What a perfect week-end we had for holidaying, working or just plain loafing.

One item that arrived this week was a supply of Donnacanda 1/2 inch wallboard. This comes in 4 foot by 8 foot sheets and costs $1.92 per sheet or 6c per square foot.

See you relaxing and enjoying the summer weather. After all it is holiday time and there can't be any of those odd jobs left undone well hardly any.

again available for purchase by members. She advised sending at least two delegates to the area convention in Guelph one to be a voting delegate. Mrs. Rhinehart closed with a paper on Canadian citizenship and the reading of a poem "A Recipe for Happiness."

Thirteen members and several guests attended the meeting which was held at the home of the president Mrs. Peter McLean. Roll call was answered by naming a Canadian industry and its location. Several quilt blocks were handed in and Mrs. S. Robinson gave the financial report. Notes of thanks were received for boxes sent to the sick. A letter from the Health League of Canada asked the ladies to give time at their September meeting for a study of its work. A ten dollar donation was made to Halton Recreation Park at Lowville and the group planned the making of a Tweedsmuir Village History book. A boundary line was set for the Busy Bees work.

Mrs. Wilfred Kennedy read a poem "Auction Sale." When the problem box was opened the difference between a butterscotch and a caramel pie was explained and a recipe for each was given. The problem of why churned cream would not break into butter, although a serious matter, brought out a great deal of humour but a correct solution wasn't found among the members.

While refreshments were being prepared the ladies enjoyed the music of popular songs on the piano.
